

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs, Bur-gessees and Inhabitants of the Town and County of Southampton and it's Neighbourhood.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

YOUR Majesty's faithful Subjects, the Mayor, Bailiffs, Burgessees and subscribing Inhabitants of the Town and County of Southampton and it's Neighbourhood, with Hearts grateful to the Almighty, whose providential Care hath preserved your Majesty from the Poniard of the mad Assassin and the brutal Violence of a licentious Rabble, desire to present at the Foot of the Throne their Congratulations for your Safety, and to express their Indignation against Miscreants, who, in Defiance of the Laws of their Country, and in Violation of every social Duty, have dared to lift their sacrilegious Hands against the best of Kings, even when in the solemn Act of uniting with the Parliament to alleviate the Distresses of his People.

Unwilling to suppose that any but the most profligate and contemptible of your Majesty's Subjects could engage in an Attempt which would cast a Stain on the British Name, and sink it beneath the lowest of the savage Hordes, we, nevertheless, hope and trust that a speedy, attentive and effectual Enquiry into all the Circumstances of it will be made, and that the Punishment of a Crime, which levels all Distinctions, may fall on the Guilty, without Exception or Reserve.

With these Sentiments, Sire, we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that, inviolably attached to your Royal Person and your illustrious Family, we shall be watchful to prevent, and resolute to suppress, to the utmost of our Power, all seditious and traitorous Practices, and whatever may tend to obstruct the constitutional Proceedings of Government, or to disturb the public Peace.

[*Presented by Major-General d'Arvergne, Mayor, attended by James Amyatt and George Henry Rose, Esqrs.
Representatives in Parliament for the said Town.*]

The Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders and others, Inhabitants of the County of Suffolk, at a Meeting of the said County assembled.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders and others, Inhabitants of the County of Suffolk, impressed with Sentiments of the warmest and most affectionate Respect, beg Leave to approach your Throne, with the sincerest Congratulations on your Majesty's happy Escape from the horrid Attempt lately made on your sacred Life, in going to and returning from meeting your Parliament, in Discharge of that high Duty which the glorious Constitution of this Country has so wisely vested in the Monarch of these Kingdoms.

With Horror we contemplate the daring and wicked Outrage against a Life, which the uniformly mild Tenor of your Majesty's Reign has made dear to all your Subjects. It is graven on our Minds with the deepest Impression. At the same Time our Breasts are filled with Sentiments of the most profound Gratitude and Humiliation to the Almighty in having thus signally protected your Majesty, and preserved to your faithful People the Blessings they enjoy under your Majesty's paternal Care and Anxiety to maintain to them that National Happiness and Constitutional Freedom which they possess above all other Nations upon Earth.

We implore your Majesty to promote such Measures as will be most conducive to the Discovery of the Perpetrators of an Attempt to black and atrocious, and to bring them to exemplary Punishment, for the Sake of deterring the wicked and misguided from a Repetition of similar Outrages against your Royal Person and Dignity, rendered sacred by our happy Form of Government, and, by your Majesty's bright and amiable Virtues, invaluable to a brave, generous and free People.

Signed by Order of the Meeting,

Jacob Whitbread, High Sheriff.

Stowmarket, November 15, 1795.

[Presented by Sir John Rous, Bart. and Sir Charles Bunbury, Bart. Representatives in Parliament for the said County.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble, loyal and congratulatory Address of the Gentlemen, Freeholders, Freemen and Inhabitants of the City of Durham and it's Enviroons, whose Names are hereunto subscribed, together with those of the Officers of the Seventh Regiment of Light Dragoons and of the Loyal Durham Fencibles, now lying there.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

ACTUATED by the most unfeigned Loyalty and purest Attachment to the best of Kings and our most excellent Constitution, so firmly established at the glorious Revolution, your Majesty's antient, most loyal and respectable City of Durham and it's Enviroons, feel it their indispensable Duty as well as Inclination, though totally unexpected upon such an interesting and awful Occasion, once more to approach your Throne, and beg Leave, with the utmost Sincerity and Truth, to assure your Majesty there are not in all your extensive and potent Empire a People who hold in greater Detestation and Abhorrence the late most unmerited, atrocious and wicked Attempts upon your Royal Person, by a Set of discontented, factious Infammatists, who wish the Subversion of all Order and good Government therein, similar to what has unfortunately happened in a great neighbouring Nation, where Anarchy, Distress and Ruin have long existed, and do still unhappily continue to exist and pervade all Orders of Society, by Means of the worst of all political Scourges, those of Democratic Despotism, Tyranny, War and Bloodshed, to the Disgrace of Christianity, and the Annoyance of all Europe and other Countries feeling their dreadful Effects.

Most happily for these Kingdoms, Thanks to Almighty God for his infinite Goodness, and thereunder to your Majesty, by whose wise, vigilant and spirited Councils and Exertions they have internally escaped, in a supereminent Degree, such direful Calamities; for we are fully confident it has been, and ever will be, your Majesty's paternal Wishes to promote and maintain (as all Sovereigns ought) the Honour, Happiness and Interests of the most magnanimous and affectionate People ever whom any King ever reigned.

May then, most gracious Monarch, for the Honour of Christianity as well as Humanity, your Royal and paternal Wishes (which are undoubtedly coincident with those of the Empire at large and all the contending
