

vernment with our Lives and Fortunes against all your Majesty's Enemies, foreign and domestic.

May that Great Being, who has hitherto so figurally interposed in the Preservation of your Majesty's Life, a Life of the most inestimable Value to the Welfare and Happiness of these Countries, continue to your Majesty his most gracious Protection; and grant, that the Crown may long flourish upon your Majesty's Head, and, attended by the Blessings of the mild and liberal Government we now enjoy, may descend to your Majesty's illustrious Line to the latest Posterity.

Given under our Common Seal, at the Guildhall in Sandwich aforesaid, the 11th Day of November, 1795.

[Presented by Sir Philip Stephens, Bart. and Sir Horace Mann, Bart. Representatives in Parliament for the said Town and Port.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, Burgesses and other Inhabitants of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, impelled by unfeigned Attachment to your Royal Person, and the most lively Abhorrence of a late Attempt against it, beg Leave to present our humble Congratulations on your happy Escape; and we pray that the same Divine Protection may long preserve your Majesty to bear the Sceptre of these Realms in Peace and Security.

[Presented by Andrew Steward, Esq; one of the Representatives in Parliament for the said Borough.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Recorder and Aldermen of the Corporation of Huntingdon, in Common Council assembled, beg Leave to express our Abhorrence and Detestation of the late daring Outrage and flagitious Attack against your Majesty's sacred Person, committed by a desperate and lawless Rabble in your Passage to and from the House of Parliament.

Deeply sensible of the many Blessings we have long enjoyed under the mild, beneficent and paternal Reign of your Majesty, we did not think there could exist in your Kingdoms any Man so lost to all Sense of Duty and Allegiance to the best of Princes, as to raise his parricidal Hand against your Royal Life. Every Englishman naturally abhors the Idea of Assassination; therefore the horrid Accounts of so nefarious an Attack struck us with Indignation and Astonishment.

We do most sincerely hope and trust, that the seditious Actors and Abettors of these desperate Outrages will be brought to speedy and condign Punishment: Infatuated and deluded Men, who appear to aim at plunging their Country into all the Horrors of Anarchy and Confusion, which now desolate a neighbouring Nation.

We beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on your providential Escape from imminent Danger, and take this Opportunity of expressing our Hopes, that the Wisdom of Parliament will frame such Laws as may be adequate to check seditious Assemblies, and to prevent in future such atrocious Offences.

It is our most sincere and fervent Prayer, that it may please the Divine Giver of all Good to grant your Majesty long to reign over a free, united and happy People.

Given under the Common Seal of our Corporation, the 16th Day of November, in the Year of our Lord 1795.

Rob. Godby, Mayor.

[Presented by the Earl of Sandwich, Recorder.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Wolverhampton, deeply impressed with Sentiments of Loyalty and Affection, and animated by the warmest Attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person and Government, humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty upon your Safety and Preservation, and to express our Abhorrence and Detestation of the daring Outrage lately offered to your Majesty's sacred Person, in your Passage to and from Parliament.

Persuaded that the sacred Principles of the Constitution have been ever the Rule of your Majesty's Conduct, and that the Happiness and Prosperity of your People have been the first Wish of your Heart, we reflect, with Horror and Indignation, that there should be found a Subject in your Majesty's Dominions capable of Actions of so atrocious and flagitious a Nature.

Anxious for the Safety of a beloved Sovereign and the Happiness of our Fellow Subjects, and reflecting upon the Consequences that must have resulted from the Accomplishment of the intended Purpose, we are thankful to the Almighty for your Majesty's Deliverance from so imminent a Danger, and implore the Continuance of the same gracious Providence in the Protection and Preservation of a Life invaluable to your Majesty's faithful Subjects, and endeared to them by every Proof of paternal Attention and Regard that can conciliate the Affections of a grateful and loyal People.

[Presented by Earl Gower.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Parishioners and Inhabitants at large of the Parish and Borough of New Windsor, in the County of Berks.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Parishioners and Inhabitants at large of the Parish and Borough of New Windsor aforesaid, with all Submission, beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on your late happy Escape from the most atrocious and outrageous Attack made on your sacred Person by a lawless Set of unprincipled and deluded Men, in the Exercise of one of the most important of your Royal Functions, that of meeting your Parliament.

That the Almighty Disposer of all Good may bless and prosper your Councils, give you Victory over your Enemies, restore Peace and Tranquility to your Kingdoms, establish your Throne on the firmest Basis, and perpetuate to latest Posterity our present Blessings in your Royal Line, is and ever will be the ardent and constant Prayer of your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

[Presented by William Grant, Esq; one of the Representatives in Parliament for the said Borough.]
