

Majesty has shown for your People in warning them, by your late gracious Proclamation, of the seditious Attempts which have been made to disturb the Happiness and Tranquillity of this Nation.

Sire, the Persons who have made these Attempts know not the Sentiments which animate your People. Grateful to Providence for the Blessings which they enjoy, they will not suffer their Loyalty to your Majesty, or their Attachment to the Constitution, to be shaken by the malicious Endeavours, either of the Discontented at Home, or of the Envious Abroad.

And, for ourselves, we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that in Defence of your Throne, and of the Constitution as established at the Revolution, we shall be ready, at all Times, to sacrifice our Lives and Fortunes, as well against the Mistakes of those who are honest, as against the Machinations of those who are not so.

Signed in our Name, and by our Appointment,

And. Hamilton, Provost.

Kinghorn, June 14, 1792.

[ Transmitted by the Hon. Charles Hope, Representative in Parliament for that Burgh. ]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Inhabitants of the Burgh of Kirkcudbright.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Inhabitants of the Burgh of Kirkcudbright, beg Leave to approach your Majesty with our sincere Acknowledgments for that paternal Care your Majesty has manifested towards the Prosperity and Happiness of all your Subjects, in issuing your Royal Proclamation against the wicked and seditious Practices that have been used to excite Tumult and Disorder, and to vilify and bring into Contempt the happy Constitution of Government, Civil and Religious, established in this Kingdom.

And we do assure your Majesty that we will at all Times, to the utmost of our Power, avoid and discourage all Proceedings and Attempts, which aim at the Subversion of your Majesty's mild and auspicious Government, and are inconsistent with the Peace and Order of Society.

Signed in our Presence, in our Name, and by our Appointment,

Alex. Birrwhistle, Preses.

Kirkcudbright, June 18, 1792.

[ Transmitted by Mr. Birrwhistle. ]

Whitehall, June 26.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Majesty: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Clergy, Magistrates and Freeholders of the County of Salop, desire to offer to your Majesty our warmest and most grateful Thanks for your uniform and constant Attention to the true Interests and Welfare of your People, and particularly for your Majesty's most seasonable and judicious Proclamation.

We have seen with Indignation the Attempts that have been made by the Publication of seditious Writings, and by the Formation and Correspondences of unwarrantable Associations, to excite Discontent throughout the Land, and to alienate the Minds of Men from the happy Constitution of Government, Civil and Religious, established in this Kingdom at the Time of the Glorious Revolution. But we are not alarmed, because we are convinced that a great and irresistible Majority of the Nation unites with us in firm Attachment to the Constitution, and in a grateful Sense of the Blessings and unexampled Prosperity we enjoy under your Majesty's benign and vigilant Government, and because we feel a settled Determination, in our several Stations and Capacities, whether as Magistrates or as Men, to support the Laws with Energy and Effect, to maintain and preserve unimpaired the Rights of Freedom and Order transmitted to us by our Ancestors, and to resist, if the Necessity shall so require, at the Risk of whatever is most dear and valuable to us, the rash and wicked Attempts of the political Adventurers of the present Day.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council of the ancient City of Canterbury, in Burghmote assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

Actuated by a grateful Sense of the many Blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's mild and auspicious Government, and fully convinced that the Wealth, Happiness and Prosperity of this Kingdom depend on a due Submission to the Laws; and a perfect Confidence in the Wisdom and Integrity of Parliament, we, your Majesty's faithful Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council of the City of Canterbury, beg Leave to approach the Throne, impressed with every Sentiment of Loyalty and Affection towards your Majesty's Royal Person and Government, and to return your Majesty our most sincere Thanks for the Measures which your Majesty hath thought proper to adopt, in order to counteract the Effects of the late seditious Publications, which tend to weaken every Sentiment of Obedience to the Laws, and to excite groundless Jealousies and Discontents in the Minds of your Majesty's Subjects.

We beg Leave to assure your Majesty that we shall hold it to be our indispensable Duty to pay the strictest Obedience to your Majesty's Royal Proclamation, which we cannot but consider as a fresh Instance of your paternal Care and Anxiety for the Welfare of your People, and that we will, in our several Stations, both as Magistrates and Citizens, most readily exert ourselves to discourage and suppress every Attempt which may be made against the Public Peace and Order of Society. May the present Constitution of this Country, the Work of Ages, and the Admiration of Mankind, be preserved inviolate; may Divine Providence support and protect it; and may your Majesty long continue to be, as you have been, its faithful Guardian and Friend, and as long continue to reign in the Hearts of a great, free and united People.

Given under our Common Seal, at the Guildhall of the City of Canterbury, this 19th Day of June, 1792.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Citizens and Inhabitants of the City of Worcester, in Common Hall assembled.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Citizens and Inhabitants of the City of Worcester, in Common Hall assembled, humbly
