

Unto the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Volunteer Corps of the Town of Stirling.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Stirling Volunteers, impressed with a deep Sense of the great Happiness and many inestimable Blessings that we enjoy under your Majesty's mild and beneficent Government, cannot but express our utmost Abhorrence and Detestation at the late atrocious and treasonable Assault made on your Majesty's Royal Person.

While we view with Concern the groundless Complaints that wicked and designing Men make against our happy Constitution, how must it fill us with Alarm and Astonishment when we hear that they even proceed the Length of lifting up their Hands against a Prince who is the Friend and Father of his People? We rejoice, however, that Divine Providence averted the malicious Aim, and we trust that He will continue to watch over your Majesty's Person and Happiness, and ever defeat the vile and perfidious Attempts of either your public or private Foes.

That your Majesty's Reign may be long and prosperous, that you may live in the Affections and Esteem of your People, and that your Crown may descend to your latest Posterity, is the sincere Wish and ardent Prayer of your Majesty's most loyal and faithful Servants.

Signed, in Presence and by our Appointment, at Stirling, this 16th Day of November, 1795
Years.

John M'Killop, Captain.

[Transmitted by his Grace the Duke of Montrose.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's faithful and loyal Subjects, the Inhabitants of the Town and Vicinity of Knaresborough, in the West Riding of the County of York, whose Names are herunto subscribed, beg Leave to express our Detestation and Abhorrence of the atrocious Outrage committed against your Majesty on the Opening the present Session of Parliament, and to declare our Readiness on all Occasions to use our utmost Endeavours for the Protection of your Majesty's Person and Government, being fully convinced that neither our Liberties nor Property can be safe amidst such diabolical Attempts as have been made, and, we are apprehensive, are still meditating by an unprincipled and desperate Faction, unless your Majesty, as the Head and Life of our present happy and unparalleled Constitution in Church and State, be in Safety also.

We deeply regret the too evident Truth, that there has long existed a dangerous Combination of discontented and daring Men, who have had Recourse to every Machination, and at last even to Violence, at once to dethrone your Majesty and subvert the Constitution of this Kingdom.

And we humbly beg Leave to thank your Majesty for your gracious and paternal Care in the Institution of temporary Yeomanry Cavalry and Volunteer Corps for the Aid and Support of your Government, the happy Effects whereof have been such in this Part of the County of York as to have restrained the Turbulence and counteracted the Intentions of the Seditious; and we trust their future Exertions will, if required, be such as to evince to your Majesty the Unity and Wisdom of making such Measures more general.

Unto the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Noblemen and Gentlemen, Freeholders, Justices of Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and Heritors of the Shire of Edinburgh.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Noblemen and Gentlemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and Heritors of the County of Edinburgh, humbly approach your Majesty's Throne to declare our steady Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, and to express our sincere Congratulations on your Majesty's happy Escape from the daring and atrocious Attack made on your Royal Person.

We were filled with equal Astonishment and Abhorrence at the villainous Attempt against the Life of our beloved Sovereign, the sole Object of whose Reign has been to increase the Happiness and Prosperity of his People; and we trust that Parliament in its Wisdom will take efficient Measures to prevent the Mischiefs that may arise from dangerous Combinations of ill designed People.

While we beheld with much Concern the flagitious Attempt of daring Villains, we join with real Pleasure the general Voice of the Nation in expressing our Thankgivings to Almighty Providence, by whose Divine Interposition the wicked Designs of your Enemies have been defeated, and your Majesty's Life preserved for the Welfare and Happiness of your People.

Signed by our Preses in Name, and by Warrant of the Meeting, at Edinburgh, this 16th Day of November, 1795.

(Signed)

BUCCLEUGH.
