AT the Court at St. James's, the 9th of October, 1793,

P R E S E N T,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Inhabitants of the City and Port of Toulon in France have delivered to Vice-Admiral Lord Hood, Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Mediterranean, Possession of the said City and Port, and their Dependencies; and the said Vice-Admiral Lord Hood hath taken Possession thereof accordingly; and the same are no longer under the Government of the Persons now exercising the Powers of Government in France, but are under the Protection of His Majesty: And whereas it is expedient that the Inhabitants within the said City and Port, and their Dependencies, should be supplied with Articles necessary for their Sustenance, Accommodation and Defence, notwithstanding the present War between Great Britain and France; His Majesty, taking the Premises into His Royal Consideration, is pleased, by and with the Advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered and declared, that from and after the Date hereof, until His Majesty's Pleasure shall be signified to the contrary, all His loving Subjects may lawfully trade to and with the said City and Port of Toulon, and the Dependencies thereof, notwithstanding the War between Great Britain and France, except only in such Manner as by an Act passed in the last Session of Parliament, intituled,

“ An Act more effectually to prevent, during the present War between Great Britain and France, all Traiterous Correspondence with, or Aid or Assistance being given to His Majesty's Enemies,” is prohibited, and is not hereinafter specially authorized; subject, nevertheless, to the same Regulations, Conditions, Restrictions, Duties, Penalties and Forfeitures, as the said Trade was liable to, immediately before the Commencement of the said War. And whereas by the said Act, during the Continuance of the present War between Great Britain and France, all Persons residing or being in Great Britain are prohibited, under the Penalties of High Treason, from supplying, to or for the Use of any Person or Persons residing or being within any of the Dominions of France, or any Town, Territory, Port or Place annexed to France, or under the Government of the Persons then exercising, or who might thereafter, during the said War, exercise the Powers of Government in France, divers Articles specified in the said Act, without Licence from His Majesty, under His Sign Manual, or by Order in Council or Proclamation first had and obtained, specifying the Articles with respect to which the same shall be had and obtained, and also the Place and Places from which and to which the said Articles shall be sent; His Majesty is pleased further to order, and it is hereby ordered, that it shall be lawful to and for all Persons residing or being in Great Britain, to sell, supply and deliver, from any
