

our venerable and beloved monarch and his family ; and we beg to assure your Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, that no portion of the inhabitants of the Principality are more loyally attached to your person, or more ready and zealous to perform their duty to their King and their country, than the freeholders of the County of Radnor.

We implore the Almighty to grant your Royal Highness all prosperity.

On behalf of the County Meeting,
Thos. Grove, jun. Sheriff.

[Presented by Walter Wilkins, Esq. Member for the County of Radnor, Sir John Hen. Walsh, Bart. Sir Harford Jones Bart. and the Reverend John Harley.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Inhabitants of the Town and County of the Town of Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Inhabitants of the Town and County of the Town of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, deeply lamenting the death of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval, inflicted by the hand of a desperate assassin, within the walls of the House of Commons, humbly beg permission to condole with your Royal Highness on this calamitous event.

Highly revering the memory of the deceased Minister, we cannot but take a lively interest in the future welfare of his numerous family ; and we look forward with much consolation to the provision which, we trust, they will soon receive from the liberality of Parliament, under the auspices of your Royal Highness's gracious recommendation.

We have observed, with very painful sensations, the spirit of insubordination that prevails in many parts of the kingdom, and which, in some districts, has ended in acts of the most criminal violence ; but, above all, we regard with horror and detestation the atrocious attempts of those execrable traitors who have dared to threaten the life of your Royal Highness, by anonymous letters of the most malignant tendency : and we are anxious to approach your Royal Highness with our sincerest professions of dutiful attachment and loyalty, and to assure your Royal Highness, that no exertions shall be wanting on our part which may contribute to the defence and safety of your royal person, and the constitutional support of the laws and government of our country.

[Presented by Sir Matthew White Ridley and Mr. Brandling ]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

WE, the Nobility, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders, of the County of Montgomery, humbly beg leave to tender to your Royal Highness those feelings of horror and detestation which we feel, in common with the rest of His Majesty's loyal subjects, on the late assassination of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval.

Deploring, as we ever must, the loss of so upright a statesman, and so valuable a member of society, we have no language to convey to your Royal Highness those feelings of abhorrence, which have been excited by the manner in which that loss has been occasioned. We take, however, to ourselves the only consolation which is left us, that the national character has in no degree been implicated in the perpetration of the crime ; but that it has been committed from a horrid motive of revenge for fancied injuries, in no ways originating in the British Government.

We beg leave on this occasion, further to assure your Royal Highness of our firm attachment to our Sovereign, our Prince, and our Constitution ; and to express our confidence, that in the maintenance of the laws and the constitution, the County of Montgomery will ever be forward to extend its support.

Signed, on behalf of the Nobility, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders, of the County of Montgomery, Geo. Meares, High Sheriff.

[Presented by C. W. W. Wynn, Esq. M. P. for the County, accompanied by Sir W. W. Wynn, Bart. M. P. and Sir Edward Lloyd, M. P.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address and Condolence of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Northampton, at a Meeting called by the High Sheriff, on Tuesday the 26th day of May 1812.

WE, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Northampton, humbly beg leave to offer our condolence to your Royal Highness, and to express our horror and detestation of the atrocious murder of the Right Honourable Spencer Perceval.

Odious as the act of assassination must be, in every conceivable case, to the brave and generous feelings of Britons—the high station, the amiable and unoffending character of the person, the very place where he fell in the discharge of his important public duties, beyond measure aggravate and increase our indignation at an offence which, by its unexampled atrocity, has cast a stain on the national character. The only consolation we have arises from the reflection, that this horrible deed was the single act of an unconnected individual ; and the conviction that it must be viewed, by all ranks of His Majesty's subjects, with sentiments of disgust and execration, calculated to prevent the recurrence of so foul an act.

In this county, where he was personally known and universally beloved, we feel ourselves best qualified and peculiarly called upon to bear an early testimony to the numberless private and public virtues, and the unquestioned talents, integrity, and patriotism of this eminent statesman, whose conciliating spirit has left him no personal enemy, even among his political opponents ; and whose loss as an able and an upright man, untimely snatched from his family, his friends, and his country, all parties concur in deploring.

We desire to express our satisfaction that a provision has been made for the family of your

