R

COMBE, MAYOR,

A Common-Council, holden in the Chamber of the Guildhall of the City of London, on Thursday the 25th Day of September 1800,

Resolved unanimously, That the Thanks of this Court be given to the Right Honorable Harvey Christian Combe, Lord Mayor, for the judicious, spirited, temperate, and manly Conduct pursued by his Lordship in the Suppression of the late Riots, which were equally Dangerous to the good Order of this City, and to the general Peace, Tranquillity, and Happiness of His Majesty's Subjects.—That being fully sensible that though Vigour, and even Military Coercion, in the Exercise of a great Duty, are necessary in Moments of particular Danger; yet that Moderation, Humanity, and the truer Courage of avoiding the Bloodshed of our Fellow-Creatures, as far as can possibly be reconciled to the Preservation of the public Peace, are entitled to the warmest Degree of Approbation.

That this Court, being always determined to the utmost of their Power, by every constitutional Means, to resist all Tumult and Insurrection, will most cordially co-operate with his Lordship in all the Measures necessary to the Accomplishment of that great and essential Object, the King's Peace, and the public Tranquillity of this City.
