

contending Powers at War) soon be most happily realized by the Conclusion of a safe, honourable and permanent Peace; more especially at the present important Crisis, when the signal Successes of your Majesty's Arms by Sea, and the more recent and brilliant ones of your August and Imperial Ally by Land, must, in all human Probability, soon induce the French Nation to sue to your Majesty and your high Allies for it's immediate and happy Restoration, upon such Terms as are worthy of great and generous Nations to grant.

We do now most humbly and finally, in the most sincere and pathetic Terms, congratulate your Majesty, our most gracious, beloved and accomplished Queen, and all your Royal and Illustrious House, and Country, upon your happy Escape from the ferocious and traiterous Attempts of such desperate and cowardly Assassins, devoutly supplicating the Omnipotent, that He would ever keep under his most holy Protection a Life so precious and dear to all your affectionate People; and that your Reign over them may be long, prosperous and happy, in universal and perpetual Peace, with all it's concomitant Blessings.

Signed by several Hundred Persons, and desired to be presented to the Throne by Sir William Appleby, of Durham.

[Presented by Sir William Appleby.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs and Commonalty of the City of Winchester.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

YOUR Majesty's loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Bailiffs and Commonalty of the City of Winchester, ever desirous to testify their steady Attachment to your Majesty's Person, Family and Government, are particularly anxious in this Moment to appear among the foremost of your People in offering to your Majesty their sincere Congratulations on the providential Escape which your Majesty has had from the malignant and wicked Attempts of certain deluded and desperate Individuals, who, unmindful of their Allegiance to their Sovereign, and in Violation of the Laws, have dared to insult and put in Danger your sacred Person.

Your Majesty's loyal Citizens are impressed with additional Horror and Detestation of those unprovoked and unprecedented Acts of Violence, from the Consideration that your Majesty was actually engaged, at the Moment in which they were committed, in the truly Constitutional and Parental Act of conferring with your Parliament, in promoting the nearest and dearest Interests of your People, and that many of the Outrages committed against your Royal Person were repeated, after your Majesty had expressed your Royal Wish of putting an End to the Burdens and Calamities of War, and of restoring to your People the Blessings of Peace, which your Majesty has been graciously pleased to assure them you would use every Means to conclude, whenever it might be obtained consistently with the Interests of your People, the Dignity of your Crown, and the good Faith due to the Powers with whom your Majesty is in Alliance.

We are truly sensible of your Majesty's paternal Goodness in communicating to your loyal Subjects these your Majesty's gracious Dispositions; and we feel ourselves called on in Return to assure your Majesty of our inviolable Attachment to your Person and Government, and that we will cheerfully submit to such further Burdens as may be found necessary to effectuate with Success your gracious Proposes.

Given under our Common Seal, in our Council Chamber, this 11th Day of November, 1795.

[Presented by Sir Richard Gamon, Bart. one of the Representatives in Parliament for the said City.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Mayor, Bailiffs and Commonalty of the City of Oxford, in Common Council assembled, beg Leave to offer into your Majesty our most sincere and hearty Congratulations upon your Majesty's late Deliverance from the Attacks of a lawless and desperate Banditti, who, actuated either by their own wicked and profane Designs, or, which is more probable, by the Maculations of others more wicked than themselves, made an Attempt upon your Majesty's most sacred Person, when too in the Exercise of one of the most essential Functions appertaining to your Regal Dignity.

Permit us, Sire, firmly attached as we are to your Majesty's Illustrious Family and Government, to express our Abhorrence and Detestation of so atrocious an Act, which, as it threatened Danger to your Majesty, necessarily tended to involve your whole Kingdom in the deepest Sorrow and Affliction.

May the vile Abettors and Perpetrators of this daring Outrage be speedily discovered and receive a Punishment adequate to a Crime of such aggravated Enormity: And may the Almighty, who has hitherto with such especial Care protected your Majesty, continue to watch over and guard your sacred Person from every Foe, domestic as well as foreign: May He bestow upon you his choicest Gifts, and long, very long preserve you a Blessing to your People.

Given under our Common Seal, at our Council Chamber in Oxford, this 10th Day of November, in the Thirty-sixth Year of your Majesty's Reign.

[Presented by Francis Burton and Arthur Annesley, Esqrs. Representatives in Parliament for the said City.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs and Aldermen of the City of Norwich.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Sheriffs and Aldermen of the City of Norwich, beg Leave to renew our Expressions of Affection and Attachment to your Majesty, of Fidelity to the Throne, and of Veneration for the Constitution of our Country.

We congratulate you, Sire, on your late Escape from the Dangers to which you were exposed by a daring and outrageous Insult offered, through your Royal Person, to the supreme Authority of the State, in your Passage to the House of Parliament; and we do assure your Majesty, that we will at all times use our utmost Endeavours to promote and support that Respect and Obedience to the Laws, in which the Safety and Peace of your Majesty's Person and Government, and the Happiness of your People, most essentially depend.

We gratefully rely on your Majesty's paternal Sollicitude for your People's Welfare, and on the Wisdom,