AT the Court at St. James's, the 19th Day of December, 1792,

P R E S E N T

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS His Majesty was graciously pleased, by His Royal Proclamation bearing Date the First Day of this instant December, to promise and declare, that a Bounty of Three Pounds should be paid to every Able Seaman, and of Two Pounds to every Ordinary Seaman, not above the Age of Fifty, nor under the Age of Twenty Years, fit for His Majesty's Service; and a Bounty of Twenty Shillings to all such Able-bodied Landmen, not above the Age of Thirty-five, nor under the Age of Twenty Years, who should, on or before the Thirty-first Day of this instant December, voluntarily enter themselves to serve in His Majesty's Royal Navy, either with the Captains or Lieutenants of His Majesty's Ships, or Officers employed on Shore for raising Men for the Service of His Majesty's Navy: And whereas the Time limited for Payment of the said Bounties is near expiring; and it being judged expedient for His Majesty's Service, that the said Bounties should continue to be paid for some Time longer, His Majesty, with the Advice of His Privy Council, doth therefore order, and it is hereby ordered, that the Time limited for Payment of the said Bounties be prolonged and extended from the said Thirty-first Day of this instant December, to the Twenty-eighth Day of February next, inclusive: Whereof all Persons concerned are to take Notice, and govern themselves accordingly.

Steph. Cottrell.

Whitehall, December 22.

THE following Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy, Merchants, Tradesmen, Free Burgesses, and other Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Liverpool, signed by upwards of Eleven Thousand Persons, has been presented to the King by Captain Richard Smith of the Royal Navy, accompanied by the Representatives in Parliament for Liverpool, and Owen Salusbury Brereton, Recorder, and by John Tarleton, Esq; being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bedchamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy Merchants, Tradesmen, Free Burgesses, and other Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Liverpool.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave to approach your Majesty with Assurances of our warmest Gratitude for the recent Instance of your paternal Care and Attention to the Welfare and Happiness of your People in issuing your late Royal Proclamation for the early assembling of your Parliament.

Sensible of the great Happiness and Prosperity we enjoy under your Majesty's mild and auspicious Government, we will at all Times have a due Regard to the Value of the many Blessings resulting therefrom, and will, upon every Occasion, unite in the firmest Support of your Majesty's Endeavours to continue these Blessings to us by preserving the present excellent Constitution.

Fully convinced as we are that the Wealth and Happiness of the Nation principally depend on a due Submission to the Laws, and a just Confidence in the Wisdom and Integrity of Parliament, from whom only, in Conjunction with your Majesty, can the Removal of any Grievances, real or imaginary, constitutionally flow;

We beg Leave to assure your Majesty that we will use every Exertion to inculcate these Sentiments,

[Price One Shilling.]
