

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Grand Jury of the County of the City of Dublin, sworn in the Court of King's Bench, for Easter Term 1807.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Grand Jury of the City of Dublin, beg Leave thus to express our Gratitude for your Majesty's late firm and successful Interference in Behalf of our happy Constitution in Church and State.

We admire and revere your Majesty's conscientious Regard to the solemn Engagement you have entered into to maintain that Constitution; to save which your glorious Ancestors were called to the Throne of this Kingdom. In your Majesty we have long beheld the united Virtues of those Ancestors, and none more conspicuously than their Fortitude and Wisdom.

From your Majesty's firm Conduct we draw the happiest Presages of future Tranquillity. No Statesmen have any longer a political Interest in exciting Irritation amongst any Clafs of their Fellow-Subjects. We trust, therefore, that such Practices will be no longer pursued; and that all your Subjects, during a Reign of many many happy Years, will prove, by an Emulation in Loyalty, how truly they deserve the Blessings of your mild and paternal Government.

H. Trevor, Foreman.

[Transmitted by His Grace the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Denbigh, assembled for the Election of a Representative in Parliament for the said County, have, with the most grateful Satisfaction, read your Majesty's Assurance that your late Parliament has been able to defray those large and necessary Expences which must be incurred without imposing upon us the immediate Burthen of additional Taxes; and it is with no less Satisfaction we learn, that your Majesty approves of the Inquiries which have been instituted into Subjects connected with public Economy; and we sincerely rejoice in the Recommendation your Majesty holds out to the new Parliament to prosecute these important Objects.

Permit us, Sire, to hope that, through your Suggestions, they will proceed yet further, and strenuously pursue those Measures so nobly entered upon by their Predecessors, which must ever demand the Gratitude of their Country, for detecting all Abuses, Frauds, and Peculations in the Public Offices, and in the Expenditure of the Public Money, which so nearly affect the Honour, Happiness, and Security of yourself and of your Subjects.

We wish not to weaken the Powers of your Majesty's Government, but to husband and enlarge its Resources, to add Strength and Dignity and public Confidence to its Operations. But we humbly hope it is not too much for us to expect, that the Money we part with cheerfully and liberally may be expended honestly and economically. Under such Impressions of Gratitude for your Majesty's paternal Concern for your People, and highly sensible of the Importance of that Unanimity which your Majesty so strongly recommends, we take Leave to assure your Majesty that our Lives and Fortunes are at your Disposal, for the Defence of the Church, of the Throne, and of the Liberties of our Country, in the Preservation of which we are assured your Majesty feels equally interested with ourselves.

Signed at the Request, and on Behalf, of the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders aforesaid, by me Simon Yorke, Sheriff.

[Transmitted by Simon Yorke, Esq.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Cumberland.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders, assembled at a numerous and respectable Meeting of the County of Cumberland, beg Leave to approach your Royal Person with the warmest Sentiments of Zeal and Duty, to express our Gratitude for your Majesty's unceasing paternal Attention to, and Watchfulness over, during the Course of a long, eventful Reign, the Peace, the Welfare, and Happiness of your whole People; but more particularly on your Majesty's late anxiously protecting our happy Constitution in Church and State, as fixed at the glorious Revolution, which so happily seated your Majesty's most illustrious Protestant Family upon the Throne of these Realms.

We also humbly beg Leave to assure your Majesty of our inexpressible Satisfaction and Happiness in tendering this Proof of our Duty to your Majesty, and in declaring our Attachment to your Majesty's Royal Family, founded on a full and confident Hope that by it will be maintained and secured to our latest Posterity, unimpaired and undiminished, that most transcendantly glorious Fabric of human Wisdom, the British Constitution, built up by, and cemented with, the Blood of our Ancestors, so sacredly left by them to our vigilant Care and Keeping.

And we further beg Leave to express our most earnest Wishes for the prosperous Continuance of your Majesty's Reign, so repeatedly distinguished as it has been by the reasonable and due Exercise of the Prerogative so wisely vested in your Majesty by the Constitution, in Protection of both our civil and religious Liberties.

And we offer up our fervent Prayers that your Majesty may long live the beloved Sovereign in the Hearts of a free, united, and a most grateful People.

John Thomlinson, Sheriff.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Lonsdale.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal Subjects, the High Steward, Bailiffs, and Burgesses of the Borough of Montgomery, humbly beg Leave to offer to your Majesty our heartfelt Gratitude for the dignified Protection which you have recently afforded to the British Constitution in Church and State, and for your unshaken Adherence to those glorious Protestant Principles, which rescued these Realms from papal Tyranny and Superstition; Principles to which we are indebted for a Sovereign who has vindicated his Claim to the Throne of this Empire, not less by