Steph. Cottrell.

Whitehall, July 19.

A Letter, of which the following is an Extract, dated Contyck, July 15, 1794, has been received from His Royal Highness the Duke of York by the Right Honourable Henry Dundas, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

ON Saturday Afternoon the Enemy attacked all the Out-Posts occupied by my Advanced Corps in Front of the Canal leading from Brussels to Antwerp, and, being greatly superior in Numbers, drove them into the Town of Malines, upon which Place they likewise fired; but, upon a Reinforcement arriving, under the Command of the Earl of Moira, the Enemy fell back, with some Loss.

This Morning, however, they renewed the Attack, and having succeeded in obliging the Posts on the Left of Malines to abandon the Canal, and to retreat from the Dyle, Lieutenant-General Dalwig thought himself obliged to fall back to Welhem, where he has taken up a Position, to cover that Pass of the River. I have detached Lord Moira to take Possession of the Village of Duffel upon his Left; and General Wallroden, with the Hanoverians, is at Liere.

St. James's, Wednesday July 16, 1794.

A CHAPTER of the Most Noble Order of the Garter having been summoned to meet this Day, the Knights Companions, in their Mantles and Collars, with the Officers of the Order hereafter mentioned in their Mantles, Chains and Badges, attended the Sovereign in his own Apartment; and, being called over by Garter, a Procession was made from thence to the Great Council-Chamber in the following Order:

Marquis of Stafford. Duke of Grafton.
His Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester.

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

Black Rod.

Garter.

Chancellor.

The SOVEREIGN.

The Sovereign and Knights Companions being seated, the Chancellor signified to the Chapter the Sovereign's Pleasure for filling up the two vacant Seals in St. George's Chapel at Windsor; and the Knights Companions proceeded to the Election. The Suffrages being collected by the Chancellor, and presented to the Sovereign, Prince William Frederick, (now out of the Kingdom) Son of his Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester, was, by His Majesty's Command, declared duly elected; and as, by the Statutes, none but a Knight can be elected, Garter and Black Rod were sent to introduce his Grace the Duke of Portland, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, who was knighted by the Sovereign with the Sword of State.

After which the Knights Companions proceeded to a Second Election; and the Suffrages being collected by the Chancellor, and presented to the Sovereign, the Duke of Portland was, by His Majesty's Command, declared duly elected. His Grace was thereupon received at the Door of the Chapter-Room by the two Junior Knights Companions, and conducted between them to the Sovereign, preceded by Garter King of Arms, (bearing the Ensigns of the Order on a Cushion) and Black Rod.

Garter King of Arms presenting the Garter to the Sovereign, His Majesty delivered it to the two Senior Knights, who buckled it on his Grace's Left Leg, the Chancellor pronouncing the Admonition.

Garter then presented the Ribbon with the George to the Sovereign, and his Grace kneeling, the Sovereign, with the Assistance of the two Senior Knights Companions, put it over the Duke's Shoulder, the Chancellor in the mean Time pronouncing the Admonition; and the Duke, having kissed His Majesty's Hand, and severally saluted the Knights present, withdrew.

Garter then called over the Knights; and a Procession was made back to His Majesty's Apartment, in the Order as before.
