Downing-Street, May 6, 1805.

A DISPATCH, of which the following is a Copy, has been this Day received by Earl Camden, K. G. One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, from Lieutenant-General Sir William Myers, Bart. commanding His Majesty's Troops in the Windward and Leeward Islands :

My Lord, Barbadoes, March 9, 1805.

I HAVE the Honor to enclose to your Lordship, Copy of a Dispatch from Brigadier-General Prevost, dated Dominica, 1st March; the Details contained therein are so highly reputable to the Brigadier-General, and the small Portion of Troops employed against so numerous an Enemy, that I have great Satisfaction in recommending their gallant Exertions may be laid before His Majesty; the Zeal and Talent manifested by the Brigadier-General upon this Occasion, it is my Duty to present for His Royal Consideration; and at the same Time I beg to be permitted to express the high Sense I entertain of the distinguished Bravery of His Majesty's Troops and the Militia of the Colony employed upon that Service. The vigorous Resistance which the Enemy have experienced, and the Loss which they have sustained in this Attack, must evince to them, that however inferior our Numbers were on this Occasion, British Troops are not to be hostily approached with Impunity, and had not the Town of Roseau been accidentally destroyed by Fire, we should have little to regret and much to exult in.

Your Lordship will perceive by the Returns that our Loss in Men, compared to that of the Enemy, is but trifling; but I have sincerely to lament that of Major Nunn, of the 1st West India Regiment, whose Wound is reported to be of a dangerous Kind; he is an excellent Man, and a meritorious Officer. I have the Honor to be, &c.

(Signed) W. MYERS.

Head-Quarters, Prince Rupert's, Dominica, March 1, 1805.

SIR,
ABOUT an Hour before the Dawn of Day on the 22d Ult., an Alarm was fired at Scotchhead, and soon after a Cluster of Ships was discovered off Roseau. As our Light increased, I made out Five large Ships, Three Frigates, Two Brigs, and small Craft, under British Colours,—a Ship of Three Decks carrying a Flag at the Mizzen. The Frigates ranging too close to Fort Young, I ordered them to be fired on, and soon after, Nineteen large Barges full of Troops, appeared coming from under the Lee of the other Ships, attended and protected by an Armed Schooner full of Men; and Seven other Boats carrying Carronades. The English Flag was lowered, and that of France hoisted.

A Landing was immediately attempted on my Left Flank, between the Town of Roseau and the Post of Cachecrow. The Light Infantry of the 1st West India Regiment were the first on the March to support Captain Senant's Company of Militia, which, throughout the Day, behaved with great Gallantry. It was immediately supported by the Grenadiers of the 46th Regiment. The first Boats were beat off, but the Schooner and one of the Brigs coming close in Shore to cover the Landing, compelled our Troops to occupy a better Position; a Defile leading to the Town. At this Moment I brought up the Grenadiers of the St. George's Regiment of Militia, and soon after the Remainder of the 46th, and gave over to Major Nunn these brave Troops, with Orders not to yield to the Enemy One Inch of Ground: Two Field Pieces (an Amuzette and a Six-Pounder) were brought into Action for their Support, under the Command of Serjeant Creed of the 46th Regiment, manned by additional Gunners and Sailors.—These Guns, and a Twenty-four Pounder from Melville Battery, shook the French advancing Column by the Execution they did.

I sent Two Companies of the St. George's Militia, under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Constable, and a Company of the 46th to prevent the Enemy from getting into the Rear of the Position occupied by Major Nunn.

On my Return I found the Majestueux, of One Hundred and Twenty Guns, laying opposite to Fort Young, pouring into the Town and Batteries her Broadside; followed by the other Seventy-fours, and Frigates doing the same.

Some Artillery, several Captains of Merchantmen, with their Sailors, and the Artillery Militia, manned Five Twenty-four Pounders, and Three Eighteens, at the Fort, and Five Twenty-fours at Melville's Battery; and returned an uninterrupted Fire. From the first Post Red-hot Shot were thrown. At about Ten o'Clock, A. M. Major Nunn, most unfortunately for His Majesty's Service, whilst faithfully executing the Order I had given, was wounded, I fear, mortally.

This did not discourage the brave fellows.—Captain O'Connell, of the 1st West India Regiment, received the Command, and a Wound, almost at the same Time; however the last Circumstance could not induce him to give up the Honor of the first, and he continued in the Field animating his Men, and resisting the repeated Charges of the Enemy until about One o'Clock, when he obliged the French to retire from their advanced Position with great Slaughter. It is impossible for me to do Justice to the Merit of that Officer. You will, I doubt not, favorably report his Conduct to His Majesty, and at the same Time that of Captain James, who commanded the 46th, and Captain Archibald Campbell, who commanded the Grenadiers of the 46th. Foiled and beat off on the Left, the Right Flank was attempted, and a considerable Force was landed near Morne Daniel. The Regulars not exceeding Two Hundred, employed on the Left in opposing the Advance of their Columns, consisting of upwards of Two Thousand Men, could afford me no Reinforcement, I had only the Right Wing of the St. George's Regiment of Militia to oppose to them, of about One Hundred Men. They attacked with Spirit, but unfortunately the Frigates had stood in so close to the Shore to protect this Disembarkation, that after receiving a destructive Fire, they fell back and occupied the Heights of Woodbridge Estate. Then it was, that a Column of the Enemy marched up to Morne Daniel, and stormed the Redoubt, defended by a small Detachment, which, after an obstinate Resistance, they carried. On my Left, Captain O'Connell was gaining Ground, notwithstanding a fresh Supply of Troops and several Field-Pieces which had been brought on Shore by the Enemy. I now observed a large Column climbing the Mountains to get in his Rear.

The Town, which had been for some Time in Flames, was only protected by a light Howitzer and a Six-Pounder to the Right, supported by Part of the Light Company of the St. George's Regiment. The Enemy's large Ships in Wood-Bridge Bay out of the Reach of my Guns, my Right Flank gained, my Retreat to Prince Rupert's almost cut off, I determined on one Attempt to keep the Sovereignty of the Island, which the excellent Troops I had warranted. I ordered the Militia to remain at their Posts, except such as were inclined to encounter more Hardships and severe Service; and Captain O'Connell, with the 46th, under the Command of Captain James, and the Light Company of the 1st West-India Regiment, were directed to make a forced March to Prince Rupert's. I then allowed the President to enter into Terms for the Town of Roseau; and then demanded from the French General that private Property should be respected, and that no wanton or disgraceful Pillage should be allowed. This done, only attended by Brigade-Major Prevost, and Deputy Quarter-Master-General Hopley, of the Militia Forces, I crossed the Island, and, in Twenty four Hours, with the Aid of the Inhabitants, and the Exertions of the Caribs, got to this Garrison on the 23d.—After Four Days' continued March, through the most difficult Country, I might almost say existing, Captain O'Connell joined me at Prince Rupert's, wounded himself, and bringing in his wounded, with a few of the Royal Artillery, and the precious Remainder of the 46th Regiment, and the 1st West India Light Company.

I had no sooner got to the Fort than I ordered Cattle to be drove in, and took Measures for getting a Store of Water from the River in the Bay. I found my Signals to Lieutenant-Colonel Broughton, from Roseau, made soon after the Enemy had landed, had been received, and that, in consequence, he had made the most judicious Arrangements his Garrison would allow of for the Defence of this important Post.

On the 25th I received the Letter of Summons I have now the Honor to transmit, from General of Division La Grange, and, without Delay, sent the Reply you will find accompanying it.

On the 27th the Enemy's Cruizers hovered about the Head; however, the Centaur's Tender (Vigilante) came in, and was saved by our Guns. I landed Mr. Henderfon, her Commander, and his Crew, to assist in the Defence we were prepared to make.

As far as can be collected, the Enemy had about Four Thousand Men on board, and the whole of their Force was compelled to disembark before they gained an Inch of Ground.

I intrust this Dispatch to Captain O'Connell, to whom I beg to refer you: his Services entitle him to Consideration. I am much indebted to the Zeal and Discernment of Fort-Adjutant Gualy, who was very necessary to the due Execution of my Orders.

I cannot pass unnoticed the very soldier-like Conduct of Lieutenant Wallis, of the 46th Regiment, to whom I had entrusted the Post of Cachecrow, or Scotthead; perceiving our Retreat, he spiked his Guns, destroyed his Ammunition, and immediately commenced his March to join me at Prince Rupert's, with his Detachment:—nor that of Lieutenant Shaw of the same Regiment, who acted as an Officer of Artillery, and behaved with uncommon Coolness and Judgment, whilst on the Battery, and great Presence of Mind in securing the Retreat of the additional Gunners belonging to the 46th Regiment.

On the 27th, after levying a Contribution on Roseau, the Enemy re-embarked; and hovered that Day and the next about this Post. This Morning, the the French Fleet is seen off the South End of Guadaloupe, under easy Sail.

Our Loss, you will perceive by the Returns I have the Honor to transmit, was inconsiderable, when compared with that acknowledged by the Enemy, which included several Officers of Rank, and about Three Hundred others.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

GEORGE PREVOST.

Lieutenant-General Sir William Myers, Bart.

P. S. As I find I cannot spare Captain O'Connell from the Duty of this Garrison, I must refer you to the Master of a Neutral Vessel, who has engaged to deliver this Dispatch.

(TRANSLATION.)

From the General of Division La Grange, &c. to His Excellency General Prevost, &c.

Head-Quarters at Roseau, the 5th Ventose, Year 13, February 25, 1805.

The General of Division La Grange, Grand Officer of the Legion of Honor, Inspector General of the Gendarmerie, Commander in Chief of the Troops of the Expedition to the Leeward Islands.

GENERAL,

BEFORE I commence any Military Operations against the Fort, into which it appears that you have retired, I shall fulfil a preliminary Duty, authorized and practised by civilized Nations.

You are aware, no less than myself, of the Nature of your Position, and of the entire Inutility of occasioning any further Effusion of Blood. You witnessed with Grief the melancholy Fate of the Town of Roseau; my first Endeavours on entering it were to issue Orders for stopping the Progress of the Conflagration; but, unfortunately, considerable Destruction had already taken place.

The Want of Necessaries is ever attended with the most cruel Consequences, the Evils of which can easily be calculated. This Consideration alone is more than sufficient, without Reference to the particular Circumstances in which you are placed, to induce you to accept the honorable Conditions that I am ready to grant you, and thus to preserve the interesting Inhabitants of this Colony from fresh Calamities, which are inseparable from the Occurrences of War.

I beg you, General, to make me an early Communication of your Answer; and, in the mean Time, to receive the Assurance of the high Consideration which I entertain for you.

I have the Honor to salute you,
(Signed) LA GRANGE.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

*Brimstone-Hill, Saint Kitt's,
March 8, 1805.*

SIR,

I DID myself the Honor of Writing to you on the 27th Inst., by the Mail-Boat, to say that Intelligence had been received here, on that Morning, of the Arrival of a French Force at Dominica, and the Steps I had taken to make such Circumstances known to Government.—I lost no Time in placing this Garrison in the best State to repel any Attack that might be made by the Enemy, and encreasing the Provisions to a Quantity sufficient to maintain a Garrison of Five Hundred Men for Three Months, which was, by the Exertion of the Resident Commissary, effected on the 1st Inst.

I have now to inform you, that on the Morning of the 5th Inst., a French Squadron, consisting of Five Line of Battle Ships, (one a Three Decker) Three Frigates, Two Brigs of War, and a Schooner, with (according to Accounts since received) Three Thousand Five Hundred Men on board, appeared off Nevis Point, and stood in for Bassé Terre, where the Frigates only anchored.

I did not think it consistent with the Safety of this Garrison, to divide the small Force of Regulars, Troops under my Command, and the Militia being found inadequate to give effectual Opposition, it was previously agreed with President Woodley, that Three Hundred of them should be thrown into this Garrison in the Event of the Enemy's effecting a Landing; in consequence of which, and the Enemy having landed about Five Hundred Men at Bassé Terre, he marched in here (with great Promptness) on the same Day with the above Five Hundred Men, including Seamen and Militia. The Enemy took Possession of the Town, demanding the immediate Payment of Forty Thousand Pounds Sterling, in Failure of which it should be burned. The Inhabitants with great Difficulty raised Eighteen, with which Sum they embarked, intimating an Intention of attacking this Hill, and, from the State of Preparation we were in, as well as the Zeal shewn by the Troops in this Garrison, I have every Reason to believe that the Result would have been such as you would wish. It does not appear, however, that this Squadron wish to attack where Opposition may be expected, but to plunder the Inhabitants and burn and destroy the Shipping. Six Merchant Ships, some of them very valuable, have been towed from the Anchorage in Bassé Terre, set on Fire, and allowed to drift to Sea.

I have the Honor to be, &c.
