THE following Address has been presented to the King; which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously:

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Vice-Consul, Members of the Factory, and other British Inhabitants of the Island of Madeira, beg Leave most humbly to approach your Royal Presence, and offer out sincere and joyful Congratulations upon your Majesty's providential Escape from the atrocious and execrable Attempt upon your Majesty's sacred Person.

Having the Happiness to be born your Majesty's Subjects, we entertain the most loyal and affectionate Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Family: And it fills us with the deepest Horror and Indignation that, while your Majesty's Virtues and mild Government entitle you to the universal Love and Veneration of Mankind, there should exist a Wretch so abandonedly wicked and blindly infatuated as to raise his parricidal Hand against your Majesty's precious Life, with the Preservation of which not only the Blessings enjoyed by your Majesty's Subjects, but in the present momentous and awful Crisis the Welfare and Tranquillity of the civilized World are intimately connected.

We return our grateful Thanks to Almighty God for his singular Goodness in shielding your Majesty's Royal Person from so imminent a Danger, and thereby averting from your Majesty's Dominions the severest of Calamities. And we offer up our earnest Prayers that it may please Divine Wisdom to bless your Majesty with a long and happy Life, and a tranquil and glorious Reign.

Madeira, June 15, 1800.
