Detachment Orders, by Brigadier Ochterlony, commanding. Camp before Nalagurh, Saturday, 5th November 1814.

THE commanding officer congratulates the detachment on the surrender of Nalagurh and its dependent post of Tarragurh. He begs the troops will be assured, that he has not been insensible of the fatigues to which they have been exposed, or to the cheerfulness with which they have been borne, and whilst he considers it as a happy presage of future exertion and perseverance, it is a certain proof that had the garrison stood a storm, their courage would have been as conspicuous as the other qualities they have displayed.

To those qualifications which are as essential as valour, the commanding officer will not fail to call the attention of His Excellency the Commander in Chief, but it becomes his more particular duty to express his obligations to Major Macleod, and the officers and men of the artillery, who manned the batteries; and to the companies of the 1st battalion of the 19th, whose great exertions have been most particularly reported to him. Colonel Arnold is requested to offer the Brigadier's most marked thanks and approbation.

To Lieutenant Lawtie, he feels himself under the greatest obligations, and shall not fail to report his high sense of the zealous services of that officer to the Commander in Chief.

Captain Baines and Lieutenant Armstrong, of the pioneers, are requested to accept his thanks, and to express to the corps the Brigadier's just sense to their unwearied exertions and perseverance.

Extra Batta to be served out immediately to the European detail of artillery, who assisted in dragging up the guns, as also to the European detail which relieved and manned the battery until the surrender of Nalagurh.

Extract from a Letter from the Adjutant-General to Colonel Ochterlony, commanding the 3d Division of the Field Army, dated Camp Mahomed, 18th November 1814.

The Commander in Chief received with the highest satisfaction the report of your arrival and commencement of operations before Nalagurh; it led His Excellency to expect that speedy and important success, which your express of the 5th announced, and the detailed particulars of which, owing to some irregularity in the Dawks, only reached head quarters this morning, with your dispatch of the 6th instant.

3. Lord Moira desires me to convey to you his entire and unqualified approbation of the whole of your measures and proceedings since you quitted your cantonments, to the period of the fall of Nalagurh and Tarragurh. The acquisition of these places is important in itself, but the circumstances under which it is made, give it an additional and peculiar value, and constitute it a most seasonable service rendered to the public interests, by your able and prudent direction of the operations entrusted to you, and entitle you to the cordial thanks of the Government and the Commander in Chief, and fully justifies the high confidence that has been reposed in you.

4. The Right Honourable the Commander in Chief desires you will be pleased to express to the division, in public orders, the high sense His Excellency entertains of their exertions and conduct at the siege of Nalagurh, and the peculiar approbation with which His Excellency has viewed the display of those qualities of zealous persevering labour, and endurance of fatigue, which, as you justly observe, are as essential as valour at a siege. To the continued and unwearied exercise of those qualities, and the judicious application of that superiority of means which our discipline and science confer on us, no less than to that gallantry for which our troops are distinguished, the Commander in Chief looks for a speedy and honourable termination of the present service.

5. To Major Macleod, and the officers and men of the artillery, to Captain Baynes and Lieutenant Armstrong; and the Companies of Pioneers, of all whose conduct and exertions you report so favourably, the Commander in Chief desires his particular acknowledgments may be made.

6. To Lieutenant Lawtie, field engineer and surveyor with the division, His Excellency also desires his particular thanks may be offered. The Commander in Chief considers the approbation you have expressed of the conduct of Lieutenant Lawtie, as stamping high credit on his character; and his Lordship regards the services which Lieutenant Lawtie has rendered on this occasion, as an earnest of the future and more important benefits which may be expected from the talents and zeal of that young officer.

7. The Commander in Chief is gratified by your mention of the useful exertions of Brigade Major Cartwright. Published by command of His Excellency the Vice-President in Council.

J. MONCKTON, Actg. Sec. to Govt.

THE following notification, containing intelligence of the operations of the detachment under the command of Major Bradshaw, commanding on the frontier of Sarua and Tinboot, has also been this day received.

Fort William, December 7, 1814.

HIS Excellency the Vice-President in Council, has great satisfaction in publishing for general information, the following Letters and Enclosures, from the Deputy Adjutant-General, and in expressing his entire concurrence in the sentiments of approbation with which His Excellency the Commander of the Forces has noticed the judgment and ability of Major Bradshaw, and the steadiness and gallantry displayed by the officers and men under his command in the execution of his orders for the attack of the enemy's post.
