

impressing on the Minds of those who adhere to our Ministry a just Sense of what they owe, in Duty to the Prince whom God has set over them, and in Gratitude to one of the best of Sovereigns whom the King of Kings has vouchsafed to a highly favoured People; to Him the Almighty Preserver of Princes our public Thanks and Praise have been devoutly offered for that signal Instance of His merciful Protection which is now filling our Hearts with Sentiments of the purest Gratitude to the Father of Mercies, the God of all Comfort; and that He may still continue, by His kind and watchful Providence, to guard your Majesty from every Danger; and reward the amiable Virtues of your illustrious House with every Blessing, temporal and eternal, is, and shall ever be, the ardent and earnest Prayer of, may it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most faithful and obedient Subjects, the Bishops and Clergy of the Scotch Episcopal Church.

Signed for ourselves and for the Clergy of our respective Districts, by John Skinner, Bishop.

Andrew Macfarlane, Bishop.
W. Abernethy Drummond, Bishop.
John Strachan, Bishop.
Jon. Watson, Bishop.
Alexander Jolly, Bishop.

Aberdeen, June 13, 1800.

[Presented by the Right Hon. Henry Dundas.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Dean and Faculty of Procurators of Glasgow, established by your Majesty's royal Charter.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects the Dean and Faculty of Procurators of Glasgow, offer our most sincere Congratulations on the late Interposition of Divine Providence, in protecting your Majesty's sacred Person from the traitorous Attempt of a wicked Assassin.

Endeared to us by your eminent public and private Virtues, we do most earnestly beseech Almighty God long to continue to your grateful Subjects the Blessings of a Reign so auspicious to their Liberty and Happiness.

Signed and sealed in a Meeting of the said Faculty in their Name and by their Appointment at Glasgow the Tenth Day of June One thousand eight hundred. John Orr, Dean of Faculty.

[Presented by Mr. Macdowall, Member of Parliament for the City.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Ministers and Elders of the Scottish Churches, in the Cities of London and Westminster, and the Vicinity, approach your sacred Person with the warmest Sentiments of Duty, Loyalty, and Affection; Sentiments powerfully excited by the late atrocious Attempt on a Life so justly precious to these Kingdoms.

Permit us to assure you, Sire, that we and the Congregations over which we have the Felicity to preside, are of one Heart and of one Soul, in the Prayers which we daily present at the Throne of Grace, that it may please Almighty God to crown your Majesty with Length of Days, and with the Continuance and Increase of personal, domestic, and national Prosperity.

Contemplating that providential Deliverance which we this Day devoutly acknowledge, we rejoice to think that the King's Life is the Care of Heaven; and reflecting on the dignified Composure of your Majesty's Deportment in a Situation so awful, we exulting recognise the magnanimous Sovereign of the greatest of human Empires, displaying a Fortitude which leaves warlike Prowess far behind.

As a South British Colony from the Church of Scotland, we cherish those Principles of affectionate Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Family which we early imbibed, which we have uniformly maintained, and which we shall carefully diffuse and transmit to Posterity.

We cordially join in earnest Supplication to the King of Kings, that the Crown may long flourish on your sacred Head; and that there never may be wanting a Prince of the illustrious House of Brunswick, to sway the Sceptre over the British Empire, while the Sun and Moon endure.

[Presented by Dr. Hunter, Moderator; attended by John Trotter, D. D. Thomas Rutledge, D. D. James Steven, William Nicol, John Blythe, Ministers; Pat. Clason, James Jacque, William Oswald, Elders.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Protestant Dissenting Ministers in the Northern Counties, assembled at Morpeth, in the County of Northumberland, on Tuesday, Tenth of June One thousand eight hundred.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Associated Protestant Dissenting Ministers in the Northern Counties, desire to embrace the Opportunity of our General Annual Meeting to join with the rest of our fellow Subjects, in testifying our sincere and cordial Congratulations on your Majesty's happy Preservation from the late atrocious Attempt to take away a Life so justly dear to every one who entertains a due Sense of the Value of that excellent Constitution, of which your Majesty is so important and essential a Branch. While we are thankful to a Gracious Providence for this signal Instance of his protecting Favour, we beg Leave to assure your Majesty of our fervent Prayers that your Majesty may be long preserved to exhibit the same uniformly amiable Pattern of religious and moral Excellence, and to be the Protector of all your Subjects in the Exercise of their Privileges Civil and Religious.

Signed in the Name of the Annual Meeting.

William M'Connell, Moderator.

[Presented by Mr. Grey.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and affectionate Subjects, the Lieutenant Governor, the Bailiff and the Jurats of the Royal Court, and the Dean