

of the evil Principles from which the very daring and atrocious Attempts proceeded, and of our Thankfulness to the Great Disposer of Events for the Preservation of a Life so dear to all good Subjects, and so essential to the Welfare and Prosperity of these Kingdoms.

Given at the Town-Hall of the said Borough, under Common Seal, the 16th Day of November, 1795.

Joseph Robinson, Mayor.
EXETER, Recorder.

[Presented by the Earl of Carysfort, one of the Representatives in Parliament for the said Borough.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Lyme Regis, in the County of Dorset, beg Leave to offer to your Majesty our most hearty Congratulations on your Majesty's providential Escape from the late audacious and wicked Attempt against your Royal Person, and to express our utmost Indignation and Abhorrence at such atrocious Conduct.

We most ardently hope that the execrable Agents and Abettors of this horrid Design may be discovered, and brought to condign Punishment; and that your Majesty, preserved from the Attacks of foreign Enemies and domestick Traitors, may long continue to reign over a loyal and grateful People.

Signed on Behalf of the Meeting, by William Daniel, Mayor.

[Presented by the Hon. Thomas Fane, one of the Representatives in Parliament for the said Borough.]

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Mayor, Jurats and Commonalty, and other Inhabitants of the Town of Faversham in the County of Kent, beg Leave to offer our most unfeigned Congratulations on your Majesty's happy Escape from the wicked Attempt lately made upon your Majesty's Royal Person; and whilst we declare our Abhorrence at the Flagitiousness of the Act itself, we cannot but express our Astonishment that there should be found a Description of Persons, however few in Number, capable of conceiving so horrid a Design against your Majesty, whose private Virtues command the utmost Veneration, and whose public Actions, as the Father of your People, call for the warmest Tribute of Affection.

That a Crime of this Nature should have existed, we can attribute only to the seditious and inflammatory Doctrines but too successfully propagated among us by those violent Spirits, who, having no Hopes of accomplishing their Purposes of Ambition and Self-Interest but by the Introduction of Anarchy and Confusion, deemed it expedient to destroy the Protector of our Laws and Liberties, in order to establish their own Power and Consequence on the Ruin of all that is dear to us.

The Safety of your Majesty including in it the Support of those Laws and Liberties, and the Protection of our Lives and Property, we have the strongest Motives to return our most grateful Thanks to the Great Disposer of Events for the gracious Interference of His Providence, so often manifested in the Preservation of your Majesty's Life from the various Dangers it hath experienced.

May that Life long be continued to us, and Loyalty to your Majesty's just and equitable Government be the Pride, as it is the Duty, of every true Lover of our inestimable Constitution.

[Presented by Sir Edward Knatchbull, Bart. one of the Representatives in Parliament for the County of Kent.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses of the Borough of Banbury.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses of the Borough of Banbury aforesaid, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, viewing with the utmost Abhorrence the late traiterous Attempt against your Majesty's sacred Person, cannot but express our sincerest Satisfaction at its Failure; and at the same Time we beg Leave to assure your Majesty of our firm Resolution to support our excellent Constitution against all its Enemies.

Done at a Common Hall, held the 18th Day of November, 1795.

[Presented by William Holbech, Esq; Representative in Parliament for the said Borough.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Portreeve, Aldermen and Burgesses of the ancient and loyal Corporation of Swansea, beg to approach your Majesty with our sincere and heartfelt Congratulations on your happy Escape from the dangerous Attack made on your sacred Person, when going to discharge one of the most important Duties of your exalted Station, in meeting your Parliament.

We cannot sufficiently lament the imminent Danger which the best of Sovereigns hath been exposed to from the Heinousness of the Attempt; and we consider the Outrage so offered to an essential and the most dignified Part of the Constitution, as proceeding from a direct and manifest Intention of the Perpetrators of it, to destroy that noble Fabrick, the Work of Ages, and under which these Kingdoms have flourished, in unexampled Happiness and Prosperity, the Envy of surrounding Nations.

The Blessing of Peace which your Majesty hath been pleased to hold out from the Throne, affords us an additional Cause of Gratitude to those we have already felt, for the anxious and paternal Solitude, and the unwearied Endeavours your Majesty hath constantly bestowed, in seeking the Honour and Welfare of your People on every Occasion; and until that desirable Object can be obtained with Dignity to your Crown, and Security to these Realms, your Majesty will not find us the most backward amongst our Fellow Subjects to hazard every Thing that is dear to us in supporting the Means of effecting it.

By Order of the Common Hall,
G. Powell, Portreeve.

November 12, 1795.

[Presented by Gabriel Powell, Esq; Portreeve of Swansea, attended by his Grace the Duke of Beaufort, the Marquis of Worcester, and Sir Watkin Lewis, Knt.]
