

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1818.

Lord Chamberlain's Office, December 8, 1818.

ORDERS for the Court's change of mourning, on Sunday the 3d January next, for Her late Majesty, of blessed memory, viz.

The Ladies to wear black silk, fringed or plain linen or muslin, white gloves, black and white shoes, fans and tippets, white necklaces and earrings, no diamonds.

Undress—White or grey lustrings, tabbies or damasks.

The Gentlemen to wear black, full trimmed, plain or fringed linen, black swords and buckles.

Undress—Grey frocks.

The Court to change the mourning further on Sunday the 24th of January next, viz.

The Ladies to wear black silk or velvet, coloured ribbons, fans and tippets.

The Gentlemen to continue in black, to wear coloured swords and buckles.

And on Sunday the 14th of February next, the Court to go out of mourning.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to Viscount Sidmouth, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, have been presented by His Lordship to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Rochester, beg leave under impressions of the deepest regret to offer our condolence to your Royal Highness, on the loss which your Royal Highness, your illustrious Family, and the United Kingdom, have recently sustained by the death of her late most gracious Majesty.

While we participate in common with all His Majesty's subjects in the affliction, which from circumstances of a personal nature more immediately affects your Royal Highness, we nevertheless feel that we should not do justice to the many eminent virtues which distinguished Her late Majesty, if we failed to express on this melancholy occasion the high estimation with which we regard them; and, sensible of the support which good principles derive from the practical observance of them in the conduct of the Great, the splendored example displayed by Her late Majesty during a long public life of more than half a century, we trust will continue to maintain its influence, and be productive of all those national advantages which result from moral and religious habits.

December 1, 1818.

[Transmitted by the Dean of Rochester, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, Burgesses, Recorder, and Town-Clerk, of the ancient and loyal Borough and Corporation of New Windsor, in the County of Berks.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, Burgesses, Recorder, and Town Clerk, of the ancient and loyal Borough and Corporation of New Windsor, most respectfully approach your Royal Highness, to express the deep sense we entertain of the great loss we have sustained by the afflicting death of Her late Most Excellent Majesty, your beloved Mother, of blessed memory.

From the peculiar advantage of our local situation, it has been our envied lot for a long series of years, to have had reiterated opportunities of forming a just estimate of the many exalted virtues of Her late Majesty, in the combined characters of