Lord Chamberlain's-Office, July 23, 1814.

NOTICE is hereby given, that His Royal Highness the Prince Regent will hold a Levee at Carlton-House, on Thursday next the 28th instant, at two o'clock.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 30th of May 1814,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

IT is this day ordered by His Royal Highness the Prince Regent in Council, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, that the prohibition, under the Order in Council of the twenty-first of January last, against the exportation of sheet copper, be, and the said prohibition is, hereby taken off. And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, and the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

Jas. Buller.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most faithful and loyal subjects, the Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Salop, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with our sincere congratulations upon the termination of the arduous struggle in which this nation has been so long engaged. We beg leave to express our high sense of the skill and valour with which victory was sought, and of the wise and moderate counsels by which it has been established. However little it may become us to do more than acknowledge the blessings of that peace which your Royal Highness in your wisdom has concluded, we cannot refrain from expressing our satisfaction at that article in the treaty, by which your Royal Highness has caused the injustice of the slave-trade to be recorded, nor our concern to find that France is unwilling to admit for the present, the legitimate inference from that principle. We have seen also with satisfaction the impression which this question of common feeling has made upon the people and Parliament of these kingdoms, and we humbly beg leave to offer to your Royal Highness our grateful acknowledgments for the assurances you have condescended to give of your Royal Highness's unremitting care to prosecute this admitted principle to its just conclusion. We cannot but admire the fresh attestation to the soundness of that Constitution which has, by God's blessing, so long flourished under the auspicious sway of the House of Brunswick, in those high energies with which your Royal Highness has defeated foreign nations, whilst you conferred the surest protection upon your own, nor amidst those heroes by whom your Royal Highness's commands have been executed, can we excuse ourselves from exulting in the well earned honours your Royal Highness has been graciously pleased to confer upon a native of this county, in the person of Lord Hill.

That your Royal Highness may long witness the blessings of peace and the prosperity of the realms committed to your care, is the fervent wish of your Royal Highness's ever dutiful subjects.

Signed on behalf of the County Meeting,

Wm. Cludde, Sheriff.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of the Borough and Parish of Buckingham (convened on the summons of the Bailiff), beg leave to congratulate your Royal Highness on the late favourable change of affairs, and the happy return of peace to Europe, after the most unprincipled and destructive war that ever desolated the civilized world.

This memorable event may chiefly be attributed, under Providence, to the wisdom and firmness of His Majesty's councils, which, at a time when nearly the whole of Europe lay prostrate at the feet of one ambitious tyrant, enabled Britain to stand forth, single and unaided, the protector of the oppressed, and the liberator of the enslaved.

We cannot approach your Royal Highness, under these happy circumstances, without humbly expressing our unbounded gratitude to your Royal Highness for having so closely followed the example of your illustrious father. By pursuing that course, in which our beloved Sovereign had so long and arduously contended, your Royal Highness, under the favour of a kind and over-ruling Providence, has crowned the designs of His Majesty with success, and the efforts of his people with victory and peace. We cannot but wish, while we lament the inefficacy of our wishes, that the father of his people could now receive the thankful congratulations of his children. We know how he would share in our joy; how he, who bore so large a portion of our fatigue, would delight in our repose; our minds rejoice even in this faint contemplation of him, who, having witnessed the noble self-denial and perseverance of his country in her conflict, would at once have recommended and applauded the moderation of her triumph. For this moderation, which holds forth the surer promise of lasting tranquillity, your Royal Highness challenges our warmest praise, particularly at a time when we are giving utterance to our gratitude for your Royal Highness's perseverance in that active system of policy and wisdom, which has wrought so glorious a consummation as well for Britain as the whole of Europe.

Britain, after a struggle the most vigorous, of more than twenty years continuance, has been raised to a height of prosperity unparalleled amongst the nations of the world. Her naval fame stands unrivalled; her armies are victorious over the chief legions and captains of the age; and her honour remains unsullied. But beside these just calls on our gratitude, we are happy in congratulating your Royal Highness on the internal prospect of our country. Although our coasts and villages have so long been familiar with the ensigns of war, and our eyes ceased to be strangers to the emblems of military power, the moral and religious character of our country has acquired new vigour and a higher tone; and peace, revisiting her ancient abodes, will find, that amid all the gloom and perils of the awful trial, the true principles of civil liberty have continued unbroken and inviolate.

For Europe also, and in her for the world itself, this glorious consummation, for which we are so highly indebted to your Royal Highness, has wrought a happy liberation from the most galling tyranny. For some wise purposes of Providence, servitude seems to have been the temporary need of the Continent. England was preserved, and in her magnanimity stood forth the ready Ally of all who chose to vindicate their liberty. We now again behold what we had almost despaired of seeing realised, that happy equilibrium restored among the Powers of Europe, which our greatest and most enlightened Statesmen have held necessary to the tranquillity and social welfare of the world.

That your Royal Highness may enjoy the gratitude and affection of a free, united, and happy people to the latest period of your life, is our most ardent prayer.

Signed by order, and on behalf of the Meeting,
John Bartlett, Chairman.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

May it please Your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects the Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of the County of Huntingdon, beg leave to approach the throne, that we may express to your Royal Highness, our sentiments on the termination of those various and extensive evils, which have for so many years convulsed and desolated the continent of Europe, by the late happy restoration of a long wished for peace.

In approaching your Royal Highness at this auspicious moment, we cannot refrain from expressing the satisfaction with which we reflect upon the uniform perseverance manifested by all descriptions of His Majesty's subjects, during every period of the late arduous and protracted struggle, against the greatest military despotism which ever assailed the independence of modern Europe.

We shall be always ready to promote to the utmost of our power, your Royal Highness's endeavours to maintain that balance of power upon the continent of Europe, which is so essential to the welfare and security of these realms.

In thus approaching your Royal Highness, to express our sentiments of sincere gratitude, for the blessings of peace, restored by your Royal Highness, under Divine Providence, to the subjects of these happy realms, we cannot forbear entreating your Royal Highness to extend to the unfortunate nations of Africa the beneficial effects of your powerful influence with the nations of Europe, in procuring at the approaching congress, an universal and as speedy as possible, abolition of that nefarious traffic in man, which has so long kept the ill-fated population of that country in degraded barbarism and unparalleled misery.

Signed in the name and on the behalf of the Meeting,
J. Page, Sheriff.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Shrewsbury, humbly beg leave to lay before your Royal Highness our warm and sincere congratulations on the restoration of peace, and on the re-establishment of regular government and tranquillity throughout Europe.

And whilst we justly pride ourselves on the skill and valour displayed by His Majesty's forces during this long and arduous contest, we beg permission to express to your Royal Highness our high sense of those wise and vigorous counsels which have so essentially contributed to the accomplishment of such glorious results, and our satisfaction at the moderation of your Royal Highness and His Majesty's illustrious Allies in disregarding, in the terms of peace, all view of exclusive aggrandisement, and looking only to one object—the tranquillity and happiness of the world. Amongst those heroes who have distinguished themselves in the field, it is with satisfaction and pride we see enrolled the name of our late Representative in Parliament, Lord Hill, and we cannot refrain from exulting in the honours which your Royal Highness hath been graciously pleased to confer on our gallant countryman.

With great humility, we also beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with our expressions of gratitude for that article of the peace which evinces the desire of your Royal Highness to put an end throughout Europe to the slave trade (however we lament the concessions it hath made for its limited continuance), and for the gracious assurances your Royal Highness hath since given of continuing those exertions to effect the total abolition of a traffic viewed with abhorrence by this nation.

That your Royal Highness may long enjoy the blessings of the peace which you have thus established, and long reign in the hearts of a free, happy, and united people, is the prayer of your Royal Highness's most faithful, dutiful, and devoted servants.

Signed at the desire of the Meeting,

Wm. Coupland, Mayor of Shrewsbury.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Convener, Deacons, and whole Incorporated Trades of the City of Aberdeen.

May it please your Royal Highness,

ACTUATED by the same spirit of affection and loyalty towards His Majesty's person and government, of profound respect for your Royal Highness, and of zeal for the glory and happiness of the United Kingdom, we presume, along with other classes of His Majesty's subjects, to present to your Royal Highness our most sincere congratulations on the successful termination of a war unexampled in duration, bloodshed, and expence, in which Providence had permitted us to be engaged.

When, on a former occasion, we exercised our privilege of addressing the Sovereign, the enemy had become so formidable by the subjugation of almost all the States of Europe, that an actual invasion of our dear country was seriously apprehended, and we then, as in duty bound, voluntarily made offer of our services as soldiers for its defence. But, by the blessing of Divine Providence, what a happy change has now taken place, from the wisdom of His Majesty's councils, the spirit and gallantry of our brave fleets and armies, and the zealous cooperation of our faithful Allies. Instead of our own, the native country of the enemy has been successfully invaded, the former monarchy restored, the usurper himself dethroned, and all his short-lived triumphs blasted and overthrown by one mighty effort of confederated nations.

We submitted, without murmuring, to the severe burdens necessarily imposed upon us during the war, and as the just reward of all our sufferings, have now only to rejoice in their alleviation, and in the fair prospect presented to us of enjoying the blessings of peace, plenty, and prosperity, under the mild and paternal government of His Majesty, and his royal successors, for many years to come.

Signed, in name, and by appointment of the whole Incorporated Trades of the City of Aberdeen, by William Douglas, Convener.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, the Noblemen and Gentlemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and other Heritors of the County of Fife, at a General Meeting assembled, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with the most respectful and true attachment, to tender our sincere and heartfelt congratulations on the late glorious and unexampled events, which promise a happy termination to the troubles of Europe.

That tyranny has been annihilated, and that Europe is relieved from the destructive power of insatiable ambition, is matter of high exultation; but when we consider that to the wise and energetic measures adopted by our beloved Monarch and his Ministers early in the convulsive struggles of Europe, and so firmly followed up by your Royal Highness, are owing the happy results we are this day met to celebrate, we want words to express our triumphant feelings or the obligations we owe to your Royal Highness for your unshaken firmness and perseverance in that line of policy which, having saved Britain from the anarchy which desolated the rest of Europe, has raised the British name to a proud pre-eminence, and has restored Sovereigns to their ancient hereditary dominions.

That a lasting peace may be the reward of the many great and important victories achieved by the gallantry and bravery of our fleets and armies, and that your Royal Highness may ever enjoy the love and confidence of a free and loyal people, is our earnest and most fervent prayer.

Signed in our name, presence, and by appointment,
Kellie, Preses.

Copy of a Letter from Captain Hillyar, of His Majesty's Ship Phœbe, to John Wilson Croker, Esq. dated in Valparaiso-Bay, March 30, 1814.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to acquaint you, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, that a little past three o'clock on the afternoon of the 28th instant, after nearly five months anxious search, and six weeks still more anxious look-out for the Essex and her companion*, to quit the port of Valparaiso, we saw the former under weigh, and immediately, accompanied by the Cherub, made sail to close with her: on rounding the outer point of the Bay, and hauling her wind for the purpose of endeavouring to weather us, and escape, she lost her main topmast, and afterwards, not succeeding in an effort to regain the limits of the port, bore up, and anchored so near the shore (a few miles to the leeward of it), as to preclude the possibility of passing a-head of her without risk to His Majesty's ships. As we drew near, my intention of going close under her stern was frustrated by the ship breaking off, and from the wind blowing extremely fresh, our first fire, commencing a little past four, and continuing about ten minutes, produced no visible effect. Our second, a few random shot only, from having increased our distance by wearing, was not apparently more successful, and having lost the use of our mainsail, jib, and mainstay, appearances were a little inauspicious: on standing again towards her, I signified my intention of anchoring, for which we were not ready before, with springs, to Captain Tucker, directing him to keep under weigh, and take a convenient station for annoying our opponent. On closing the Essex, at thirty-five minutes past five, the firing recommenced, and before I gained my intended position, her cable was cut, and a serious conflict ensued; the guns of His Majesty's ship gradually becoming more destructive, and her crew if possible more animated, which lasted until twenty minutes past six; when it pleased the Almighty Disposer of Events to bless the efforts of my gallant companions, and my personal, very humble one, with victory. My friend Captain Tucker, an officer worthy of their Lordships' best attentions, was severely wounded at the commencement of the action, but remained on deck until it terminated, using every exertion against the baffling winds and occasional calms which followed the heavy firing, to close near the enemy; he informs me that his officers and crew, of whose loyalty, zeal, and discipline, I entertain the highest opinion, conducted themselves to his satisfaction.

I have to lament the death of four of my brave companions, and one of his; with real sorrow I add, that my First Lieutenant, Ingrain, is among the number; he fell early, is a great loss to His Majesty's service; the many manly tears which I

* The following is an extract of another letter from Captain Hillyar to Mr. Croker, dated off Valparaiso, the 28th February:

"The Essex carries forty thirty-two pound carronades and six long guns, twelve-pounders; about three hundred and twenty or thirty men; the corvette twenty guns."

observed this morning, while performing the last mournful duty at his funeral on shore, more fully evinced the respect and affection of his afflicted companions, than any eulogium my pen is equal to. Our lists of wounded are small, and there is only one for whom I am under anxiety. The conduct of my officers and crew, without an individual exception that has come to my knowledge, before, during, and after the battle, was such as become good and loyal subjects, zealous for the honour of their much loved, though distant King and country.

The defence of the Essex, taking into consideration our superiority of force, the very discouraging circumstance of her having lost her main topmast, and being twice on fire, did honour to her brave defenders, and most fully evinced the courage of Captain Porter, and those under his command. Her colours were not struck until the loss in killed and wounded was so awfully great, her shattered condition so seriously bad, as to render further resistance unavailing.

I was much hurt on hearing that her men had been encouraged, when the result of the action was evidently decided, some to take to their boats, and others to swim on shore; many were drowned in the attempt; sixteen were saved by the exertions of my people, and others, I believe between thirty and forty, effected their landing. I informed Captain Porter, that I considered the latter, in point of honour, as my prisoners; he said the encouragement was given when the ship was in danger from fire, and I have not pressed the point. The Essex is completely stored and provisioned for at least six months, and although much injured in her upper works, masts and rigging, is not in such a state as to give the slightest cause of alarm, respecting her being able to perform a voyage to Europe with perfect safety; our main and mizen-masts and main-yard, are rather seriously wounded, these, with a few shot holes between wind and water, which we can get at without lightening, and a loss of canvas and cordage, which we can partly replace from our well stored prize, are the extent of the injuries His Majesty's ship has sustained.

I feel it a pleasant duty to recommend to their Lordships notice, my now Senior Lieutenant, Pearson, and Messrs. Allen, Gardner, Porter, and Daw, Midshipmen: I should do very great injustice to Mr. George O'Brien, the mate of the Emily, merchantman, who joined a boats crew of nine in the harbour, and pushed for the ship the moment he saw her likely to come to action, were I to omit recommending him to their Lordships; his conduct, with that of Mr. N. Murphy, Master of the English brig Good Friends, were such as to entitle them both to my lasting regard, and prove that they were ever ready to hazard their lives in their country's honourable cause. They came on board when the attempt was attended with great risk, and both their boats were swamped. I have before informed their Lordships, that Mr. O'Brien was once a Lieutenant in His Majesty's service (may now add, that youthful indiscretions appear to have given place to great correctness of conduct), and as he has proved his laudable zeal for its honour, I think, if restored, he will be found one of its greatest ornaments. I enclose returns of killed and wounded. And if conceived to have trespassed on their Lordships time by this very long letter, hope it will kindly be ascribed to the right cause—an earnest wish that merit may meet its due reward.

I have the honour to be, &c.

JAMES HILLYAR.

P. S. There has not been found a ships book or paper of any description (charts excepted), on board the Essex, or any document relative to the number serving in her previous to the action. Captain Porter informs me, that he had upwards of two hundred and sixty victualled; our prisoners, including forty two wounded, amount to one hundred and sixty one; twenty three were found dead on her decks, three wounded were taken away by Captain Downes of the Essex, in a few minutes before the colours were struck, and I believe twenty or thirty reached the shore; the remainder were killed or drowned.

Admiralty-Office, July 23, 1814.

VICE-ADMIRAL Sir Alexander Cochrane has transmitted to John Wilson Croker, Esq. a letter from the Honourable Captain Capel, of His Majesty's ship La Hogue, with one from Captain Coote, of His Majesty's sloop Borer, reporting the successful result of an attack made on the 8th of April, upon the vessels lying in the Connecticut River, by a detachment of seamen and marines from the ships named in the margin*, under the direction of Captain Coote.

The boats proceeded up the river in the night of the 7th, and arrived at Pettipague Point early in the morning of the 8th, where, after a slight opposition from some militia, they destroyed all the vessels afloat or on the stocks within three miles of the place (an account of which was included in the list of vessels taken or destroyed, inserted in the Gazette of the 12th instant), twenty-seven in number, their united burthen exceeding five thousand tons, and three of them large privateers, completely equipped and ready to put to sea. In addition to which were destroyed a number of boats, and a large quantity of naval stores.

Having completed the service, the detachments re-embarked in the boats with the most perfect order and regularity, and after maintaining (as admitted in the American accounts of this affair) the most unexceptionable conduct towards the inhabitants.

The enemy had in the mean time collected a considerable force of troops and militia on the banks of the river, to prevent the return of the boats; and the American commanding officer sent a letter to Captain Coote, summoning him to surrender, to which he returned a verbal answer, expressing surprize at such a summons, and setting the enemy's power to detain him at defiance.

It was accordingly determined to wait until dark before the retreat should be commenced; and the boats then dropping down the river with the stream (without rowing), succeeded in passing the enemy's troops, batteries and armed boats, with the loss of only two men killed and two wounded, notwithstanding a brisk fire kept up on both sides of the river, and returned in triumph to their ships.

The Vice-Admiral, as well as Captain Capel, bestows the highest encomiums on Captain Coote, and all the officers and men employed under him, for the steady valour and great good conduct displayed in the performance, with so small a loss, of service so injurious to the enemy.

Admiralty-Office, July 23, 1814.

REAR-ADMIRAL Griffith has transmitted to John Wilson Croker, Esq. a letter from Captain Pym, of His Majesty's ship Niemen, dated off the River Delaware, the 25th May, stating that, on the 23d, the boats of that ship, under the directions of Lieutenant Tindal, cut out from Little Egg Harbour, in a very gallant manner, three American letter of marque schooners, the Quiz, pierced for fourteen guns, and the Clara and Model, each pierced for twelve.

Four men in the boats were wounded, but were doing well.

And His Royal Highness has been further pleased to command, that the said royal concession and declaration be registered, together with the relative documents, in His Majesty's College of Arms.

Whitehall, July 8, 1814.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, upon the humble petition of the Right Honourable Edward Lord Thurlow, representing to His Majesty, that his Lordship's grandmother, Elizabeth Thurlow, wife of the Reverend Thomas Thurlow, was the only surviving sister and heir of Robert Smith, of Ashfield, in the county of Suffolk, Gent. and the lineal descendant and sole heir general of Richard Hovell, who was an Esquire of the Body to King Henry the Fifth, and died in the third year of King Henry the Sixth, possessed of divers lands in Rickinghale, Stowe Langtoft, Badwell Ashe, Walsbam in the Willows, and Ashfield, in the county of Suffolk, at which latter place the elder male line of his descendants continued to reside in regular succession down to the abovementioned Robert Smith, having, however, in the mean time (in or about the reign of Queen Elizabeth) added the surname of Smith to that of Hovell, and called and written themselves for some generations by the name of Hovell alias Smith; that the abovementioned Robert Smith; previous to his marriage with Anne, the daughter and coheir of Robert Torkington, of Brettenham, in the said county of Suffolk, appears to have dropt the name of Hovell, for in the marriage articles, bearing date the 1st December 1701, he signs himself Robert Smith only, and from and after that marriage he and his issue were called and known by the name of Smith only, although an estate in Ashfield, called the Lea, which was settled by the said marriage articles upon the issue of the said marriage, and which is now in his Lordship's possession, had been bequeathed to him, the said Robert Smith, by his father, under the description and by the name of Robert Hovell alias Smith, and although it can be proved by pedigrees recorded in the College of Arms, and by other authentic evidence, that the true antient name of the family was Hovell, has been pleased to give and grant unto his Lordship His Majesty's royal licence and authority, that he may, out of respectful regard to the memory of his said grandmother, whose representative and heir male he is, and an anxious desire of reviving the name of so respectable and antient a family, assume and take the surname of Hovell in addition to and before his paternal name of Thurlow, and bear the arms of Hovell quarterly with those of Thurlow; such arms being first duly exemplified according to the laws of arms, and recorded in the Heralds' Office, otherwise His Majesty's said licence and permission to be void and of none effect:

And also to order, that this royal concession and declaration be registered in His Majesty's College of Arms.

Carlton-House, May 21, 1814.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent has been pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to give and grant unto William Wilson Bagge, of Quebec-House, in the parish of East Dereham, in the county of Norfolk, Esq. eldest surviving son, Edward Bagge, Esq. in the Civil Service of the Honourable East India Company, second son, Arthur Bagge, a Lieutenant in the Royal Navy, third son, and Thomas Bagge, fourth son of Charles Elsdon Bagge, late of Quebec-House aforesaid, Doctor of Medicine, deceased, by Anne his wife, only daughter and heir of Thomas Lee Warner, Esq. late a Captain in the Army, also deceased, His Majesty's royal licence and authority, that they and their issue respectively may take and use the surnames of Lee and Warner only, and bear the arms of Lee and Warner quarterly, out of affectionate respect to their said late mother, instead of their present surname of Bagge; such arms being first duly exemplified according to the laws of arms, and recorded in the Heralds' Office, otherwise His Majesty's said royal licence and permission to be void and of none effect:

And also to order, that this His royal concession and declaration be registered in His Majesty's College of Arms.

Whitehall, July 23, 1814.

The Lord Chancellor has appointed Robert Settle, of Halifax, in the county of York, Gent. to be a Master Extraordinary in the High Court of Chancery.

Whitehall, July 22, 1814.

On the night of the 20th or morning of the 21st of April last, the toll-house at Waterland, in the parish of Dunlop and county of Ayr, possessed by John Raeside, was broken open by two men or more, disguised, and in the absence of the said John Raeside, his wife and children threatened with instant death if they made any noise, and the said house was deliberately robbed of cash, a watch (maker's name George Clark, London, No. 8004), new linen, cloth, and wearing apparel, to a considerable amount:

On Tuesday night the 14th of June last, several persons were assaulted, robbed, and wounded on the high road between Greenock and Largs:

In particular, Mr. John M'Culloch, flesher, in Greenock, returning from Largs Fair, was attacked, dragged from his horse, robbed and beat in the most barbarous manner. The robbers took from him about 30l. consisting of several 5l. Bank notes, a number of Greenock Bank guinea notes, and one Whitehaven bank note, also a red leather pocket book, containing several bills, and a pair of silver mounted spectacles in a red leather case:

James Crawford, servant to Mrs. Stuart, inn-keeper at Inverness, and a servant of Sir Michael Shaw Stewart's, at Ardgowan, were also attacked, knocked down and beaten, and the former, besides being most severely hurt, was robbed of eleven guinea notes, and fifteen shillings in silver:

These outrages were committed on different parts of the public road near Skelmorly, in the shire of Ayr, by a gang of seven or eight persons who spoke the Irish dialect;

His Royal Highness, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the said atrocious acts, is hereby pleased, to promise His Majesty's most gracious pardon to any one of the offenders (except the principal actors or ringleaders), who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof. The first mentioned reward of fifty pounds, to be paid by John Wylie, Procurator Fiscal of the county of Renfrew, and the latter reward of twenty pounds, to be paid on application to the Sheriff Substitute of Ayr.

C. GRANT, jun.

Whitehall, July 23, 1814.

Statute 5 George I. Chap. 27.

IF any person shall contract with, entice, or solicit, any artificer in wool, iron, steel, brass, or other metal, clock-maker, watch-maker, or any other artificer of Great Britain, to go into foreign countries out of the King's dominions, and shall be convicted thereof, upon indictment or information in any of the Courts at Westminster, or at the Assizes or Quarter Sessions, he shall be fined any sum not exceeding ONE HUNDRED POUNDS for the first offence, and shall be imprisoned three months, and till the fine be paid. And if any person having been once convicted shall offend again, he shall be fined at the discretion of the Court, and imprisoned twelve months, and till the fine be paid.

If any of the King's subjects, being such artificers, shall go into any country out of His Majesty's dominions, to exercise or teach the said trades to foreigners; and if any of the King's subjects in any such foreign country, exercising any of the said trades, shall not return into this realm within six months after warning given by the Ambassador, Minister, or Consul of Great Britain, in the country where such artificers shall be, or by any person authorised by such Ambassador, &c. or by one of the Secretaries of State, and from henceforth inhabit within this realm; such persons shall be incapable of taking any legacy, or of being an executor or administrator, or of taking any lands, &c. within this kingdom, by descent, devise, or purchase, and shall forfeit all lands, goods, &c. within this kingdom, to His Majesty's use, and shall be deemed alien, and out of His Majesty's protection.

Upon complaint made, upon oath, before any Justice of Peace, that any person is endeavouring to seduce any such artificer, or that any such artificer hath contracted or is preparing to go out of His Majesty's dominions, for the purposes aforesaid, such Justice may send his warrant to bring the person complained of before him, or before some other Justice; and if it shall appear by the oath of one witness, or by confession, that he was guilty of any of the said offences, such Justice may bind him to appear at the next Assizes or Quarter Sessions: And if such person shall refuse to give security, the Justice may commit him to gaol till the next Assizes or Quarter Sessions, and until he shall be delivered by due course of law. And if any such artificer shall be convicted, upon indictment, of any such promise, contract, or preparation to go beyond the seas, for the purpose aforesaid, he shall give such security to the King not to depart out of His Majesty's dominions, as such Court shall think reasonable, and shall be imprisoned till security given.

If any of the above offences shall be committed in Scotland, the same shall be prosecuted in the Court of Justiciary or the Circuits there.

Statute 23 George II. Chap. 13.

IF any person shall contract with, or endeavour to seduce any artificer in wool, mohair, cotton, or silk, or in iron, steel, brass, or other metal, or any clock-maker, watch-maker, or any other artificer in any other of the manufactures of Great Britain or Ireland, to go out of this kingdom or Ireland into any foreign country not within the dominions of the Crown of Great Britain, and shall be convicted, upon indictment or information, in the King's Bench at Westminster, or by indictment at the Assizes or General Gaol Delivery for the county, &c. wherein such offence shall be committed in England, or by indictment in the Court of Justiciary or any of the Circuit Courts in Scotland, or by indictment or information in the King's Bench at Dublin, if such offence be committed in Ireland; the person so convicted shall, for every artificer contracted with or seduced, forfeit FIVE HUNDRED POUNDS, and shall suffer imprisonment in the common gaol of the county or stewardry wherein such offender shall be convicted for twelve calendar months, and until forfeiture be paid: And in case of a subsequent offence of the same kind, the persons so again offending shall forfeit, for every person contracted with or seduced, ONE THOUSAND POUNDS, and shall suffer imprisonment in the common gaol of the county or stewardry wherein such offender shall be convicted, for two years, and until such forfeiture be paid.

If any person in Great Britain or Ireland shall put on board any ship or boat, not bound directly to some port in Great Britain or Ireland, or to some other of the dominions of the Crown of Great Britain, any such tools or utensils as are commonly used in, or proper for the preparing, working up, or finishing of the woollen or silk manufactures, or any part of such tools, he shall, for every offence, forfeit all such tools, or parts thereof, put on board, and TWO HUNDRED POUNDS, to be recovered by action of debt, &c. in any Court of Record at Westminster, or in the Court of Session in Scotland, or at any of the Four Courts in Dublin respectively, wherein no essoin, &c. shall be allowed.

It shall be lawful for any Officer of the Customs in Great Britain, or for any Officer of the Revenue in Ireland, to seize and secure, in some of His Majesty's warehouses, all such tools or utensils prohibited to be exported, as such officer shall find on board any vessel not bound directly to some port in Great Britain or Ireland, or to some other of the dominions of the Crown of Great Britain; and all tools so seized shall, after condemnation, be publicly sold to the best bidder; and one moiety of the produce shall be to the use of His Majesty, and the other moiety to the officer who shall seize and secure the same.

If the Captain of any vessel in Great Britain or Ireland knowingly permit any of the said tools, prohibited to be exported, to be put on board his vessel, he shall, for every such offence, forfeit ONE HUNDRED POUNDS, to be recovered as the penalties inflicted upon persons exporting the tools; and, if the vessel belongs to His Majesty, the Captain shall not only forfeit ONE HUNDRED POUNDS, but shall also forfeit his employment, and be incapable of any employment under His Majesty.

If any Officer of the Customs in Great Britain or of the Revenue in Ireland, take, or knowingly suffer to be taken, any entry outward, or sign any cocket or sufferance for the shipping or exporting of any of the said tools, or knowingly suffer the same to be done, he shall forfeit ONE HUNDRED POUNDS, to be recovered as aforesaid, and also forfeit his office, and be incapable of any office under His Majesty.

One moiety of the forfeitures shall be applied to the use of His Majesty, and the other moiety to the use of the person who shall sue for the same.

Statutes 14, 21, 25, and 26 of His present Majesty.

BY these Statutes the like penalties and forfeitures as above-mentioned are extended to persons packing or putting on board any vessel, not bound directly for some port in Great Britain or Ireland, any machine, engine, tool, press, paper, utensil, or implement whatsoever, used in or proper for the working or finishing of the cotton, steel, or iron manufactures of this kingdom, or any part or parts of such machines or implements, or any models or plans thereof; and all Captains of ships and other persons receiving or being in possession of any such articles, with an intent to export the same to foreign parts, and all Custom-house Officers suffering an entry to be made thereof, are respectively liable to the like penalties as are above-mentioned, in the case of tools and utensils used in the woollen and silk manufactures.
