CLARA RESINDRING, late Clara Moß, who resided at Weissenberg, on the Rhine, in the Province of Alsace Sister of John Moß, late of Madras, a Captain in the Service of His Highness the Nabob of Arcot, or in Case of her Decease, her next of Kin or legal Representative, is requested to apply to Mr Dann, Solicitor, Old Broad-Street, London, who is authorized to communicate Information beneficial to her Interests.

THE 10th of July 1804, a Cause was tried before Lord Ellenborough, Lord Chief Justice of the Court of King's-Bench, and a Special Jury of Merchants, at Guildhall, London, between B. H. Inglish, opposite the New Church, in the Strand, the only Proprietor of that excellent Medicine called Dr. ANDERSON'S, or, THE TRUE SCOTS PILLS, Plaintiff, and John Tyce, of Fleet-Market, Defendant. The Cause of Action was the Defendant's selling a Sort of Scots Pills, wrapped in Papers representing them to be made by Mr. James Inglish, one of the Plaintiff's Ancestors, and as coming from the Unicorn over against the New Church in the Strand, the Plaintiff's Dwelling-House.—Mr. Erskine opened the Cause for the Plaintiff, Mr. Inglish, with great Judgment and Ability, stating the high Reputation this Medicine has been held in for upwards of One Hundred and Fifty Years, ever since the Invention of it by that skillful and eminent Man Dr. Patrick Anderson, Physician to King Charles the First; and observing on the high Esteem it has been held in by many of the first Physicians since his Time, several of whom have given Mr. Inglish's Family Certificates of its Excellence, recommending it as a most useful Family Medicine.—Mr. Newbery, of St. Paul's Church-Yard, bore Testimony of the great Virtues of this Medicine as prepared by the Plaintiff, and of its high Reputation with the Public; and also of the extensive Sale which he, as a Vender of Genuine Medicines, had for this in particular. Other respectable Persons in the same Way of Business gave Evidence to the same Effect: And it being clearly proved that the Plaintiff and his Ancestors, descended from Dr. Anderson, were possessed of the Genuine and only True Receipt for the preparing this Medicine, and Mr. Inglish's Object in prosecuting
