THE following Addresses having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Lord Hawkesbury, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been by his Lordship presented to the King; which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the loyal County of Brecon, humbly approach your Majesty's Throne, for the Purpose of declaring our firm Resolution to support the free Exertion of the Powers so judiciously veiled in your Person by the happy Constitution of this Country, convinced that the peculiar Blessings which we have enjoyed for a Period of near Fifty Years, have been secured to us by the due Preservation of the just Prerogative of the Crown, no less than by that strict Attention to the Subject's Liberty, which has invariably marked the equal Administration of your Majesty's Government; and fully satisfied that the same Firmness, which has hitherto exempted us from the Calamities now desolating the Continent of Europe, will preserve us still uninjured, and prevent the ill Effects of any Combination of Individuals whatever.

Sackville Gwynne, Chairman.

[Transmitted by the Duke of Beaufort.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Montgomery, (although we do not presume to offer any Opinion upon the Questions which have lately divided Parliament and the Country,) beg Leave humbly to assure your Majesty of our high Respect for your conscientious Persuasion, of the Rectitude of the Motives upon which you have acted, and of our ready Disposition to cultivate the Spirit of Union, Harmony, and Good-Will amongst all the Classes of your People, as recommended by your Majesty.

Feeling as we do the strong Conviction, that in the long and protracted Struggle in which we are engaged, our Existence as a Nation must depend upon the due Management and Economy of our Resources, we have seen with the utmost Gratitude your Majesty's Recommendation to Parliament to persist in those Inquiries, which Experience has shewn to be so necessary for the Prevention of Abuses in the public Expenditure.

Permit us further most dutifully to assure your Majesty, that the Loyalty and Affection of your Subjects remain unaltered and unalterable, upon the sure Foundation of Veneration for your Person, and Gratitude for your Virtues, of Allegiance to your Crown, and Attachment to the Constitution.

And finally, that we are resolved to submit to every Sacrifice, and to contribute every Effort which may enable your Majesty to bring to an honourable and secure Termination, the great Contest in which we are engaged.
