

ment of one hundred and seventy seamen and one hundred and thirty soldiers, laden with three hundred tons of wheat, and a quantity of military and other stores, bound to Corfa from Trieste, which port she left on the 13th of November, in company with La Uranie frigate of forty guns, and Scemplone brig of fourteen, both likewise laden with wheat and stores.

The Scemplone separated early in the chace, and the Uranie, I have to regret, effected her escape by superiority of sailing, added to the darkness of the night, and badness of the weather, as well as from the Captain of the Corceyre having carried away his fore-top-mast by press of sail, and not surrendering till his fore-top-yard was shot away, and otherwise much disabled by returning our fire for a few minutes, which obliged me to stay by him to prevent his going a shore near Brindisi, into which port I imagin the Uranie succeeded in getting, as we were within a mile and a half of it this morning at two o'clock, with the wind on shore blowing strong.

I have great pleasure in adding, that nobody was hurt belonging to this shlp, and that only three were killed, and six or seven wounded, belonging to the Corceyre; amongst the latter, the Captain slightly.

I have the Honour to be, &c.

(Signed) C. ROWLEY, Captain.

Rear-Admiral Fremantle, &c. &c. &c.

Admiralty-Office, February 4, 1812.

REAR-ADMIRAL FOLEY has transmitted to John Wilson Croker, Esq; a letter from Captain Anderson, of His Majesty's sloop Rinaldo, stating that one of the enemy's gun-brigs had been run on shore near Waldam, and that on his sending the boats of the sloop to destroy her, she was found on the beach totally unserviceable.
