Whitehall, August 12, 1812.

WHereas it hath been humbly represented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, that about one o'clock in the morning of the 31st July last, two large hay ricks, the property of Richard Laycock, of Islington, in the county of Middlesex, were discovered to be on fire; and that there is every reason to believe the same were wilfully and maliciously set on fire by some evil disposed person or persons unknown;

His Royal Highness, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the said felony, is hereby pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to promise His Majesty's most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person who actually set fire to the said hay ricks) who shall discover his or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

SIDMOUTH.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of TWO HUNDRED GUINEAS is hereby offered to any person making such discovery as aforesaid (except as is before excepted), to be paid on the conviction of any one or more of the offenders, by the said Richard Laycock.
