

your Descendants, following your illustrious Example, may rule these Kingdoms to the latest Ages, is the earnest Prayer of, may it please your Majesty, your faithful Subjects, the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, Justices of the Peace and Heretors of the County of Inverness.

Signed, by our Appointment, and in our Presence, Pheneas Mackintosh, Prefes.

Inverness, November 24, 1795.

[Transmitted by Phineas Mackintosh, Esq;]

St. James's, December 3.

THE following Address having been transmitted by his Excellency Earl Camden, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to his Grace the Duke of Portland, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, has been by him presented to the King; which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Sessions Grand Jury of the City of Dublin.

Loving and Beloved and Father,

IF it were possible to address your Majesty in a more affectionate Manner, we the Quarter Sessions Grand Jury of the City of Dublin would adopt it, particularly at this Time when we have heard, with the deepest Concern, that your Majesty has been insulted on your Passage to open the Parliament of England, by a misguided and daring Mob, and thereby endangering the Life of a Monarch deservedly venerated by us, as well as by all good Men.

We rejoice, and are thankful to that Divine Providence, who has been so watchful over your Royal Person as to render their base Intentions ineffectual; and we pray that He will turn the Hearts of all wicked and designing Men the Moment they shall conceive a Thought of depriving your Majesty of Life, or us of so good a King.

That the same God of Wisdom, and of Peace, may direct and strengthen all your Councils at this critical Period; that your Majesty may live long to support our excellent Constitution, and to be the Comfort and Happiness of your Royal Consort and your numerous Offspring, as well as that of your People, is our most hearty and fervent Prayer.

Grand Jury Room, November 20, 1795.

St. James's, December 3.

THE following Addresses have been presented to the King; which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Dean of the Collegiate Church of St. Peter's, Westminster, together with the Lord High Steward, Deputy Steward, High Bailiff, Chief Burgesses, Burgesses, High Constable, and Burgesses Assistants of your ancient City and Liberty of Westminster, humbly beg Leave to express our most lively Congratulations on the providential Escape of your Majesty from the daring Outrage offered to your Majesty's Person within this City and Liberty on your Passage to and return from your Parliament the first Day of this Session.

We are deeply sensible of the many inestimable Blessings which we enjoy under our excellent Constitution in Church and State, and we feel the warmest Indignation that there should be found any of our Fellow Subjects insensible to them, or to the just and mild Government administered by your Majesty, or to those personal Virtues which command the Respect, Attachment, and Gratitude of your People.

With these Impressions we cannot but connect this violent and alarming Outrage with the many seditious and tumultuous Assemblies held within this City, Liberty, and its Vicinity, and with the abominable Principles openly avowed there, and disseminated with the greatest Industry, tending to alienate the Affections of the People from the Person of your Majesty, and from the Constitution as by Law established.

Under the Apprehension that the existing Laws may be found inadequate to the Emergency of the present alarming Crisis, and to the Suppression of Evils of so atrocious a Nature, not only affecting the Security of your peaceable and loyal Subjects, but striking at the very Existence of our Laws and Liberties; and animated by the most dutiful Sentiments of Gratitude and Affection to your Majesty by the most sincere Reverence and Attachment to our Constitution, Sentiments which we share in common with the Rest of our Fellow Subjects; but feeling ourselves peculiarly called upon to express our Apprehension for the Tranquillity and Security of this great City, we hope that the Wisdom of Parliament will, with all convenient Dispatch, make further Provision for the Security of your Majesty's Person, and for the repressing and punishing seditious and tumultuous Meetings.

Given under our Common Seal, this 28th Day of November, 1795.

[Presented by the Bishop of Rochester, Dean of Westminster, and the Marquis of Buckingham, Lord High Steward.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The Address of the Noblemen, Gentry, Freeholders and other Inhabitants of the County of Oxford.

WE, your Majesty's most loyal Subjects, the Noblemen, Gentry, Freeholders and other Inhabitants of the County of Oxford, having heard, with the utmost Concern and Indignation, the very atrocious Outrage which has lately been offered to your Majesty's Person by an audacious and desperate Banditti, evidently seduced for that Purpose by the Arts and Machinations of the Enemies of this Country,

We beg Leave, in the strongest Manner, to express our Abhorrence and Detestation of such an Attempt; and we most sincerely congratulate your Majesty, ourselves, and our Country, that it hath pleased Almighty God to render their Plans ineffectual, and to deliver your Majesty from the Attack of those daring and abandoned Russians.

We most sincerely hope that the Measures your Majesty hath directed to be taken will lead to the Discovery and Punishment of the Perpetrators, Promoters and Abettors of this most flagrant Attack upon your Majesty's Person and the Constitution;

and