

effect, and the Swede has cause enough to suspect the worst, since they have forbidden them all Trade with Plescom, or any other of the States.

Vienna, Dec. 10. In Upper Hungary there are some untoward divisions raised, betwixt the Protestants and the Papists, about their right to some Churches; and they are grown to that height, that they will hardly be compos'd without calling a General Dyets, which as the Emperours Affairs now stand, cannot be of advantage to him. Count Balsfi Imbre is charged with very high misdemeanours, but refuses to make answer to them at Vienna; insisting, that by the Laws and Priviledges of his Country, he is not accountable for what they accuse him of, to any but the Hungarian Diet, and that there only he will appear to make his defence.

The French Resident here, (notwithstanding the Agreement that was made before) refuses now to accept of the 220000 Florins, and that assignation of the Polish Salt-mines, for the two Dukedoms of Ratibor and Oppelen, which strange kind of deportments, makes us suspect they would not be sorry to find any occasion to quarrel with us.

Legorn, Dec. 18. On the 16 instant here arriv'd seven English Marine's; who belong to the Advise, and Little St. George, having made their escape from a French ship that ran ashore on the Island of Corsica in her return home from the French Fleet, to which she carried Provisions from Toulon. They report the Advise laden with Currants from Zant, taken about two months since by two French Men of War, and a Frigate of Tunis; and that the Little St. George was taken going from Sicilia to Malaga, laden with Corn. The French, they say, gave out, they had Orders to carry all English ships into Toulon, whither they were then to return. The English Mariners were dispos'd into several ships of the French Fleet. The Sun, an English ship, coming in 43 days from Constantinople, reports, that forty Gallies, and eight ships were upon their departure for Canea with Soldiers and Provisions. This week two Proclamations were published here, the one forbidding Commerce with England, the other with Cullen and Frankfort, because of the sickness.

Deventer, Jan. 2. The Bishops Forces are still abroad, and make havock of the Counteys, whilst ours ly still in Garrison. A Party of 7000 Horse under the command of Grave Hoemberg, and General Forgatz, have been at Wentzwick, where they have encouraged their men with our spoiles; they pass by Almelo, and are now marching higher up into the Countrey. A Party of their Horse fac'd Doeshburgh, where they took away a Prisoner from under their Walls, and found none so hardy to give them opposition, though they are 22 Companies in the Garrison, and six of them French. Wedde holds out still obstinate, and answers our shot with their Cannon, which makes the Besiegers weary of their employment. One salley they made, in hopes to fetch in a number of Cartels, but they mist their design and went off with loss. That which troubles us most, is, the fear of some ill Friends among our selves, for the people are observed to be very busie in meeting, and in such numbers, that Broesema, the Commander of Cocurden has sent to Groningen for more Forces, as not knowing the meaning of such Assemblies, but there are among them that say, 5000 of the Bishops Forces are coming out of Munster-land to them, and if so, it is easy to understand the business. About 1000 are drawn out of this Place, and some out of Swol, and other Garrisons, to go as is said, toward Almelo, which the Bishop's Forces have taken possession of.

Hague, Jan. 3. The States General of Holland and West-Friesland, met by particular Order again on Friday last, where they choose one Burgh of Amsterdam in the place which Myn Heer Meirman refused. The Companies of Sterrenburgh and Van Bont, upon their march to these parts, met with Orders that remanded them to Zurphen: The truth is, the Bishops Forces are more busie and powerful, then we understood them; and therefore no wonder, if upon better Information, there is an alteration in the former Resolutions. To morrow the Lords Commissioners of the Council of Holland, will dispose of the Lieutenants and Ensigns places in the Regiment of 3000 that is newly raised. The Treaty with Denmark lies as it did, still uncompleted, and if e People have been too often galled with stories of its being perfect'd, that they can hardly be any longer perswaded to expect a good issue of it.

Bremen, Dec. 30. This City begins to be allarm'd at the Swedes march, and are now putting themselves in a posture of defence. The Cannons are drawn on the walls, and the Inhabitants dispos'd to maintain their Right against all opposition; to which purpose we are raising some Forces for six Moneths, and are not without hope of assistance from our Neighbors. However, we have sent two Deputies to Count Wrangel, the Swedes General, who yet remains at Stralsundt, to expostulate the matter with him, and to know if he have any intent against this place.

Poole, Dec. 30. The 28th instant came into this Road a French Sloop, who chased a small Vessel of this Town, but being to wind-ward she got safe to Harbor. Captain Thomson, Commander of a Privateer belonging to Margate, came hither yesterday with a Prize of about 170 Tuns, her Cargo valued at 8000 pounds sterling, having aboard her 100 Tuns of Malago Sack, 300 Barrels of Fruits, and a quantity of Silkes. In her voyage homeward she put into Guernsey, to wash and talow, where she met with Captain Jones, a Commander of a Privateer, that was lately cut away upon the Coast of France, but himself and Company all saved. At their landing in France they were secured, and kept close Prisoners for five weeks, their allowance but 18 deniers a day. Commander Jones says, that divers Letters of Reprisal are granted against the English to those of New-aven, where they were Prisoners, and that he saw some of their Commissions; three of them were ready to set sail, one of 12, another of 24, and a third of 30 Guns.

Portsmouth, Dec. 29. A Vessel of Topsam came in hither from the Barbadoes, in company with 14 more, making her Voyage in about 9 weeks. One of them about three days after they were out at Sea, was by an unhappy accident burnt, another not long after sunk, but all the men saved. About 150 Leaguer off these ships parted company, and this ship, with 4 more, about a hundred Leagues off, met a Dutch Man of War of 30 pieces of Ordnance, who taking one of them, mann'd her, and with these two made fight against the other three, who had about 12 pieces each ship. This Vessel being of no force, made her escape, and left them engaged. The issue is not yet known.

Portsmouth, Dec. 31. Yesterday Captain Bell in the Tiger, brought in two Prizes, and the Trinity a third. One of them is avowedly a Holland Vessel laden with Oranges and Lemmons.

Southwold, Dec. 28. Yesterday past by fifty sail of laden Colliers, twenty of them great Ships, who report, they saw no Holland Men of War in their whole passage.

Plymouth, Dec. 29. Yesterday in the Evening, the Sorlings brought in a Prize of 250 Tuns, laden with Currants. By her Papers, the Goods wholly (if not the Ship) belong unto Amsterdam. The Nightingale hath sent in another Prize laden with Beef, &c.

Dover, Dec. 29. Yesterday the Holland Ambassador, Fan Goch, set sail this Morning from hence in the Little Mary Frigate, with a fair wind for Flushing.

Deal, Dec. 30. Yesterday about Evening, 17 Prisoners from Newgate, who were aboard a Barbadoes ship, got off their Fetters, secur'd the ships Crew, and went ashore about a mile to the Northward of Deal: the Master of the ship made pursuit after them, and this day took four in this Town. One of our Neighbour, exchange'd from Flushing, came home Yesterday, who reports the Dutch to be firing out their ships; and that four Capers are going out from thence, each carrying thirty Guns.

Harwich, Dec. 30. On Thursday several Colliers from Newcastle anchored in Oasly Bay, within sight of us. Yesterday, and this day, most of them set sail toward the South. They talk of some Ships cast away off of Blackney, but without any certainty.

The Account of the Weekly Bill at London runs thus, Total 253. Plague 70. Decreas'd 77.
