

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Lord
Lieutenant, Nobility, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Worcester.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, Lord Lieutenant, Nobility, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Worcester, beg Leave to approach your Majesty with the profoundest Respect, and with our most grateful Acknowledgements for your Majesty's paternal Care for your People, manifested in your late Royal Proclamation for discouraging and suppressing mischievous and seditious Publications and Meetings.

We beg to assure your Majesty that it is with infinite Concern we have perceived the wicked Attempts of turbulent Persons to disturb the National Happiness and Tranquillity, by dispersing among the People Writings of a dangerous Nature, tending to alienate their Affections from your Majesty's Government, and from the very Form and Spirit of that glorious Constitution, which has long been the Boast of Englishmen and the Envy of surrounding Nations. We are persuaded that it is only by the careful Preservation of that Constitution that we can hope to secure and perpetuate those great Political Blessings, of which this Nation almost exclusively boasts, and avoid those dreadful Scenes of Outrage and Confusion which must inevitably follow the Adoption of visionary and incoherent Doctrines, subversive of all Political Order and Subordination, and utterly impracticable in a polished and civilized Society.

Under these Impressions, and while we experience such singular Favours of Divine Providence, and and such numberless Political Blessings, we desire to express our utmost Indignation at any Attempts (from whatever Motives they arise) to seduce and alienate the Public Mind from your Majesty's mild and auspicious Government; and we beg to assure your Majesty that we will, to the utmost of our Power, discourage, counteract, and suppress every insidious or open Attempt to disturb the National Peace and Security, and will endeavour to strengthen and confirm in the Minds of the People their long-established Regard and Affection for the Constitution of their Country in Church and State; under whose liberal and benign Influence they have long enjoyed all the Blessings of Civil and Religious Liberty, and which, we trust, will be continued, in undiminished Purity and Vigour, to the latest Posterity.

[Transmitted by Fleetwood Parkhurst, Esq; Sheriff.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Lieutenant-Governor and Council of the Isle of Mann.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lieutenant-Governor and Council of your Majesty's Island of Mann, in Tynwald assembled, truly and most gratefully sensible of the Blessings we enjoy under the mild and just Reign of your Majesty, beg Leave to approach your Royal Throne with Hearts filled with Sentiments of the purest Loyalty and warmest Attachment to your Majesty's Person, Government and Family.

We are, Sire, earnestly solicitous to transmit, unimpaired, to our Posterity, the Constitution handed down to us by our Ancestors, and containing in itself every Power necessary to the Preservation and Security of Liberty and Property, as

Change of Times or Circumstances may require, being an Emanation from that of Great Britain, under which Liberty the most pure, the most generous and manly, is proved by Experience to be; as best or only secured by good Government, intirely consistent with Order the most perfect.

At a Time therefore when it is, but too evident there are Men, insidious as they are wicked and arrogant, who are endeavouring to subvert all Order, and that Constitution and Government, under which, with the Blessings of the Almighty on the virtuous and auspicious Reign of your Majesty, the British Empire, surest Test of good Government, has prospered to a Height of Wealth, of Grandeur and of Power, unknown before in the Annals of the World, we think it our indispensable Duty to offer to your Majesty, ever the Father of your People, and watchful to promote their best Interests, and to secure their Prosperity and Happiness, the humble but ardent sincere Tribute of our best Thanks, for the recent Instance of that paternal Care and Attention to preserve to your People the Blessing they enjoy, manifested in the Royal Proclamation against wicked and seditious Publications. But judging, Sire, from our own Hearts, we trust that, among all your Majesty's good Subjects, there will ever be but one Mind, one Voice, one stedfast Determination, to support your Majesty in preserving their happy and noble Constitution and Government, as by Law established, from Innovations whatsoever; and it is with a Pleasure, well founded as sincere, we are most happy to assure your Majesty, that in these we express the Sentiments of all your Majesty's People in this Isle, who, however distant in Situation, or separated in Condition, yet in Loyalty and Zeal of Attachment to the Person, Family and Government of their most gracious and beneficent Sovereign, yield not to any other Subjects on Earth, however circumstanced, wherever placed.

[Transmitted by Lieutenant-Governor Shaw.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Keys of the Isle of Mann, in Tynwald assembled.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Keys, the Representatives of your Majesty's Island of Mann, most gratefully sensible of the Blessings we enjoy under the mild and just Reign of your Majesty, beg Leave, Sire, to approach your Royal Throne with Hearts filled with Sentiments of purest Loyalty, and warmest Attachment to your Majesty's Person, Family and Government; and uniting with the rest of your Majesty's faithful and loyal Subjects, we declare our Disapprobation of all seditious Writings and criminal Correspondences, calculated to excite Tumult and Disorder in your Dominions. We are earnestly solicitous to transmit, unimpaired to our Posterity, the Constitution handed down to us by our Ancestors, which secures the Liberty and Happiness of the People, and permits Improvement according to the Change of Times and of local Circumstances.

We therefore think it, Sire, our indispensable Duty at this Crisis to offer to your Majesty the humble and most sincere Tribute of our Thanks for the recent Instance of that paternal Care and Attention to preserve to your People the Blessings they enjoy, manifested in your Proclamation for the suppressing seditious