THE following Address has been presented to His Serene Highness the Prince Leopold of Saxe Cobourg; which Address His Serene Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick, Prince of Saxe Cobourg, &c. &c. &c.

May it please your Serene Highness,

WE, the Consul, Merchants, and other British Residents in the City of Oporto, humbly present to your Serene Highness our affectionate and sincere condolence on the lamented death of the Princess Charlotte of Wales, your Serene Highness's illustrious and beloved consort.

When we contemplate a calamity of such great national interest, and so peculiarly painful to yourself, we cannot in any adequate terms convey a sense of the importance we attach to so melancholy an event.

Yet we will not, Most Noble Prince, aggravate your sorrows by dwelling on the exemplary virtues of her now departed, but wish only to impress on the mind of your Serene Highness, how deeply we participate in your distress, and how warmly we sympathize with our countrymen in feelings not less universal than sincere.

[Transmitted by Lord Viscount Castlereagh, and presented by Sir Robert Gardiner.]
