Dublin-Castle, January 4, 1798.

His Majesty, by His Royal Letters, having been pleased to appoint the Right Honourable Sir Ralph Abercromby, K. B. to be of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council of Ireland, he this Day in Council took the usual Oaths, and his Place at the Board accordingly.

Dublin-Castle, January 5, 1798.

Letters Patent have been passed under the Great Seal of Ireland, for the Translation of the Right Reverend Doctor John Porter, Bishop of Killala and Achonry, to the Bishoprick of Clogher, void by the Death of the Right Reverend Doctor William Foster, late Bishop thereof.

Whitehall, January 14, 1798.

Whereas it hath been humbly represented to the King, that on the Evening of Tuesday the 2d Instant a Straw-House, Cow-House, Fattening-House, some Piggies, a Cart-Hovel, Part of Two Ricks of Hay, a Cow, and some Farming Utensils, (the Value of the whole of which is estimated at Two Hundred Pounds or upwards) were burnt on a Farm situated near the Town of Woburn in the County of Bedford, and in the Occupation of John Circuit, of the said Town; and that the said Premises were wilfully and maliciously set on Fire by some Person or Persons unknown.

It has likewise been humbly represented to the King, that on the Evening of Monday the 8th Instant, a thatched Workshop, situated in the Town of Woburn aforesaid, and in the Occupation of John Evans, Collar-Maker, was discovered to be on Fire; but that the Flames, having been timely perceived, were speedily extinguished by the Inhabitants of the said Town; and that in some Thatch which had been stripped off the said Shop a Piece of Cotton or fine Wool, mixed with Grease or Oil, was found, partly consumed.

And it has been further humbly represented to the King, that on the Evening of Tuesday the 9th Instant, a thatched Wood Barn, (containing Coals, Wood, old Paper, and other Articles susceptible of Fire) in the Occupation of Samuel Handcombe, and situated in the Town of Woburn aforesaid, was observed to be on Fire, but that, by the timely Exertions of the Populace, the same was got under before the Flames had made any considerable Progress; and that, from different concurring Circumstances, it was manifest, that the said Barn, as well as the thatched Workshop before mentioned, were wilfully and maliciously set on Fire by some Person or Persons unknown, with a View to burn the Whole or the greatest Part of the said Town, which it is believed would have taken Effect, from the Nature and Position of the said Premises, the Direction of the Wind, and other Circumstances, if the Fire, in both Instances, had not been providentially discovered in Time to frustrate the wicked Designs of the Incendiaries who meditated the same.

His Majesty, for the better apprehending and bringing to Justice the Persons concerned in the Felonies above mentioned, is hereby pleased to promise his most gracious Pardon to any one of them (except the Person who actually set Fire to either of the said Premises) who shall discover his or her Accomplice or Accomplices therein, so that he, she or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

PORTLAND.

And, as a further Encouragement, a Reward of ONE HUNDRED POUNDS is hereby offered by the Inhabitants of the said Town of Woburn to any Person or Persons making such Discovery as aforesaid, (except as is before excepted) to be paid on the Conviction of any one or more of the Offenders, by the Overseers of the said Town.

And, as a still further Encouragement, an additional Reward of TWO HUNDRED POUNDS is also hereby offered to any Person or Persons making such Discovery as aforesaid, (except as is before excepted) to be paid, on the Conviction of any one or more of the Offenders, by me,

BEDFORD.

Whitehall, January 9, 1798.

Whereas it has been humbly represented to the King, that on Sunday the 7th Instant, an anonymous threatening Letter, of which the following is a Copy, was thrown on the Premises of Henry Chickley Plowden, Esq; of Newtown Park, near Lymington, in the County of Hants:
