

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday, May 30, to Tuesday, June 2, 1812.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor and Commonalty of the City of New Sarum, in Common Council assembled, take leave humbly to lay before your Royal Highness their unfeigned concern and indignation at the atrocious murder committed on the person of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, high in the service of His Majesty and the councils of your Royal Highness, and within the walls of Parliament.

We trust the general body of His Majesty's subjects are actuated by similar sentiments, and will strenuously exert themselves for the maintenance of the laws, and in defence of the happy constitution of this country.

Given under our common seal this 25th day of May, in the 52d year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, and in the year of Our Lord 1812.

[Presented by the Earl of Radnor, the Recorder, attended by Lord Folkstone, M. P.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of the city of Wells, deeply impressed with horror at the base and most atrocious act of assassination perpetrated on the person of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, at a moment when he was in the actual discharge of his public duties, and in consequence, as it now appears, of his faithful and conscientious attention to the public interests, humbly beg leave to express our participation in that unfeigned sorrow and regret which a catastrophe so afflicting to your Royal Highness, has excited in the breasts of all His Majesty's loyal subjects.

It affords us some consolation, under this calamity, that this most horrible crime appears to stand wholly unconnected with the violent proceedings which are now desolating various parts of the empire, and although we most deeply lament that instances have there occurred, manifesting a similar foul and sanguinary spirit, a spirit hitherto unknown in this kingdom, yet we fervently hope that a disposition so ferocious and so disgraceful to the British name, is confined to a very few individuals. We also trust that by a prudent, firm, and prompt exertion of those powers which the constitution has placed in your Royal Highness's hands, these deluded people may be speedily brought back to a sense of their duty, and that the peaceable inhabitants of those districts may be enabled to resume the undisturbed exercise of their useful occupations, and of that ingenuity and honest industry which have so eminently contributed to the national prosperity.

We beg leave to assure your Royal Highness of our determination to co-operate zealously with our fellow subjects, in aiding your Royal Highness to maintain the laws, to secure the peace, to promote the welfare, and to uphold the honour of the kingdoms intrusted to your Royal Highness's care, under whatever difficulties may occur, whether of external warfare or domestic commotion.

Wells City, May 25, 1812.

[Presented by Charles Taylor, Esq. M. P. for Wells.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the City of Edinburgh, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, to express our profound sorrow for that lamentable event which has deprived you of a Minister, who had recommended himself to your confidence and that of the country, both by the wisdom of his public measures and by the unsullied lustre of his private virtues.

It is matter of deep regret that, among the subjects of this empire, there should have been found an individual capable of a deed so atrocious as that which has deprived the world of a man whose public services were so valuable, and who in private life was so benevolent and unoffending.

But it is in so far gratifying that it was the deed only of an individual, and that the national honour is free from the broad stain which would have resulted from its being a plan concerted by numbers.

We lament that, by a crime which has been but rarely equalled among civilized men, your Royal Highness has been deprived, at this eventful period, of a confidential servant, who was qualified by his vigour to suggest the measures proper for sustaining the national character abroad, and, by his mildness, to advise the most prudent means of allaying the partial discontents which have been manifested at home.

As these discontents have arisen from temporary causes, we have no doubt that they will quickly subside; and we rely with implicit confidence on your Royal Highness's wisdom for adopting the best measures, both for maintaining the tranquillity of the empire, and for supporting its honour.

Deign to accept the assurance of the unfeigned loyalty and attachment to your person, and of the resolution cordially to support your government, of, may it please your Royal Highness, your most dutiful and devoted servants, the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the City of Edinburgh.

Signed in our name and by our appointment, and the seal of the said city is hereto affixed, at Edinburgh, this 20th day of May 1812 years.

Wm. Creech, Lord Provost, and Chief Magistrate.

[Presented by Mr. Dundas.]

WE, the Incorporated Trades of the City of Edinburgh, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, with the most sincere condolence upon the assassination of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval.

We most deeply lament, on account of his family and of the nation, this most atrocious act, so inconsistent with the manly character of Britons; yet it is some consolation to know, that the murderer acted entirely from personal malice, without any other individual being in any way implicated with him in the horrid crime.

We beg leave most humbly to assure your Royal Highness of our firm determination to maintain the internal peace of the country by our precept, our example, and by every exertion in our power; and we do most anxiously pray, that we may long be blessed with a Prince of the House of Brunswick, who may reign in the hearts of a free, a loyal, and a happy people.

Signed, in name and by appointment of the Incorporated Trades of the City of Edinburgh, by James Innes, Convener.
Edinburgh, May 25, 1812.

[Presented by Mr. Dundas.]

The humble, loyal, and dutiful Address of the Rector, Churchwardens, and Vestrymen, of the Parish of St. George, Hanover-Square, in the County of Middlesex.

WE, the Rector, Churchwardens, and Vestrymen, of the Parish of St. George, Hanover-Square, in Vestry assembled, humbly beg leave to address your Royal Highness on the recent melancholy event of the atrocious murder of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, within the walls of Parliament, which has filled us with astonishment, horror, and indignation. Permit us, Sir, to express to your Royal Highness our deep regret and sorrow for the loss of a man so eminently distinguished by his public and private virtues, and our utter detestation and abhorrence of the base crime of assassination, which is as derogatory to our nature, as it is foreign to the brave and generous character of the British nation.

Signed, by desire of the Vestry,

Robert Hodgson, A. M. Rector.

[Presented by the Reverend Robert Hodgson, Rector of St. George, Hanover-Square, attended by the Honourable Charles Finch, Churchwarden of the same Parish.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

We, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders, of the County of Surrey, impressed with every sentiment of duty and respect, beg leave most humbly to approach your Royal Highness with our heartfelt condolence on the atrocious murder of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, First Commissioner of the Treasury, and Chancellor of the Exchequer, within the walls of Parliament. Thus, by the hand of a desperate assassin, have your Royal Highness and the country been unhappily deprived of a man whose talents placed him high in public estimation, and whose private life was adorned with every Christian virtue.

The daring and unfeeling malignity with which this murder was committed, has been aggravated by the unjustifiable principle which was attempted to be set up in its defence, a principle contrary to all laws, divine as well as human.

We intreat your Royal Highness, graciously to accept our warmest assurances of the most dutiful and affectionate attachment to your Royal Highness's person and family, as well as of our unshaken determination, under all circumstances, and on all occasions, to support the due execution of the laws, and the principles of our most excellent constitution, as the surest means of maintaining inviolate the honour and dignity of the crown, as well as the security, prosperity, and happiness of all the subjects of His Majesty's empire.

Signed at the request and on behalf of the County of Surrey, at a public meeting, held at Epsom, the 25th of May 1812.

Thomas Starling Benson, Sheriff.

[Presented by the High Sheriff, the Vice-Lieutenant, the Members for the County, Earl Rothes, the Honourable Richard Howard, Sir John Frederick, Sir Thomas Sutton, Bart. Sir Lucas Pepys, Bart. Colonel Gaitskell, Major Shaw, William Kenrick, M. P. George Tritton, Esq. Sir Charles Talbot, Bart. and Sir Joseph Mawbey, Bart.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor and Corporation of the Town and Borough of Monmouth, assembled in Common Council, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness, and to express our abhorrence of the sudden and dreadful assassination of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, His Majesty's Prime Minister.

We also desire leave humbly to repeat our acknowledgments of allegiance to His Majesty's person and government.

Given under the common seal of the Coporation the 21st day of May 1812.

[Presented by Lord Charles Somerset.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses of the Borough of Doncaster, in the County of York.

WE, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses of the borough of Doncaster, in the county of York, humbly presume to approach your Royal Highness, to express the sentiments of horror and indignation excited in our minds, by the recent murder of your Royal Highness's late Prime Minister, the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval.

We feel, at the same time, some consolation in its having been proved, after the most solemn investigation, that this atrocious act was perpetrated by an individual, solely from motives of private revenge, and is wholly unconnected with those instances of outrage and disorder, which have unfortunately occurred in different parts of the kingdom.

We embrace this occasion to assure your Royal Highness of our unfeigned attachment to your Royal Highness's person and government; and of our readiness at all times to support the honour and dignity of the crown, and to preserve the constitution of our country.

Sealed with our common seal, this 22d day of May 1812.

[Presented by Viscount Milton and Mr. Wilberforce.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The humble Address of the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of Peace, and Commissioners of Supply, of the County of Renfrew, assembled at Renfrew on Monday the 11th day of May 1812.

Most Gracious Prince,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of Peace, and Commissioners of Supply, of the County of Renfrew, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with the strongest feelings of duty and attachment to your person, and of respect for your government.

While we most deeply lament the continued disposition of our venerable and beloved Sovereign, whose reign will ever be consecrated in the hearts of his subjects, by the inestimable blessings we enjoyed under him; we are penetrated with admiration of the memorable example of filial piety displayed by your Royal Highness, and are grateful to Divine Providence, that the sceptre, which his virtues adorned and strengthened, is placed in the hands of a Prince, whose zeal for the public welfare, whose ardour in the public cause, and whose attachment to his people, we feel persuaded will not be less distinguished.

We beg leave most respectfully to congratulate your Royal Highness on the late brilliant successes that have attended His Majesty's arms in Spain and Portugal; on the glorious achievements of an army, whose heroic valour, discipline, and enterprise, can only be equalled by the fame and splendid talents of their illustrious commander. The exalted sentiments of honour which your Royal Highness has manifested towards your allies, while they animate the hopes and direct the energies of a brave people struggling in a noble cause, excite our warmest admiration and esteem.

May the Almighty Ruler of all events crown with success your generous efforts, and while they dignify the page of history, may they consecrate your name, with your royal father's, among those princes, whose distinguished lot it has been to be the benefactors of mankind.

We feel the firmest confidence that, under your Royal Highness's auspicious rule, the glory and the prosperity of these kingdoms, the interests and the welfare of every description of the people committed to your charge, will ever be the governing principle of your ambition.

Signed by our Preses, at Renfrew, the 11th of May 1812,

Glasgow, Preses.

[Presented by the Earl of Eglinton.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The dutiful and loyal Address and Condolence of the Inhabitants of the Town of Bridgewater, in the County of Somerset.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WITH feelings of the deepest sorrow, we approach your Royal Highness to express our horror and indignation at the atrocious and unprovoked murder lately committed within the walls of Parliament, on the person of your Royal Highness's faithful and confidential Servant, the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval; and to condole with your Royal Highness on an event so melancholy, and, on every account, so much to be deplored.

The loss of a man so distinguished for his talents, for his patriotism, and, above all, for his religious and moral worth, must be severely felt by your Royal Highness, as it is by the nation at large; and, impressed as we are with the conviction, that he has died in the service of his country, a victim to the conscientious discharge of his duty, we cannot but applaud your gracious intention of marking the sense which is entertained by your Royal Highness of his many eminent virtues, public and private, by recommending a provision to be made for his numerous and afflicted family.

The assurance which has been given in Parliament, that this sanguinary deed has been perpetrated by the hand of a single assassin, without accomplices or abettors, has afforded us considerable satisfaction; but so many assassinations have recently occurred in other parts of the kingdom, as to excite our apprehensions, that if an effectual remedy be not speedily applied, a lasting stain will be fixed on the British name and character.

We are confident that the powers which are vested in your Royal Highness for the general safety of the empire, will be duly employed in discovering and bringing to punishment every violator of the public peace; and we beg leave to assure your Royal Highness of our cordial and zealous co-operation in any measures which may be necessary to promote an object, upon which the character and tranquillity of the country so materially depend.

We avail ourselves of this occasion, to assure your Royal Highness of our loyal and affectionate attachment to your royal father, our beloved and venerable Sovereign, to your Royal Highness, and to all the branches of your illustrious house.

William Inman, Mayor.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Merchants, Ship Owners, and principal Inhabitants of Scarborough, in the County of York.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Merchants, Ship Owners, and principal Inhabitants of Scarborough, humbly beg leave to offer our deep-felt condolences on the most atrocious murder of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

In common with all who are worthy of the name of British subjects, we are appalled with horror at the perpetration of a crime distinguished by unparalleled malignity of design and execution, and directed against the person of an exalted character, whose public and private virtues endeared him even to his political adversaries, and whose death, at the present juncture of affairs, we most deeply deplore.

We humbly avail ourselves of the present occasion to renew the assurances of our unalterable loyalty to His Majesty, and of our sincere attachment to your Royal Highness's person and government.

Signed on behalf of the Merchants, Ship Owners, and principal Inhabitants of Scarborough, this 20th day of May, in the 52d year of His Majesty's reign, Wm. Travis, Joseph Thirlwall, Bailiffs of Scarborough.

[Presented by the Right Honourable Charles Manners Sutton and the Honourable Lieutenant-General Phipps, Representatives in Parliament for that Borough.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

THE humble Address of His Majesty's loyal and faithful subjects, the Inhabitants of the ancient Borough of Gosport and Parish of Alverstoke, who would offer to your Royal Highness our unfeigned deep regret and utter abhorrence at the recent most atrocious and horrible assassination of your Royal Highness's Prime Minister, the late Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, when engaged in the duties of his high station, and entering the House of the Legislature, of which he was so distinguished a member.

Deploring as we do that so upright and conscientious a Minister, whose private character also justly entitled him to every one's esteem, should have fallen a victim to the cold-blooded revenge of an assassin, we have the satisfaction not only to observe the general execration with which throughout these realms so murderous a deed has been lamented, but also to see that justice has overtaken the wretched perpetrator of it; and we at the same time, as part of the community at large, cannot but express our equal satisfaction that a regard is cherished and measures are now taking by the Legislature to scourge that provision and settlement for the widow and family of the murdered Minister, which the country so justly owes to them.

Nor can we refrain conveying to your Royal Highness by this opportunity, the deep concern which, in common with all His Majesty's loyal subjects, we feel at the sad affliction under which it has pleased Divine Providence to lay your royal father. But yet we would indulge the confident assurance that your Royal Highness, as Chief Magistrate, will guide the reins of government, now held in your hands, for the good and happiness of the empire, and in strict adherence to those principles which placed the House of Brunswick on the throne of these realms, both impart and secure the blessings of our inestimable constitution to all ranks and degrees of the people. And when your Royal Highness shall wield the sceptre as Monarch, it is our most earnest wish that your Royal Highness may, like your venerable sire, long do so, a good and happy Sovereign, over a loyal and virtuous people.

[Presented by Mr. Chute, Mr. Heathcote, and Major-General Porter.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Bailiff, Corporation, Clergy, and other principal Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Kidderminster, impressed with the deepest abhorrence at the late atrocious assassination of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, Prime Minister of the Crown, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with sentiments of the most unfeigned sorrow and regret on the melancholy occasion; and to express to your Royal Highness our marked detestation of this deed of darkness, which, being so uncongenial with the British character, we could have hoped would never have been committed in a civilized—in a Christian country.

On an event so truly deplorable (at which human nature shudders), we, among the rest of His Majesty's loyal subjects, beg permission to assure your Royal Highness of our dutiful attachment to your person and family, and of our support in every measure which may be calculated to maintain the dignity of the crown, and the tranquillity, welfare, and happiness of the nation at large.

Signed on behalf of the meeting, this 26th day of May, in the year of Our Lord 1812.

John Newcomb, Bailiff.

[Presented by Mr. Lygon and Mr. Lyttelton.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Portreeve, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Penryn, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with expressions of sincere condolence, and to manifest our sentiments of horror and detestation at the unparalleled and atrocious murder, committed by the hand of an assassin on the person of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval.

And while we deeply deplore the melancholy circumstance which deprived the nation of a person illustrious for patriotism, virtue, and ability, we derive consolation in finding that the perpetrator of the foul deed has no partners or associates in his guilt.

We confidently trust that the prompt and rigorous measures already adopted in punishing the guilty, will speedily allay the alarm and consternation which an event, unexampled in the British annals, had excited.

We saw with unfeigned pleasure the anxiety manifested by your Royal Highness, to be enabled to make a suitable provision for the distressed family of the late lamented Minister; and were gratified at finding that the feelings of both Houses of Parliament have beat in unison.

We humbly request that your Royal Highness will accept of our warmest assurances of affectionate attachment to your royal person, and unshaken adherence to those sacred principles which seated your family on the throne of the realm; fully convinced that those principles afford the best security to the honour and dignity of the Sovereign, and the rights and interests of the people.

For and on behalf of the Aldermen, Portreeve, and inhabitants of the said Borough.

E. Hodge, sen. Mayor.

[Presented by the Mayor, Lord De Dunstanville, the Recorder, and Mr. Swann, M. P.]

To His Royal Highness GEORGE, PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common-Councilmen of the ancient Borough of Boston, in the County of Lincoln, in Common-Hall assembled, most respectfully and humbly beg leave to address your Royal Highness, and to manifest in the most lively sense possible how deeply we participate in the severe loss which your Royal Highness and the country have sustained in consequence of the assassination of the late Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, the very able and much to be lamented Prime Minister.

We cannot find terms sufficiently strong to express our abhorrence and detestation of an act so horribly atrocious: we hope and trust, however, that the alarm which that melancholy event has excited, will, in a great degree, be allayed by the belief that it is unconnected with any system of a sanguinary nature.

We entreat your Royal Highness to accept our unfeigned thanks for your patriotic conduct upon this and upon many other trying occasions.

No. 16608.

We feel anxious to assure you of our steady attachment to our most gracious and highly-revered Sovereign, to your Royal Highness's person and dignity, and to your august family.

Permit us to express, with the most respectful regard, our sincere wishes that your Royal Highness will deign to receive these strong assurances of our firmest loyalty, and of our unalterable resolution to support to the utmost of our power the crown and dignity of these realms; and also to exert our most zealous endeavours towards promoting and securing the public peace.

Given under our common seal at the Guildhall of the said Borough, the 23d day of May, in the year of our Lord 1812.

[Transmitted by the Right Hon. Sir Joseph Banks, Bart. and K. B. Recorder of Boston, and presented by Mr. Secretary Ryder.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble, dutiful, and unanimous Address, of the Magistrates, Deputy, Commissioners, and other Inhabitants, of the Town of Margate, in the County of Kent.

We, the Magistrates, Deputy, Commissioners, and other Inhabitants, of the Town of Margate, in the Isle of Thanet and County of Kent, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with expressions of unfeigned grief and indignation, at the foul and atrocious murder of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, Chancellor of His Majesty's Exchequer, basely assassinated on his way to the Commons House of Parliament, to discharge the important duties of his exalted station.

Deeply as we deplore this dreadful crime, so repugnant to the feelings of a brave and generous people, and so injurious to our national character, we humbly beg to assure your Royal Highness, that our grief is greatly augmented by the consideration of the eminent private virtues which distinguished this most excellent man, by whose death your Royal Highness has been deprived of the services of a faithful servant, the country has lost an able and patriotic Minister, and the Protestant religion one of its brightest ornaments and its most zealous defender.

By the order, and on behalf of the Meeting,
(Signed) W. Frederick Bayly, Vicar, Chairman.

Town Hall, Margate, 21st May, 1812.

[Transmitted by the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, and presented by Mr. Secretary Ryder.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

We, the Corporate Body and Inhabitants of the Borough of Bodmin, in the County of Cornwall, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with sentiments of condolence, and to express our horror and detestation of the unexampled and atrocious act of assassination committed on the person of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval.

We lament that a person so highly distinguished for talents and virtue, should, by the wanton and profligate conduct of an individual, be lost to his country. At the same time it affords us some consolation to find, that, under the recommendation of your Royal Highness, a provision has been made by Parliament for his afflicted family.

John Edyvean, Chief Magistrate, for and on the behalf of the Corporation and Inhabitants.

[Presented by Mr. Davies Giddy, accompanied by the Rev. John Pomeroy, Mayor of Bodmin, and Lord De Dunstanville, Common Clerk.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

We, his Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Justices, Bailiffs, Burgesses, and Inhabitants, of the Borough of Newcastle-under-Lyme, humbly beg leave to tender to your Royal Highness an expression of our high and just indignation at the foul and atrocious murder of the late Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, Chancellor of His Majesty's Exchequer, when proceeding to the discharge of his important public duties in the Commons House of Parliament; a deed which, whether we consider the circumstances and manner of its commission, or the talents and virtues of the lamented victim, cannot but rouse in our breasts the strongest feelings of detestation and abhorrence.

Amidst the gloom occasioned by this melancholy event, one consolation is, however, afforded, by the assurance, that an act so execrable and flagitious has proceeded wholly from individual depravity, and that the general sensation which it has excited sufficiently proves the national character (ever distinguished by generosity and humanity, and a peculiar repugnance to the odious crime of assassination) to remain untainted, and unchanged.

Allow us, Sir, to avail ourselves of this opportunity to declare to your Highness, our cordial and inviolable attachment to your Royal Highness's august house, and our firm determination to uphold and maintain the constitution and the laws.

Signed by order of the Meeting,

George Wood, Mayor.

[Presented by Mr. Macdonald and Mr. Wilbraham Bootle.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Master Cutler, the Town Collector, and Capital Church Burgess, on behalf of the respective Bodies we have the honour to represent, together with the Clergy, Gentry, Merchants, and Manufacturers of the Town of Sheffield, humbly beg permission to offer to your Royal Highness our most sincere and unfeigned condolence on the truly melancholy event of His Majesty's late Prime Minister, the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, having unhappily fallen a victim to the unprovoked vengeance of an assassin.

Our minds were petrified with horror at the recital of the diabolical deed, viewing it as an act at which human nature stands aghast, as an atrocity unheard of, and unparalleled in the annals of our country.

Firmly attached, as we are, to the person and government of our beloved Sovereign, and to his illustrious representative, and anxious to preserve our enviable constitution in church and state, we bewail with heartfelt sorrow the deplorable circumstance which has, in these eventful times, by the dreadful crime of murder, deprived the great council of the nation of those transcendent abilities, and unimpeachable integrity, which have been uniformly and conscientiously manifested for the welfare of Britain, by the late Chancellor of the Exchequer, previous and subsequent to the period when he had the distinguished honour of being called by your royal father to preside at the helm of state.

The death of the assassin, which the laws of God and man have demanded, we are well aware can make no reparation to his injured country: she has received a wound which will be long and severely felt, though, we trust, not absolutely incurable.

And that the Almighty may direct your Royal Highness in the appointment of an able and upright Minister, worthy to be the successor of so great and good a man as Mr. Perceval, is the prayer of your Royal Highness's most faithful and devoted servants.

By order of the Master, Wardens, Searchers, and Assistants of the Company of Cutlers in Hallamshire, at their Common-Hall assembled in Sheffield, this 18th day of May 1812, John Houtt, jun. Warden, in the absence of the Master Cutler.

[Presented by Viscount Milton and W. Wilberforce, Esq. M. P.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the Dominions thereunto belonging.

We, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Assistants of the Town of Shrewsbury, in Common-Council assembled, and other Inhabitants of the said Town and Liberties, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with the tribute of our sincere and unfeigned condolence on the atrocious murder of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, late First Lord Commissioner of His Majesty's Treasury, and Chancellor of the Exchequer, by the hands of an infuriate and desperate assassin, as he was proceeding to the execution of his important duties in the Commons' House of Parliament; an event which we contemplate with sentiments of the deepest indignation and abhorrence; unexampled in its circumstances, and productive of embarrassment and distress at a momentous crisis, whereby your Royal Highness and the public have been deprived of a most virtuous, faithful, and able servant; his family, of a protector and friend, most amiable and exemplary in every relation of domestic life; and society of a pattern of diffusive charity and unsullied integrity, of worth and virtue universally acknowledged and universally deplored.

We cannot neglect availing ourselves of the present opportunity of approaching your Royal Highness's person to testify our grief and concern at the tumults which have been excited in various parts of the country, to profess our resolution of employing our best endeavours to enforce, within the sphere of our action, the duty of obedience to the laws, together with a patient endurance of our present distress, till it shall please the Divine Providence to remove its pressure; and our unalterable determination to support to the utmost of our power the just authority of your Royal Highness and the crown of these realms, and to maintain, preserve, and transmit to our posterity the blessings of our unparalleled and inestimable constitution.

John Hill, Mayor.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address and Condolence of the Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Wolverhampton.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Wolverhampton, humbly approach your Royal Highness with feelings of sincere Condolence on the late flagitious assassination of the Right Hon. Spencer Perceval.

We recoil with horror at the contemplation of such an act. And it is with unspeakable affliction we behold on this melancholy occasion the manly and generous character of Englishman lost in the vile and sanguinary assassin.

The mournful termination of such a life at such a moment we consider a great national calamity; your Royal Highness has lost a firm and zealous supporter of His Majesty's government, and the people a distinguished example of public and private virtue.

We assure your Royal Highness of our unalterable attachment to His Majesty's person and government; and amidst the awful gloom which the late horrid occurrence has spread around us, we feel some relief in contemplating the wisdom of Parliament, which, by its exertions in behalf of a bereaved and disconsolate family, has gratified the wishes of a generous but afflicted people.

Signed, by desire of the meeting,

James Hordern, Chairman.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Inhabitants of the Town and Parish of Portsca.

WE, the Inhabitants of the Town and Parish of Portsca, in the County of Southampton, deeply impressed with the general sensation of grief, horror, and indignation at the unexampled and atrocious act of assassination, committed in open and avowed defiance of every moral and religious principle, on the person of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, First Commissioner of His Majesty's Treasury, and Chancellor of the Exchequer, within the walls of the honourable House of Commons, on his way to the discharge of his important public duties; a man, whose numerous virtues, benevolence of heart, and mildness of manners, commanded the love and admiration of all, beg leave, with profound respect, to express to your Royal Highness our condolence and heartfelt regret upon this most melancholy event, and the perfect satisfaction and gratitude with which we observe the gracious communication of your Royal Highness to the two houses of Parliament, to provide for a family who have been thus bereaved of a husband, father, and protector. But however painful and humiliating it may be to us as Englishmen, to reflect on a crime so repugnant to the national character, yet it is some consolation that the perpetrator of this horrid deed appears to have had no accomplice in his guilt. We beg leave, moreover, to represent that we feel the greatest detestation of the violent and turbulent proceedings which have lately disturbed the peace and good order of these realms; and particularly of the writers and advisers of the anonymous and threatening letters sent to the confidential servant of your Royal Highness, the Right Honourable Colonel M'Mahon; and to assure your Royal Highness of our steady loyalty, and our unfeigned attachment to your royal house and person, and of our firm determination to support with our lives and fortunes the due maintenance and just execution of the laws.

[Presented by Mr. Chute, Mr. Heathcote, Sir Thomas Miller, and Admiral Markham.]

To the REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Salop, deeply afflicted by the irreparable loss the nation has sustained by the horrid assassination of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness, with sentiments of our most sincere condolence, and to express the horror and indignation, which as Englishmen, we feel at the commission of so diabolical and atrocious a deed; a deed we are confident, notwithstanding the lamentable event that has thus deprived your Royal Highness and the country of one of the most upright and virtuous men and Ministers it was ever blessed with, is still as abhorrent to the national character, as it has happily been for ages past.

And we beg leave further to assure your Royal Highness of our unshaken loyalty and attachment to your Royal Highness's person and family, and determined resolution to support with our persons and property our revered Monarch, and unrivalled constitution, which have raised our country to its present exalted station.

Richard Lyster, Sheriff.

[Presented by Colonel Lyster.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Corporation, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Okehampton, in the County of Devon, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with assurances of our zeal and attachment, which, however sensibly felt at all periods, it now particularly becomes us to express at a juncture so alarming as the present.

Viewing with equal concern and abhorrence, the late assassination of a Minister of the Crown on the threshold of Parliament, we feel it incumbent on us to renew thus publicly our expressions of constitutional loyalty to your person and to your royal house, confident that by the firm, yet temperate declarations of public bodies, the hopes of the disaffected may be checked, and their designs effectually discomfited.

[Presented by Mr. Savile, M. P.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address and Condolence of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Town Clerk, Brethren, and Capital Burgesses, of the Borough of Derby, in the County of Derby, in Common Council assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Town Clerk, Brethren, and Capital Burgesses, of the Borough of Derby, in the County of Derby, in Common Council assembled, impressed with deep sentiments of horror and detestation of the atrocious act committed, by the assassination of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, in the exercise of the important duties of his high official station, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness to offer our sincere condolence on the melancholy occasion.

But, greatly as we deplore the base and fatal act, increased, if possible, in enormity from the private virtues and inoffensive manners of the unfortunate victim, it is some consolation to find, that it was the effect of individual malignity, and not of a sanguinary system, repugnant to the feelings of a generous and enlightened nation.

We also beg leave to assure your Royal Highness of our steady loyalty and unfeigned attachment to your royal house and person, and of our resolution to support the constitution of these realms.

Given under the common seal of the Borough of Derby, the 23d day of May 1812;

Tho. Haden, Mayor.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The humble Address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of the County of Hereford.

WE, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, humbly desire to approach the throne, to express to your Royal Highness the sentiments of grief, horror, and indignation excited in our minds by the atrocious murder of your Royal Highness's late Prime Minister, the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval; a crime which must stamp a lasting stigma upon the national character, unless effaced by a general expression of the public detestation and abhorrence.

In the midst of the universal gloom and consternation which this horrid outrage has spread over the country, we derive some consolation from the reflection that the vile assassin had no partner or associate in his guilt.

Permit us to assure your Royal Highness, that we have observed with sincere satisfaction, your Royal Highness's gracious communication to the two Houses of Parliament upon this melancholy occasion; and we beg to express our cordial approbation of the measures they have adopted in consequence thereof.

Allow us to avail ourselves of this opportunity of expressing our inviolable attachment to your Royal Highness's house and person, and our determination to persevere in the strenuous support of the constitution of these realms.

By desire of the meeting,
Thomas Jay, Sheriff, Chairman.

Presented by Sir J. G. Cotterell and Lieutenant-Colonel Foley.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Sheriff, and Common Council of Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Sheriff, and Common Council of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, in Common Council assembled, humbly presume to condole with your Royal Highness upon the assassination of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, a tried and faithful servant of the Crown, and whose public and private virtues will long be remembered and revered by his grateful country: and we cannot sufficiently admire the promptness of your Highness's benevolence in soothing the sorrows of Mr. Perceval's numerous and afflicted family; by a most gracious message to both Houses of Parliament.

Impressed with feelings of indignation and abhorrence at this foul and atrocious murder, and contemplating with great anxiety the many outrageous crimes which have recently been committed in various parts of this kingdom, by persons confederating themselves together for the most destructive purposes, we humbly beg leave to offer to your Royal Highness our solemn pledge of inviolable attachment to your royal person and family, and to assure your Royal Highness that we are resolved to enforce, to the utmost of our power, a due submission to the laws of our country, and to encourage and promote through all classes of the community a dutiful obedience to your Royal Highness's government.

Given under the common seal of our Corporation, this 20th day of May 1812,

George Forster, Mayor

BY virtue of the authority in me vested, and in conformity with an ordinance of 23d May, and an edict of the 12th August 1800, I do hereby make known that, in compliance with a petition delivered in, I have permitted and granted that Messrs. S. H. C. Stakemann, C. D. Eckard, and G. H. Pencke, as Executors to the will of the deceased J. J. Faudel, Esq. may summon, by proclama, sub pœna præclusi et perpetui silentii, all the known and unknown Creditors of the deceased J. J. Faudel, Esq. and of the firm Faudel and Stakemann, residing in European or American territories, to come forward with their demands, and to enter and prove their claims, in person, or by their Attornies, before the said Executors, previous to the expiration of the period hereinafter limited, that is to say, within one year and six weeks from the period when this proclama shall have been re-recorded in the Upper Courts of the islands of St. Croix, St. Thomas, and St. John, and published three times consecutively in the London Gazette; and all such known or unknown Creditors as reside in any of the West India islands or colonies, shall come forward with their claims, in person or by their attorneys, before the said Executors, within three months from the date of this proclama being recorded in the Superior and Inferior Courts of the islands of St. Croix, St. Thomas, and St. John, and notice thereof being published in the St. Croix and St. Thomas Gazettes three times consecutively; and the aforesaid Executors shall further be bound to cause this grant to be produced in the Royal and the Loan Commissions Book-keeper's Offices to the said islands, and procure a certificate of this being complied with; in failure of which, this proclama shall not be valid against any claims or prerogatives of His Majesty; and all persons concerned are to take notice thereof, and to conduct themselves accordingly.

Given under my Hand and Seal, Government House, Saint Thomas, the 8th of April 1812.

By His Excellency's command,
(Signed) C. G. FLEISCHER, Secretary to Government.

In conformity with the foregoing permission, and the notice therein stipulated, all and every one who suppose to have any claim against the estate of J. J. Faudel, deceased, or the late firm of Faudel and Stakemann, are summoned, sub poena præclusi et perpetui silentii, to come forward with their demands, and prove the same before the undersigned Executors, in the course of the time above expressed.—The sessions in the said dealing will be held in the store No. 35 A, Queen-Street, every second and fourth Monday, between Ten and Twelve o'Clock, A. M. until this proclama, as far as it relates to the West India islands, will expire; after which period, they will be held every first Monday only at the sub-months, in the same place and at the same time.—St. Thomas, 15th April 1812.

BERBICE.

From the Marshal's Office.—Sale by Execution.

Whereas I, the undersigned Marshal, by virtue of an appointment of execution, granted by the Honourable Court of Civil Justice of this Colony, on the 25th day of April last past, at the instance of William McKenzie and Company, Merchants, of Demerary, against William Scott, proprietor of the cotton estate called Williams Burgh, situate on the Correntine Coast of this colony, have taken by execution on the 4th day of May last past, the said plantation Williams Burgh, and all the slaves and other appurtenances thereunto appertaining;

Be it therefore known, that I, the said Marshal, do intend to sell and dispose of, by execution sale, the said estate Williams Burgh, cum annexis, agreeably to an inventory made thereof (to which reference may be had at my Office), on a certain day in the month of July 1808 (the precise day to be hereafter appointed), conformably to the new regulations of the aforesaid Honourable Court, hearing date 7th September and 8th October 1804, issued with respect to execution sales of estates in this colony; from the proceeds of which, the amount of the debt, with interest and costs; as specified in the warrant, will be paid and satisfied.

Of this Marshal's notice, all persons are to regulate themselves accordingly, thus advertised and affixed at the usual places, on the 21st day of May 1807.

K. FRÄNCKEN, Marshal.
