

lay before your Throne the strongest Assurances of a loyal and affectionate Attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person and Government, and to express our Gratitude for the repeated Instances of your Majesty's Vigilance and Attention to the Prosperity and Happiness of your People, and particularly for your late Proclamation.

Fully sensible of the innumerable Blessings we enjoy under our most excellent and invaluable Constitution, we should deem ourselves unworthy of the Name of Britons were we not to express our highest Veneration for that Constitution, established by our Ancestors, and which it is our Duty to protect, and our earnest Wish to transmit, unimpaired, to the latest Posterity.

Impressed with these Sentiments, we view with Indignation the Attempts of factious and turbulent Men, whose Endeavours are alone calculated to deprive us of the real Blessings we derive from your Majesty's mild and auspicious Government, and from a Constitution which it is the Pride of every good Subject to support and defend.

May your Majesty long continue the Sovereign of an enlightened, free, and prosperous Nation.

The following Address of the Bailiff, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses of the Borough of Radnor, has been presented to the King by John Lewis, Esq; Bailiff of that Borough, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bailiff, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses of the Borough of Radnor.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bailiff, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses of the Borough of Radnor, humbly beg Leave to express our most grateful Thanks for the recent Mark of your Majesty's paternal Goodness, manifested in your late Royal Proclamation.

Conscious of the Blessings we enjoy under a Government which has long been the Envy and Admiration of the World, we cannot, as good Subjects, but hold in Abhorrence and Detestation the wicked Attempts of artful and designing Men, who, under the specious Pretence of reforming the Constitution, are, in Fact, endeavouring to subvert it.

May your Majesty long continue to reign over a free, loyal, and happy People.

Given under our Common Seal, this 2d Day of July, 1792.

John Lewis, Bailiff.

The following Address of the Inhabitants of the Town of Dudley and its Neighbourhood, has been presented to the King by Lord Viscount Dudley, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, (Inhabitants of the Town of Dudley and its Neighbourhood) humbly present our most grateful Acknowledgements for the truly paternal Solitude at all Times evinced by your Majesty for the Welfare of your People, and particularly by the late gracious Proclamation.

Conscious of the peculiar Blessings and Advantages resulting from our present Form of Government, we behold, with indignant Concern, the nefarious Measures which have been industriously used to subvert it, by those who mistake Licentiousness for Liberty, and Anarchy for the sacred Rights of Man.

That the Voice of Sedition may for ever be silenced; that the Spirit of Anarchy may be defeated in its Aim; that all the Subjects of the British Empire may cheerfully unite in promoting its important Interests; and that your Majesty may long reign over a free and loyal People, is, and ever will be, our most earnest Wish and Prayer.

Whitehall, July 21.

THE following Addresses having been delivered or transmitted to the Right Honorable Henry Dundas, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been by him presented to the King: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders, and other Inhabitants of the County of Wilts, beg Leave to acknowledge the fresh Instance of your Majesty's paternal Regard for the Welfare of your Kingdoms, which is manifested by your late Royal Proclamation.

We are too sensible of the many Blessings for which we are indebted to the free and happy Constitution under which we live, not to reprobate, with becoming Indignation, those inflammatory and seditious Writings, which have of late been circulated with such Industry, for the Purpose of raising a Distrust of your Government, and Dissatisfaction with our National Establishments. We consider them as the more injurious to the Public Tranquillity, as they are calculated to flatter the Passions, and excite the Discontent of the more numerous Part of the Community, and give a delusive Plausibility to Principles which we consider not only as subversive of the British Constitution, but incompatible with any rational or permanent System whatever of Civil Government.

The Houses of Parliament have in no Instance more faithfully represented to your Majesty the Public Sentiments than by the Constitutional Confidence with which they have anticipated the Opinion, and engaged the Concurrence of the Nation to second, with Zeal and Gratitude, such Exertions as your Majesty shall find necessary to repress all seditious Practices and Doctrines.

We receive with Confidence the gracious Promises of your Majesty's utmost Endeavours to secure to us a Continuance of our present Prosperity, and adopt, with perfect Satisfaction, the Eulogium pronounced by your Majesty upon the Constitution, "That it is the Source of legal and well-regulated Freedom."

Signed at the Request, and on Behalf of the County Meeting,
Matt. Humphreys,
Sheriff of the County of Wilts.

[Transmitted by the Sheriff.]