Lord Chamberlain's Office, June 22, 1813.

NOTICE is hereby given, that His Royal Highness the Prince Regent will hold a Levee at Carlton-House, on Thursday next the 24th instant, at one o'clock.

Foreign-Office, June 22, 1813.

DISPACHES, of which the following are copies and extracts, have been received by Viscount Castlereagh, from General Lord Viscount Cathcart, K. T. and Lieutenant-General Sir Charles Stewart, K. B. dated the 26th and 31st May, and 1st June 1813.

*Head-Quarters, Jauer,
May 26, 1813.*

MY LORD,

AN opportunity offering for England, I avail myself of it to acquaint your Lordship that the enemy has neither followed the rear guard of the Allies with vigour nor success. The corps of Generals Barclay de Tolly, Blücher, York, and Kleist have moved on Liegnitz; those of Count Wittgenstein and General Milaradovitch in the direction of this place; but the latter has his advanced posts on the Bober River; the enemy occupying Lowenburgh.

The Allied Army appear moving in the direction of Schweidnitz, thus having communication by Czenstochau with the Vistula, and being enabled from its immediate position to take every favourable advantage of whatever may occur.

Considerable reinforcements are arriving daily.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) CHARLES STEWART,
Lieutenant-General.

Viscount Castlereagh, &c. &c.

*Head-Quarters, Schweidnitz,
May 31, 1813.*

MY LORD,

THE Allied Army has continued to retreat on Breslau and Schweidnitz; the Imperial headquarters removed from Jauer to Striegaw on the 27th, and on the 28th to this place.

Count Wittgenstein having resigned the command of the Allied Armies, which he held after Marshal Kutusoff's death, until definitive arrangements were made, General Barclay de Tolly has been appointed to the same by His Imperial Majesty; Count Wittgenstein will now command the Russians, and a new dislocation will take place: General Blücher is to command all the Prussians. General Milaradovitch has, for the present, (being indisposed) given up his command to Count Pahlin.

It is with much satisfaction I acquaint your Lordship, that the corps under the orders of General Blücher has had a most brilliant affair, with their cavalry, against the division of General Maison, debouching from Haynau. From the details I have received of this action, it appears it should be justly celebrated as one of the most distinguished cavalry attacks, against solid squares of infantry, that has been known in this war. The Prussian cavalry were dexterously concealed behind favourable ground to accomplish their object. The impetuosity to attack was so great, that the signal was given before the enemy were sufficiently advanced, and the result was not so decisive as it otherwise would have been; but twelve pieces of cannon and thirteen hundred prisoners fell into the hands of the Allies. I refer your Lordship for more details to the official account, which I have the honour to inclose.
