St. James's, April 27, 1799.

THE following Address has been presented to the King: which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The most humble and dutiful Address of the British Inhabitants of Calcutta, at a Public Meeting convened by the Sheriff.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the British Inhabitants of Calcutta, being deeply sensible, however diltantly removed from the Seat of Empire, of the numerous Blessings we enjoy under our present free and happy Constitution, feel an irresistibile Impulse, at this important Crisis, when the internal Peace and Happiness of your Majesty's Kingdoms are threatened by a desperate and implacable Enemy, to offer, at the Foot of the Throne, our most ardent Professions of Attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person, the Rights of your illustrious House, and the Honor and Interests of the British Crown.

To your Majesty, as the hereditary Guardian of that Constitution which has so long continued the Admiration and the Envy of the whole civilized World, we owe the strongest Declarations of our determined Resolution to support, with our Lives and Fortunes, your Majesty's Government against the Machinations and Attacks of an ambitious and inveterate Enemy, the common Disturbers of all settled States, the Foes to all Religion, Morals, Order, and genuine Freedom; who, perverting the sacred Name of Liberty, have established the most awful System of Usurpation and Tyranny through some of the fairest Regions of the Globe.

On the Wisdom of your Majesty's Councils, on the Patriotism and Loyalty of all Orders of your Majesty's Subjects, on the known Bravery of your Armies, on the distinguished Valour of your Majesty's Fleets, whose recent Victories have even surpassed in Splendour the former glorious Achievements of the British Navy, under Divine Providence we confidently rely for the ultimate Confusion and Disgrace of all your Majesty's Enemies, and for such continued Triumphs of the British Arms, as shall enable your Majesty to procure for your People (the evident and anxious Wish of your Heart) a lasting, safe, and honorable Peace.

To the great Disposer of Events we offer our humble Supplications, that it may please his Divine Goodness to prolong, to a very distant Period, your Majesty's invaluable Life, and that your Majesty's Posterity, following the virtuous Example of your Majesty, may continue to the remotest Ages to protect, with the British Sceptre, our free and happy Constitution.

[Presented by Colonel Inglis, Deputy-Chairman of the East India Company.]

NO. 15128.
