Whitehall, May 3, 1816.

HIS Royal Highness the Prince Regent has been pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to declare and ordain, that His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick Duke of Saxe, Margrave of Meissen, Landgrave of Thuringuen, Prince of Cobourg of Saalfeld, consort of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta, shall take, hold, and enjoy, during the term of His natural life, in all assemblies or meetings whatsoever, the precedence and rank following, that is to say, before the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, the Lord Chancellor, and all other Great Officers, and before the Dukes (other than and except the Dukes of the Blood Royal) and all other Peers of the Realm.

Carlton-House, May 13, 1816.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, and Common Council of the City of London, waited upon His Royal Highness the Prince Regent with the following Address, which was read by Sir John Silvester, Bart. the Recorder :

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and loyal Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, approach the throne with the most lively sentiments of affection, to congratulate your Royal Highness on the auspicious event of the recent nuptials of your illustrious daughter the Princess Charlotte Augusta with His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick Prince of Cobourg.

We participate with the personal feelings and the patriotic gratification which your Royal Highness must experience upon an occasion of such joy to your Royal House, and of such vital importance to the welfare and prosperity of His Majesty's subjects, inasmuch as this illustrious union affords an additional prospect (under Divine Providence) of securing to the throne of these realms the Protestant succession of their Sovereigns, for which our brave and enlightened ancestors, by the Act of Settlement at the glorious Revolution, happily provided and established the mild and paternal sway of the House of Hanover over a free, loyal, and happy people.

That a long line of Princes, firm to the reformed principles of our Constitution in Church and State, may spring from these auspicious nuptials, to continue for ages prosperity and happiness to the United Kingdom, is the ardent and sincere prayer of His Majesty's faithful Citizens of London.

In thus uniting with the general joy our heartfelt congratulations at the foot of the throne, we request your Royal Highness will believe, that as we can feel nothing of more consequence to the nation, than a measure thus calculated to preserve our independence, freedom, and prosperity, so we can felicitate ourselves in nothing of more genuine and pure enjoyment, than in an alliance which is of so fair a promise, and must convey solid happiness to your royal breast and every branch of your august Family.

May your Royal Highness have the felicity to behold every good consequent upon this propitious event, descend upon the amiable and royal Bride and Her illustrious Consort; and may the endearing qualitis of Her mind give the surest presage to an admiring people, of the happiness she may, in time to come, be destined to confer upon the loyal and happy subjects of the British empire.

Signel, by order of Court,

Henry Woodthorpe.

To which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to return the following most gracious answer:

" I thank you for this loyal and dutiful Address.
 " It is with the most cordial satisfaction that I receive your congratulations, on an event no less grateful to my personal feelings than important to the best interests of the British empire."

They were all received very graciously, and had the honour of kissing the hand of His Royal Highness.

Queen's-House, May 13, 1816.

We are satisfied, that the dignity of Her high birth, as presumptive Heiress to the Crown of these realms, is proudly equalled by the lofty attainments and the pre-eminently amiable qualities of Her royal mind, and that the people of this happy country, the loyal subjects of our revered and venerable King, regard the graces and virtues which adorn the royal bride, as the happy presage of future blessings to the United Kingdom.

We earnestly hope, Madam, that all felicity may attend an union of such exalted promise ; and that the illustrious pair may be crowned with every blessing which can ensure it.

His Majesty's faithful citizens of London have much gratification in partaking the general joy upon so distinguished an occasion, and to assure you, Madam, that they will be ever forward to express their firm and loyal attachment to every branch of your august family.

They were all received very graciously, and had the honour of kissing the hand of Her Majesty.

Camelford-House, May 13, 1816.

This day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, and Common Council of the City of London, waited upon Her Royal Highness the Princess of Saxe Cobourg, with the following compliments of congratulation, which were read by Sir John Silvester, Bart. the Recorder :

To Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta of Saxe Cobourg.

Madam,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, request permission to offer our warmest congratulations upon the recent and auspicious marriage of your Royal Highness with His Serene Highness the Prince of Cobourg.

This very important union with an amiable and accomplished Prince, of a Family long distinguished for its attachment to the Protestant cause, we regard as an additional proof of the anxious care of your Royal Father, for the interests and welfare of His Majesty's subjects, and of His paternal affection for your Royal Highness.

The splendid dignity of your royal birth, as presumptive heiress to the British sceptre, creates peculiar sentiments of affection and reverence in the hearts of all His Majesty's subjects, accompanied by the full assurance and proud exultation, that the great acquirements and endearing qualities and graces of your royal mind, are so happily calculated to adorn the exalted station of your Royal Highness, and their prospects are brightened by the affectionate regard to the interests of these happy realms, which your Royal Highness, the pride and hope of Britain, has manifested by this illustrious alliance.

The Citizens of London are anxious to express the affectionate solicitude they feel, that this joyful event may be accompanied by the peculiar favour of Heaven; and that the transcendent virtues which inhabit your Royal bosom, may descend to grace a line of Princes who may be the pride of their Royal Parents and a lasting glory to the country.

Signed, by order of Court,
Henry Woodthorpe.

To which Compliments of Congratulation Her Royal Highness was pleased to return the following answer :

My Lord Mayor, and Gentlemen,

" I receive your congratulations with the utmost satisfaction, and I desire you to be assured that it will be my constant wish and endeavour to preserve the esteem of the City of London."

After which they had the honour of kissing the hand of Her Royal Highness.

Camelford-House, May 13, 1816.

Serene Highness the Prince of Cobourg with the following compliments of congratulation, which were read by Sir John Silvester, Bart. the Recorder :

To His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick Duke of Saxe, Margrave of Meissen, Landgrave of Thuringuen, Prince of Cobourg of Saafeld, &c.

THE Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Comarons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, have great joy in paying their compliments of congratulation to your Serene Highness on your safe arrival in this kingdom, and on your auspicious nuptials with the virtuous and amiable Princess Charlotte Augusta, presumptive Heiress to the Throne of these realms.

The dignity of your princely House, your high military fame, the solid endowments of your mind, the graceful qualities of your heart, demand our veneration and esteem, and afford the most cheering prospect, that an alliance thus formed will be productive of all the happiness that can attend the married state.

With the illustrious Princess, the fair promise of our Isle, your Serene Highness has received all the graces and virtues which afford a pre-eminent example to the daughters of Britain; the acquirements of Her royal majesty, fitted to Her high station, are equalled by the engaging female softness of her character, to bless and display domestic life.

May your Serene Highness long live to partake of the blessing, and may your royal bride crown your wishes with a race of Princes inheriting your respective graces, and transmitting your names with glory to the remotest ages.

Signed, by order of Court,
