

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 10th October 1817,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS the time limited by the Order of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent in Council of the thirty-first of May last, for prohibiting the exportation of gunpowder, arms, or ammunition, to the places therein specified, will expire on the thirtieth day of November next; and whereas it is expedient, that the said prohibition should be continued for some time longer; His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, doth, therefore, hereby order, require, prohibit, and command, that no person or persons whatsoever (except the Master-General of the Ordnance for His Majesty's service) do, at any time during the space of six months (to commence from the thirtieth day of November next), presume to transport any gunpowder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, to any port or place on the Coast of Africa, or in the West Indies, or on any part of the Continent of America (except to a port or place, or ports or places in His Majesty's territories or possessions on the Continent of North America, or in the territories of the United States of America), or ship or lade any gunpowder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, on board any ship or vessel, in order to transporting the same into any such ports or places on the Coast of Africa, or in the West Indies, or on the Continent of America (except as above excepted), without leave or permission in that behalf first obtained from His Majesty, or His Privy Council, upon pain of incurring and suffering the respective forfeitures and penalties inflicted by an Act, passed in the twenty-ninth year of His late Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to empower His Majesty to prohibit the exportation of salt-petre, and to enforce the law for empowering His Majesty to prohibit the exportation of gunpowder, or any sort of arms or ammunition, and also to empower His Majesty to restrain the carrying coastwise of salt-petre, gunpowder, or any sort of arms or ammunition;" and also by an Act, passed in the thirty-third year of His Majesty's reign, cap. 2, intituled "An Act to enable His Majesty to restrain the exportation of naval stores, and more effectually to prevent the exportation of salt-petre, arms, and ammunition, when prohibited by Proclamation or Order in Council:"

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, the Master-General and the rest of the Principal Officers of the Ordnance, and His Majesty's Secretary at War, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

Geo. Buller.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George, PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, your Royal Highness's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Loyal Orange Association of Carlisle, being deeply penetrated with sorrow for the sudden, unexpected, and ever-to-be-lamented death of your Royal Daughter, the Princess Charlotte.

We do most humbly offer to your Royal Highness our most affectionate condolence; and we do most solemnly assure your Royal Highness of our most unalterable attachment to your sacred and Royal Person and Government, and to the whole of the illustrious House of Brunswick.

Praying to Almighty God to grant you long life and happy years to reign over your now afflicted subjects.

Peter Morrow, W.M.; Thos. Douglas, D.M. William Humphrys, Sec.; Frederick Longmore, T.—No. 138.

Carlisle, November 11, 1817.

[Presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT,
The affectionate and dutiful Address of the County of Wigton.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Freeholders, Landholders, and Magistrates of the County of Wigton, have immediately assembled together, to convey to your Royal Highness the expression of our grief, at the severe and affecting loss which your Royal Highness has recently sustained. For nearly twenty-two years we had partaken your Royal Highness's solicitude and care for the beloved Princess who is now no more. We had watched her progress with anxiety—we had sympathized with her Royal Highness's feelings in her late happy marriage; and we can now truly affirm, that her irreparable loss has come home to our breasts with the heartfelt shock of private calamity. We entreat your Royal Highness to yield an humble acquiescence to the will of the Almighty Disposer of all events; and, conscious of the deep feelings which we experience, in common with the rest of the kingdom, we venture to offer to your Royal Highness, as a consolatory reflection; that such, so great, and so genuine, are the sentiments which unite the British people to the Family of their Sovereign.

Signed in name, in presence, and by appointment of the meeting, held at Wigton the 13th day of November, 1817.

John Hathorn, Preses.

[Presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

Whitehall, November 20, 1817.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent has been pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His
