

this Army. The Reserve, against whom the principal Attack of the Enemy was directed, conducted themselves with unexampled Spirit. They resisted the Impetuosity of the French Infantry, and repulsed several Charges of Cavalry. Major-General Moore was wounded at their Head, though not dangerously. I regret, however, the temporary Absence from the Army of this highly valuable and meritorious Officer, whose Counsel and Co-operation would be so highly necessary to me at this Moment. Brigadier-General Oakes was wounded nearly at the same Time, and the Army has been deprived of the Service of an excellent Officer. The 28th and 42d Regiments acted in the most distinguished and brilliant Manner. Colonel Paget, an Officer of great Promise, was wounded at the Head of the former Regiment; he has since, though not quite recovered, returned to his Duty.

Brigadier-General Stuart and the Foreign Brigade supported the Reserve with much Promptness and Spirit: indeed, it is but Justice to this Corps to say, that they have, on all Occasions, endeavoured to emulate the Zeal and Spirit exhibited by the British Troops, and have perfectly succeeded. Major-General Ludlow deserves much Approbation for his Conduct when the Centre of the Army was attacked: under his Guidance the Guards conducted themselves in the most cool, intrepid, and soldier-like Manner; they received very Effectual Support by a Movement of the Right of General Coote's Brigade. Brigadier-General Hope was wounded in the Hand; the Army has been deprived of the Service of a most Active, Zealous, and Judicious Officer.

The Loss of the Enemy has been great; it is calculated at upwards of Three Thousand killed, wounded, and taken Prisoners. General Roize, who commanded the Cavalry, which suffered considerably, was killed in the Field. Generals Lanusse and Bodet are since dead of their Wounds. I have been informed that several other General Officers, whose Names I do not know, have been either killed or wounded.

I cannot conclude this Letter without solemnly assuring you, that, in the arduous Contest in which we are at present engaged, His Majesty's Troops in Egypt have faithfully discharged their Duty to their Country, and nobly upheld the Fame of the British Name and Nation.

I have the Honor to be, &c.
