

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Jurats, Common Councilmen, and Inhabitants of the King's Town and Parish of Maidstone, humbly beg leave to offer to your Royal Highness our sincere condolence upon the sad affliction with which it has pleased the Almighty to visit your illustrious Family and the people of these realms, by the death of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta.

We feel the impossibility of presenting to your Royal Highness any topic of consolation under so great a calamity, excepting only that which every Christian must derive from a pious resignation to the will of God, and the firm, and we hope not presumptuous, belief, that the lamented object of a father's and a nation's love is received into a kingdom of everlasting happiness.

Permit us to assure your Royal Highness of our unalterable attachment to your Royal and Illustrious Line, and of our loyal and dutiful affection for your Royal Person, in whose great and splendid achievements we have lately so proudly shared, and in whose sorrows we no less feelingly and deeply participate.

Signed at the request and on behalf of the Meeting,

John Day, Mayor; Joseph Berens, Recorder.

[Delivered by Joseph Berens, Esq. the Recorder, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, &c. &c. &c.

The humble Address of Condolence of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Westmeath.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE respectfully beg permission to approach your Royal Highness with this testimony of our acute grief at the awful and searching visitation it has pleased God Almighty to inflict on us, by depriving this empire of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta, of your beloved daughter, on whose welfare the nation had, with the fondest confidence, accustomed itself to feel its own most intimately depended; to bereave us of her who, situated as she was, had with a double interest attracted the love and solicitude of His Majesty's people.

We would beg your Royal Highness to pardon the obtrusiveness of our condolence in favour of the affectionate hearts which tender it, and to allow us to lay at your royal feet, the addition of our tribute to the common lamentations of the country.

Accept, Sir, we entreat your Royal Highness, our dutiful homage, and be pleased to appreciate our wishes for your Royal Highness's prosperity.

The affections of this portion of His Majesty's subjects now assembled to address your Royal Highness, are powerfully directed to the great point of interest your illustrious House presents; and if sympathy can in its nature alleviate distress, ours has, rest assured Sir, been actively and sincerely excited.

Signed in the name and on behalf of the County, Westmeath.

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, &c. &c. &c.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Tyrone, in the deepest sorrow, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with our sincere condolence on a late melancholy event, which has severely wounded your Royal Highness's parental feelings, and plunged the whole empire in the heaviest affliction.

With pride we beheld the amiable and accomplished Princess possessed of every virtue which could adorn the human mind, and had indulged the fond hope, that through her our country would have been blessed with a line of patriotic Princes, guardians of the liberties and Constitution of the country, and worthy descendants of the illustrious House of Hanover.

But, alas! these hopes are vanished, and general grief and mourning now overwhelm the country.

Permit us to renew the assurances of our firm and unalterable attachment to your Royal Highness, and to express a hope, that the universal sympathy of a loyal and affectionate people may afford some consolation in your Royal Highness's affliction.

Blesington, Governor, Chairman.

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The dutiful and humble Address of Condolence of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Mayo.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, and Freeholders of the County of Mayo, seriously affected by the late awful dispensation of Providence, which has deprived your Royal House and this nation of their ornament and hope, beg leave most affectionately and respectfully to approach your Royal Highness with our sincere condolence upon this truly afflictive occasion.

Aware that the cup of life is mixed equally for the great, the high, and the powerful, with the poor, the lowly, and the humble, your people seek for consolation in the reflection that your Royal Highness's Administration, begun in wisdom and conducted with energy, has brought to a glorious termination the arduous war in which your Royal Highness found this empire engaged, and the conclusion of which, in a peace promising solid continuance, we trace to the personal wisdom and firmness of your Royal Highness, which has placed