ALDGATE WARD.

December 11, 1792:

AT a Meeting of the Inhabitants of this Ward, held in the Parish Church of St. Catherine Creec, Leadenhall Street, HARVEY CHRISTIAN COMBE, Alderman,
in the Chair,

The following Declaration and Resolutions were unanimously agreed to:

1. We, the Alderman, Deputy, Common-Council, and Inhabitants of the Ward of Aldgate, fully sensible of the Advantage of living under a mild and good Government, and having the highest Reverence for the Constitution of our Country, are unanimously of Opinion, that it is the bounden Duty of every good Subject in this Kingdom to declare, in the most decided Manner, his firm Attachment and Fidelity to the Constitution, as composed of King, Lords, and Commons.
2. That as it cannot be doubted that Pamphlets and Papers calculated to excite Discontent and Suspicion in the Minds of our Fellow Subjects, and containing Sentiments and Opinions, not only injurious to, but entirely subversive of, our happy Constitution, have been circulated with peculiar Industry, through all Orders of Society: Resolved, That this Meeting will, in every Instance, and to the fullest Extent of its Power, give Assistance to the Magistracy of this City in suppressing all illegal Meetings, and in detecting and punishing all those who may be found in violating the Law, or disturbing the Peace.
3. Resolved, That the Thanks of this Meeting be given to the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor, for his spirited Exertions in Support of the Peace and Tranquillity of this City; and that the Alderman and Common-Council of this Ward be requested to wait on the Lord Mayor for that Purpose.
4. That the Proceedings of this Meeting be signed by the Chairman, and published in the Daily Papers and the London Gazette, and that Copies of the same be printed, and distributed to all the Inhabitants of the Ward.
5. That these Resolutions be fairly transcribed, and signed by such Inhabitants as approve the same, and that they be left
