THE following Addresses having been transmitted to the Right Honorable Lord Hawkefbury, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been by his Lordship presented to the King; which Addresses His Majefty was pleafed to receive very gracioufly:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign, WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Bailiffs, Burgeffes, and other Inhabitants of the Town of Northampton, beg Leave to approach your Majesty with increased Sentiments of Attachment, Veneration, and Gratitude

We have long acknowledged, with the warmest Sentiments of Gratitude to Almighty God, his great Mercy to these Kingdoms, in raising up a King to us, who, in the Days of Innovation and Change, has been ever found firmly and unalterably attached to those Principles, on which our Constitution is established, and to which, not only your Majesty owes your Crown, but we, your People, owe our civil and religious Liberties, our Happiness and Prosperity as a Nation. We trace in humble Admiration the Principles of Moderation and Justice, as well as Firmness, which have directed your Majelty's Conduct towards your Roman Catholic Subjects. Your Majesty's Attachment to the established Religion of your Dominions, and your Conviction of the Truth of those Principles, which at the Reformation, refcued the Inhabitants of these Realms from Papal Superstition and Religious Tyranny, have been uniformly feen to be accompanied with the most just and enlightened Principles of Christian Toleration. All the Laws which partook of a Spirit of Perfecution and Intolerance, have, in your Majesty's mild and truly Christian Reign, been repealed; and your Majesty has only refused to yield to those further Demands, which are in no Degree necessary to the more free Profession of religious Faith, and Enjoyment of religious Liberty, but which aim only at the Poffession of Power, civil or military, and which, if granted, without fatisfying or removing Discontent, would furnish only fresh Pretences and Arguments for new Claims, and fresh Encouragement to the Hopes of still further Advancement to political Power, and to religious Establishment. These, therefore, your Majesty's Wisdom has found it necessary to withstand, as the only Mode of securing the established Religion of your Dominions from those Inroads which could not be made upon it, without shaking the Title to your Majesty's Crown, without endangering the Foundation of our Liberties, and without forfeiting our best Hopes for a Continuance of those Blessings which the Almighty, in his Mercy and Bounty, has so long continued to bestow upon this Protestant Land. humbly beg Leave to affure your Majesty, with the most perfect Confidence, that your Majesty, influenced by these Principles, and acting with these Views, has established your Throne in the Hearts and Affections of your Subjects; and will continue to experience the most zealous and ardent Support from the Duty, Attachment, and Loyalty of an affectionate and grateful People; a People who, devoted to the Interests and Happiness of their Country, think themselves most strongly called upon to express their Sentiments of Loyalty and Duty to the Crown, when they behold the Sovereign who wears it, exerting his Authority in the Preservation of thole Barriers which the Wildom of our Ancestors thought necessary for the Desence of the Establishments, and the Security of the Constitution of this Kingdom.

[Delivered by the Right Honourable the Chancellor of the Exchequer and the Honourable Mr. Bouverie, Representatives in Parliament for the Town of Northampton, to the Right Honourable Lord Hawkefbury, figned by Seven Hundred Names.]
