

St. James's, July 27, 1803.

THE following Addresses having been presented to the King; which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, and other Inhabitants of the County of Wexford, convened by the High Sheriff, on Monday the Eighteenth of July One thousand eight hundred and three, pursuant to public Notice.

AT this Time of active and general Preparation to engage in the arduous Contest forced upon us through the restless and inordinate Ambition of the Rulers of the French Nation, we your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, and other Inhabitants of the County of Wexford, deem it to be our bounden Duty to declare, in the warmest Terms, our affectionate and inviolable Attachment to your Royal Person and Government, and to offer the unqualified Support, as well of our Persons as of our Properties, in the vigorous Prosecution of a War so just, so necessary, and unavoidable. The Wisdom evinced by your Majesty's Ministers in terminating the late War, their Patience and Forbearance in the Discussion of certain important but unsettled Points in the Treaty of Amiens, their Firmness and Decision when the hostile Dispositions of our insatiable Enemies were developed, all unite to create in us a Confidence, that by their Guidance, under the protecting Arm of that Almighty Power who has on many Occasions been graciously pleased to manifest his good Providence to our beloved Sovereign and his Dominions, that this War will be brought to an happy Conclusion, and that the Blessings of an honorable and permanent Peace, will, at no great Distance of Time, be restored to your faithful People.

Signed by Order,
Henry Archer, High Sheriff of the County of Wexford.

[Presented by the Right Honorable Lord Pelham.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Common-Council of the City of Glasgow.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Common-Council of the City of Glasgow, beg Leave, at this very important Crisis, to renew the Assurances of our unshaken Loyalty and determined Attachment to your Majesty's Person, Crown, and Government; and while we do so it gives us Pleasure to see that a Spirit of Unanimity and Resolution, equal, if not superior, to what has appeared at any former Period, now manifests itself all over the British Empire.

Thoroughly satisfied of the implacable Hatred of the present Rulers of France towards this Country, and of their fixed Resolution, if possible, to overthrow that glorious Constitution which cost our Fathers so dear, and by which, under your Majesty's mild Administration, and the Blessing of Providence, we have enjoyed an unexampled Degree of Happiness and Prosperity, we feel ourselves imperiously called upon to make great Sacrifices of our Time and Property, and to unite with our loyal Fellow-Subjects throughout the Realm in maintaining and defending our Rights, and the Honor and Interest of our most gracious Sovereign, and in resisting to the uttermost the ambitious Projects of an insulting Foe.

Trusting in your Majesty's paternal Care, in the Wisdom of your Councils, and the Skill and Valour of your Navy and Army, combined with the Loyalty and Spirit of your faithful Subjects, and crowned with the Divine Blessing, we feel no Dimmay at the Threats of our Enemy, but, on the contrary, have well-founded Hopes that your Majesty will soon be enabled to terminate the War with Glory, and to secure a safe, honorable, and lasting Peace.

Signed and sealed with the Seal of the said City, in the Name, and by Appointment of the Magistrates and Common-Council of the said City, at Glasgow, the Twenty-third Day of July One thousand eight hundred and three.

Law. Croigie, Provost.

[Presented by the Right Honorable Lord Pelham.]

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Inhabitants and Visitors of the City of Bath, humbly beg Leave, at this critical Conjunction, to assure your Majesty of our firm and unshaken Zeal for your Majesty's Person and Government, and that we will, with the greatest Alacrity, embrace every Opportunity of exerting ourselves in the Support of both.

Steadfast in our Allegiance, unalterable in our Loyalty, unanimous in the Defence of your Majesty's sacred Person and Government, we view with Indignation the proud and impious Threats of our Enemies, and with Pleasure offer our most devoted Services in the furtherance of such Plans of National Defence and Annoyance of our Enemies as your Majesty's Wisdom with the Concurrence of your Parliament may think proper to direct in a Contest of such National Importance.

[Presented by the Right Honorable Lord Pelham.]
