To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council of the City of Bristol, in Common Council assembled, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, with sentiments of unfeigned sorrow and condolence, on the death of Her late Majesty the Queen; an event which has deprived these kingdoms of so highly distinguished an ornament of public and private virtue, uniformly practised during the period of an extended life. Whilst we deplore the loss we have sustained, we are still thankful to Providence for the blessings conferred to us in the person of your Royal Highness and the other Princes of the Royal Blood.

The testimonies of affection and tenderness invariably manifested by your Royal Highness towards your beloved Mother must, next to the consolations of that religion which so conspicuously regulated her conduct, have afforded the purest gratification to her mind; and the filial piety evinced by your Royal Highness and the other illustrious branches of your Family, on this mournful occasion, has excited the sympathy and respect of the whole nation, and affords a splendid example to all ranks of His Majesty's subjects.

We presume further humbly to express our assurances of sincere attachment to the person of our revered Monarch, and to the principles of an excellent Constitution as established in these realms.

[Transmitted by Sir Robert Gifford, His Majesty's Solicitor-General, the Recorder, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty of the City of Winchester, in Council assembled, humbly crave permission to approach and condole with your Royal Highness, on the irreparable loss the nation has sustained, in the death of our much loved and honoured Queen; and at the same time to express our deep affliction at this mournful and overwhelming calamity.

Her late Majesty's many and exalted virtues, her gracious and benevolent disposition, her anxious and maternal solicitude for all ranks of her subjects, have ever kept alive in our breasts the warmest feelings of gratitude, affection, and respect, and will justly render her memory dear to us for ever.

We respectfully take this occasion of renewing to your Royal Highness the assurance of our firm attachment and loyalty to your illustrious Family, and that your Royal Highness may ever enjoy health to rule over a grateful people, is the earnest and constant prayer of your dutiful Corporation. Winchester, this 7th day of December 1818.

[Transmitted by Paulet St. John Mildmay and James H. Leigh, Esqrs. M. P. for the City, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens, and Commonalty of the ancient City of Lincoln, actuated at all times by sentiments of unfeigned loyalty and attachment towards our revered Sovereign, beg leave, in all humility, to offer to your Royal Highness, and to every Member of your august House, our sincere condolence upon the heavy affliction with which it has pleased the Almighty to visit the Royal Family in particular, and this kingdom in general, by the demise of Her late Majesty Queen Charlotte.

Whilst we deeply lament this loss as loyal subjects, and feel it most sincerely as men, your Royal Highness will permit us at the same time to express with what admiration we regarded, and how highly we appreciate, the exemplary conduct of that lamented Personage, now no more, and her distinguished excellence in the discharge of every duty, as the Consort of our beloved Monarch, and the Mother of his illustrious children; and we are duly sensible that her pre-eminence in the practice of every virtue that adorns and elevates the female character has contributed most essentially to correct and improve the manners of the times in which she lived, and has left a lasting and invaluable example to future ages.

We abstain from any further intrusion on your Royal Highness at this painful moment, but we pray the Author of all Good, who alone is able to give consolation, that His mercy will abundantly afford it to your Royal Highness, and that your Royal Highness may be preserved to these kingdoms in all health and happiness; and we humbly beg to repeat our unalterable sentiments of duty and attachment to your Royal Highness's Person and Government.

The common seal of the Corporation of the City of Lincoln was heretunto affixed the 7th day of December 1818, by an order of Common Council, in presence of Hayward, Deputy Town-Clerk.

[Transmitted by Richard Wilson, Esq. the Recorder, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom.

Most Gracious Prince,

WE, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Common Council of the City of Exeter, in Chamber assembled, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness to offer our heartfelt condolence on the death of Her Excellent Majesty our late Most Gracious Queen.

We sincerely sympathize with your Royal Highness and the Royal Family on this afflictive event.

The many public and private virtues which adorned Her Majesty, will ever endear her memory to the British nation, and the undeviating fulfilment of conjugal and parental duties will render Her Majesty's character a bright example for imitation.

We cannot refrain on this mournful occasion from expressing to your Royal Highness the high sense we entertain of the unremitted, affectionate, and dutiful attention your Royal Highness has paid to the best of Parents, during Her Majesty's lingering illness. It has highly exalted your Royal Highness's character, and will leave an indelible impression of respect on the minds of all classes of His Majesty's subjects.

That your Royal Highness may sustain this great affliction with fortitude, and resignation to the dispensation of Providence is our sincere prayer.

Given, under our common seal, at the Guildhall of the said City, the 2d day of December, in the year of our Lord 1818.

[Transmitted by William Courtenay, Esq. M. P. for the City, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor and Commonalty of the City of York, in Common Council assembled, beg leave to offer our sincere and unaffected condolence to your Royal Highness upon the heavy loss your Royal Highness has sustained by the death of your amiable and excellent Parent, our late Gracious Queen.

We trust and hope, however, that it will greatly alleviate your Royal Highness's affliction to reflect, that Her Majesty's conduct, in all the relations of a long and well spent life, was uniformly regulated by every principle of propriety, honour, and virtue that could adorn and embellish a female character; and that she has furnished to the world a shining, impressive, and useful pattern and example for imitation in future and remote ages.

Permit us, Sir, to renew our assurances of unalterable attachment to our beloved Sovereign, to your Royal Highness, and to all the other branches of His Majesty's illustrious Family.

James Saunders, Mayor.

Guildhall, York, December 14, 1818.

[Transmitted by the Lord Mayor, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT: SIRE,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bishop and Dean and Chapter, the Chancellor, the Archdeacon, and Clergy of the Cathedral and City of Chester, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness with the expression of our sincerest condolences on the late much lamented death of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen.

The very many years during which Her Majesty so well filled the high station of Queen of England—the unexceptionable manner in which she discharged every duty to our beloved and revered Monarch, in the most trying seasons, in sickness and in health:—Her pious attendance on Divine Worship—the encouragement which she ever gave to the good—the discountenance which she shewed to the immoral—the bright pattern, in short, which she exhibited from a Throne to every wife and mother in the kingdom—these and her other Christian virtues, will long render the memory of Queen Charlotte dear to the British nation; under such circumstances much as we grieve yet do we not sorrow as those without hope.

We should however but imperfectly express our feelings on this melancholy occasion, did we not at the same time offer to your Royal Highness our just tribute of admiration for that unremitting anxiety, that filial tenderness with which your Royal Highness watched over, and alleviated the sufferings of your Royal Mother. The recollection of such conduct will, we trust, with the consolations of Christianity, support your Royal Highness under that loss with which it has pleased Almighty God to afflict yourself, and this nation.

That your Royal Highness may long be preserved to a loyal people, that you may continue to witness the prosperity of this empire—a prosperity to which your own counsels and firmness have, under Divine Providence, so very materially contributed, is the heartfelt wish, and will be the constant prayer of the Bishop and Clergy of the Cathedral and City of Chester. Geo. H. Chester.

[Transmitted by the Lord Bishop, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George, PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Scotland, most humbly beg leave to approach the Throne, and in the name of all the Clergy and Laity of our Communion, to express our deep condolence with your Royal Highness, with every branch of the Royal Family, and with our fellow-subjects at large, on the recent affliction with which it hath pleased the Supreme Disposer of all Events to visit this nation, by the ever-to-be-lamented death of our late Most Excellent Queen.

Of Her Majesty's domestic virtues, her unostentatious piety, her exemplary discharge of all the duties of a Wife and Mother, her extensive charities performed as the Divine Author of our Holy Religion hath enjoined the charities of His Disciples to be performed, with such secrecy that "the left hand may not know what the right hand doeth," it would be presumptuous in us to speak to your Royal Highness.

But we may be permitted to express our deep sense of the rectitude of Her late Majesty's public conduct, which, amidst all the violence of party, by which the present reign has been distinguished, was uniformly directed, for upwards of fifty years, to no other object than the preservation of our glorious Constitution. To that dignified and impartial conduct, so becoming the Consort of our revered Sovereign, and to the inflexible steadiness with which Her Majesty maintained the purity of the British Court in an age, when in some other Courts the pure principles of Christianity seem to be lost sight of, we are inclined to attribute, under God, the internal peace and public prosperity of this mighty Empire, almost as much as to the success of His Majesty's and your Royal Highness's arms, unparalleled as that success hath been.

These great and exemplary virtues, while they make us deeply feel the loss which we have sustained by the death of such a Queen, must, however, afford to your Royal Highness, to all the branches of the Royal Family, and to the Nation at large, abundant consolation in the sure and certain hope derived from them, that Her late Majesty hath now "entered into the joy of her Lord."

That Almighty God, by whom Kings reign and Princes decree justice, may long preserve your Royal Highness to rule over a great, free and a happy people; and at last, when you have faithfully discharged the duties of your high station, that He may receive your Royal Highness unto Himself, that where your august Parent is, there your Royal Highness may be also, is the earnest prayer of, may it please your Royal Highness, His Majesty's and your Royal Highness's most dutiful subjects and servants,

George Gleig, Premier Bishop; Andrew Macfarlane, Reg.; Alexander Jolly, Bishop; Daniel Sandford, Bishop; Patrick Torry, Bishop; W. Skinner, Bishop.

[Transmitted by Dr. Gleig, Premier Bishop, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Chancellor, Rector, Principals, and Professors of the University of St. Andrew, deeply interested in every event which brings joy or sorrow to the illustrious Family on the Throne, beg leave to offer to your Royal Highness the expressions of our condolence upon the death of Her late Majesty, Queen Charlotte.

With feelings the most loyal and respectful, we entered into that anxiety with which your Royal Highness watched the progressive sufferings of your amiable Parent; and now that the termination of those sufferings has dissolved one of the tenderest and earliest ties which attach us to earth, we sympathize in the grief of her affectionate Son.

We lament the melancholy blank which the death of Her Majesty has left in a family, where, with unassuming faithfulness, she performed the sacred duties of a Wife and Mother. Never can we forget, that during the long eventful period of her conjugal life, amidst the profligacy and convulsions of the times, she invariably held forth an example of piety and domestic virtue, which might soothe and cheer the mind of her august Consort, improve her children, impart its own purity to the circle around the Throne, and throwing its radiance to every corner of the land, silently, but constantly, cherish that sound, religious, and moral sentiment, which, under God, has borne up Great Britain, and saved Europe from the miseries of unprincipled revolution.

To the people of Britain, who well may mourn the loss, we wish as its best mitigation, that they may remember and imitate the virtues of their departed Queen. In the breast of your Royal Highness, the memory of her excellence will be consecrated, and the filial duties with which you sought to assuage the sorrows of such a Parent, will brighten the consoling hopes of Religion. They have thrown round your character a lustre superior to all the splendours of your condition, and bind us more than ever in devoted attachment to the person of your Royal Highness, and to the Family of our much loved and venerable King.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment,
Melville, Chancellor; Ja. Playfair, Rector.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Sheriff, and Common Council of Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Sheriff, and Common Council of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, humbly presume to condole with your Royal Highness on the death of your Royal Highness's august Parent, our late Most Gracious Queen, whose memory must ever be cherished by the British Nation with sentiments of profound veneration and gratitude. When we contemplate the many eminent virtues which so conspicuously adorned the private and public character of Her late Majesty, as a Wife, a Parent, and a Queen, and above all, her affectionate and unremitting attention in soothing the suffering of our revered Sovereign under the severest affliction of human existence, we are deeply sensible of the extent of our present calamity. But the awful gloom of this dispensation of Providence is mercifully tempered with a ray of comfort; and we feel assured, that the sincere piety and moral excellence of Her late Majesty's life have not only conferred inestimable blessings upon the age in which she lived, but that their example and influence, transmitted to future times, will animate the virtue, and secure the happiness of our posterity.

We beg leave on this mournful occasion, to renew to your Royal Highness the homage of our most dutiful attachment to His Majesty's Royal Person and Government.

Given under the seal of our Corporation, this 10th day of December 1818.

J. Forster, Mayor.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, the Mayor, High Steward, Recorder, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the Borough of Hertford, beg leave to offer our most respectful condolences on the melancholy event which has recently afflicted your Royal Highness and the nation at large. In contemplating the loss which we have sustained, we are deeply impressed with a sense of the great value of those eminent virtues which distinguished Her late Majesty; nor shall we ever forget how highly the morals of the country are indebted to her strict and uniform discouragement of vice. At the same time, however, that we deplore the event which has removed Her Majesty from the exalted station which she so long adorned, we are comforted by the knowledge, that her last moments were soothed by those attentions which filial affection alone can afford; and we have the higher consolation of a well grounded hope, that she now enjoys the reward of those virtues which obtained our sincere respect during a long life.

We humbly request your Royal Highness to accept our earnest wishes for the permanent welfare of your illustrious House, which we are fully sensible is intimately connected with the happiness and prosperity of the nation.

By order of the Court,

Dallinger, Town Clerk,

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The loyal Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Common Councilmen, and Burgesses, of the Town of Cambridge, in Common Hall assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

Most Gracious Prince,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Common Councilmen, and Burgesses, of the Town of Cambridge, in Common Hall assembled, beg leave most humbly to offer to your Royal Highness the tribute of our unfeigned condolence, upon the lamented death of your revered Parent our illustrious and Most Gracious Queen; an affliction which however mitigated by the consideration of Her Majesty's advanced age and exemplary life, must nevertheless be considered both by your Royal Highness and by the nation, a mournful visitation of Divine Providence.

We dwell with melancholy pleasure upon the recollection of the bright example which Her Majesty exhibited in the discharge of every conjugal and maternal duty; and we feel deeply sensible of her claims to the gratitude and esteem of the British nation, by the uniform purity and piety of her life, which has at all times, (and particularly during the alarming progress of licentiousness and irreligion in a neighbouring kingdom), shed peculiar lustre around His Majesty's Throne.

Upon this occasion we cannot refrain from adverting, with heartfelt sympathy, to the continued indisposition of our venerable and beloved Sovereign, and we devoutly pray that the same Almighty Being, who, in his inscrutable wisdom has seen fit to visit us amidst so many signal blessings, with such varied inflictions, will in his infinite goodness direct and support your Royal Highness, and every other member of your august Family, in this severe and trying hour.

It must however be to your Royal Highness a source of the highest and purest consolation, that throughout the whole course of your life, and more especially during the late long and lingering illness of your Royal Parent, you have exhibited by unremitted attention, an example of filial affection and duty, which reflects the brightest lustre on your princely station, and deserves to be recorded in the annals of our country, as a pattern for imitation to the latest posterity.

Given, under our common seal at Cambridge, the 9th day of December 1818.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of His Majesty's loyal Subjects the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply, for the County of Perth, in a General Meeting assembled.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply, of the County of Perth, in offering to your Royal Highness the homage of our most sincere and respectful condolence on the loss which your Royal Highness, your august Family, and the British nation, have sustained by the death of our venerated and lamented Queen, we feel it a most gratifying duty to unite with our fellow-subjects in recording our deep and lasting sense of the eminent virtues which adorned her character; nor can a grateful people forget the inestimable benefits they derive from her bright example; Herself the model of every female and domestic virtue, she exhibited a rare union of that condescending affability which encourages merit, with that dignified and unbending repulse of vice which forbade the approach of the licentious; and She has left to her country the proud boast, that in every Court of Europe, she who had been admitted to the presence of our Queen bore the credentials of an unblemished reputation.

We will not further intrude on the sorrows of your Royal Highness: the best consolation which your Royal Highness can receive must be derived from submission to the will of the Almighty, and from the consciousness that by the most unremitting filial tenderness your Royal Highness soothed and comforted the last moments of a beloved Mother.

With deep regret we advert to the continued afflictions of our venerable Sovereign, and offer our fervent prayers to Heaven in his behalf, and that your Royal Highness may long enjoy the loyal attachment of his people committed to your sway.

Signed by our Præses, in ~~our~~ name, and by our appointment, at Perth, this 10th day of December 1818 years. Atholl, Præses.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The respectful and affectionate Address of the Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Dumbarton, in a General Meeting assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Dumbarton, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with the renewed assurance of our firm and unalterable attachment to His Majesty's Family and Government, and to offer our humble and heartfelt condolence on the event which has deprived us of our beloved Queen, your Royal Highness's august and venerable Parent.

The long period during which it had pleased a Gracious Providence to permit Her late Majesty to exercise amongst us, in an exalted station, those numerous Christian virtues, with which Her Majesty was so eminently endowed, and to exhibit to individuals of every rank a purity and propriety of conduct, in all the relations of life, most truly exemplary, while it embalms her memory in our hearts, must render our recent loss a subject of deep and lasting regret.

The filial solicitude and the anxious, unremitted, and most dutiful attention to a dying Parent, displayed by your Royal Highness, throughout the protracted indisposition of Her late Majesty, while they reflect the highest honour on your character and feelings, must give that character an additional claim to the love and veneration of every description of His Majesty's loyal subjects.

Signed in name and by appointment of the meeting. James Colquhoun, Chairman.

Dumbarton, December 9, 1818.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's most loyal subjects, the Deputy Lieutenants, Justices of Peace, and Magistrates of the County of Bute, beg leave humbly to offer to your Royal Highness the expression of our most sincere condolence on the loss which not only your Royal Highness and the other members of the Royal Family, but also the kingdom in general, have sustained by the death of your Royal Mother, the Consort of our august and highly venerated Sovereign. Her late Majesty, it is well known, was early found to be distinguished by every amiable virtue and elegant endowment; and when elevated to the highest rank, proved a pattern of conjugal attachment and maternal kindness, while at the same time she was in other respects eminently exemplary in the whole tenour of her conduct, to the great benefit of morality and religion, whence her memory will be long revered, and by none more than by your Royal Highness's devoted humble servants of the county of Bute.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, in a general meeting held at Rothesay, on the 5th day of December 1818, by Bute and Dumfries, Lieutenant for Bute-shire; Archd. Moore, Convener County of Bute.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, the Provost, Magistrates, and Common Council of Paisley, in Council assembled, most respectfully approach your Royal Highness with the homage of condolence on the afflictive and lamented death of your Royal Mother, our late august and venerable Queen; and as human power cannot assuage the poignancy of grief, we earnestly implore that Divine consolation which can alone enable your Royal Family to endure so severe a trial with fortitude and resignation.

Distinguished for conjugal and domestic virtues, which confer lustre even on the Throne, we indulge the pleasing thought that Her late Majesty now enjoys a Crown which shall never fade. Recollection of these virtues must prove a source of comfort to the numerous and illustrious family who bewail the distressing deprivation.

We again transmit sentiments of personal regard for your Royal Highness, and of attachment to the Government under which we have the happiness to live.

To His Royal Highness George PRINCE REGENT of these United Kingdoms, &c. &c. &c.

SIR,

WE, His Majesty's liege subjects of Nairnshire, met this day for that purpose, beg leave in the most respectful manner to offer to your Royal Highness our most sincere condolence on the demise of our much lamented Queen, the Queen of our beloved venerable Sovereign, and Queen Mother to your Royal Highness and the other branches of your illustrious Family.

So correct was the general conduct of Her late Majesty, that whilst history must record it as a pattern for future Queens, the remaining part of the female world must find much to admire and much to imitate in it.

For Her late Majesty's many virtues and long patient sufferings she is now enjoying a full reward.

In the name of, and with the approbation of the meeting, I have the honour to be, Sir, with most respectful attachment, faithfully yours,

James Brodie, His Majesty's Lieutenant Nairnshire.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Deputy Lieutenants, Landholders, and Justices of Peace of the County of Aberdeen, beg to be permitted to approach your Royal Highness with expressions of our sincere and unfeigned condolence on the lamented death of your august Mother, Her late Majesty Queen Charlotte.

During the long and eventful period in which Her Majesty shared the royal dignity of this great empire, we reflect with consolation and genuine satisfaction on those pure and steady principles of religious conduct by which the exemplary life of Her Majesty was so conspicuously distinguished; nor is it possible to contemplate with less satisfaction those conjugal virtues which contributed so largely to the domestic happiness of our revered Monarch, adding lustre to the Throne, and diffusing the most salutary influence throughout all ranks in the nation.

Amidst the affliction with which it has pleased Divine Providence thus to visit your royal House, the grief, Sir, under which you are now suffering, cannot fail to find alleviation in that filial regard and unwearied attention which, on all occasions, have so conspicuously marked your conduct towards Her Majesty.

Signed, in our name, and by our appointment, at Aberdeen, this 4th day of December 1818.

Regarding Her Majesty as an eminent example of every public and private virtue, exercised in all the relations in which Her Majesty was placed, and believing that Her Majesty's bright example and correct deportment had no small influence on the advancement of public morals, we deplore Her Majesty's demise as a great national calamity.

We avail ourselves of the present mournful occasion; to renew our assurances of loyalty and attachment to your Royal Highness, and to express our sincere wishes that the House of Brunswick may long continue to reign over a free, loyal, and happy people

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland

The humble and dutiful Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of Beverley in Common Council assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of Beverley, in the County of York, in Common Council assembled, most humbly beg leave to express to your Royal Highness our heartfelt sentiments of condolence on the mournful event which has recently deprived your Royal Highness of a beloved and affectionate Parent, and the nation of a most virtuous and gracious Queen.

We have long been sensible of and greatly admired the chaste and dignified deportment of Her Majesty in her high and exalted station, and Her Majesty's unaffected piety and conscientious discharge of every relative duty. Ever will Her Majesty's memory be dear to the subjects of these realms, and long will her loss be deplored.

The filial and unfeigned affection of your Royal Highness during Her Majesty's protracted sufferings has done honour to your Royal Highness's feelings, must have been one of the greatest consolations to your beloved and afflicted Parent, and has been highly satisfactory to an affectionate and loyal people; and we sincerely pray that your Royal Highness may be supported by the Almighty under this heavy affliction, and long continue a blessing to the British empire.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of the ancient City or Borough of Wells and its Vicinity, humbly beg leave to lay before your Royal Highness our most respectful assurances that we deeply lament, in common with all His Majesty's loyal subjects, the irreparable loss which your Royal Highness and the kingdoms under your sway have sustained in the death of our late Most Gracious Queen.

In offering this cordial but imperfect expression our sorrow, we are naturally led to contemplate the many amiable qualities which adorned the character of this illustrious Princess, and the many eminent virtues which distinguished her conduct on the Throne—Her faithful and exemplary discharge of the duties of a Wife and of a Mother—Her extensive charities to the distressed—Her benevolent and gracious deportment towards all who approached her—Her attachment to the Constitution—Her anxiety to preserve the purity of private morals, as the best foundation of public happiness—And her patient resignation under those acute and protracted sufferings, which your Royal Highness watched over with so much filial tenderness, and which terminated in the melancholy event which we now deplore

But, Sir, we must not permit ourselves to indulge our disposition to enlarge upon this topic. If we did not feel our inability to display the character of this excellent personage in those colours which it deserves, we should deem it our duty to abstain from the attempt, lest it might aggravate your Royal Highness's afflictions, which it ought to be the endeavour of every good subject to assuage.

In the fervent hope that your Royal Highness may be enabled to bear this most calamitous event with fortitude and resignation, we humbly beg that your Royal Highness would deign to accept the assurances of our unalterable attachment to your Royal Highness's Person—Our unshaken loyalty to the King—And our constant regard to the honour and dignity of His Majesty's Crown.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Inhabitants of the Town and County of Poole, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, always alive to whatever affects the happiness of the illustrious House of Brunswick, humbly beg to offer your Royal Highness our most sincere condolence on the afflictive dispensation with which it has pleased Almighty God to visit your Royal Highness, the Royal Family, and the nation, in the death of Her late Most Gracious Majesty the Queen.

The tender sympathy which your Royal Highness evinced towards your inflexibly virtuous, excellent, and Royal Parent, during her protracted illness, and the unwearied anxiety which your Royal Highness displayed to alleviate her sufferings, are not only calculated to administer consolation to your mind, but ought to be recorded as an exalted pattern of filial regard, worthy the imitation of the nation, of Europe, and of the world.

That the life of your Royal Highness, and that:

of every branch of the Royal Family, may long be preserved to enjoy the affections of His Majesty's subjects, we most earnestly hope and fervently pray.

Given under our hands this 11th day of December 1818.

The condoling and dutiful Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Ancient Royal Burgh of Inverness.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Ancient Royal Burgh of Inverness, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with sorrow on the afflicting event with which Almighty God has been pleased to visit these realms.

The death of Her august and excellent Majesty Charlotte, Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, will be sincerely regretted by every class of His Majesty's people; but her memory will be cherished and respected by future generations, for the manifold virtues which distinguished her life, whether they are sought for in her character as a Wife, a Parent, or a Queen.

A conscious sense of the filial tenderness with which your Royal Highness soothed the sufferings of your aged Parent and our lamented Queen, will support you in affliction, and prove your surest consolation under every trial; while the continued exercise of similar duties towards our venerable Sovereign cannot fail to confirm to you the approbation and attachment which we, in common with all His Majesty's loyal subjects, must naturally feel for your Royal Highness.

We are, may it please your Royal Highness, His Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of Inverness.

Signed in presence and by appointment of the Magistrates and Town Council of Inverness, by Ja. Robertson, Provost of the Ancient Royal Burgh of Inverness.

Inverness, December 9, 1818.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Borough of Portsmouth, and Inhabitants of the Towns of Portsmouth and Portsea, and vicinity, approach your Royal Highness with the sincerest sentiments of condolence and sympathy on the recent dispensation of Providence, which has deprived your Royal Highness of a venerable and affectionate Parent, and the British nation of a religious and most exemplary Queen.

Britain must ever cherish the memory of Her late Majesty, who in the execution of the high duties of a Queen, exalted and reined the tone of public morals by Her Majesty's bright personal example, and by firmly and invariably discountenancing every deviation from rectitude.

The nation must ever recollect with regard, the assiduous and faithful attention of the late Queen to their most excellent and revered Sovereign in his most afflicting visitations

The ardent attachment and unremitting care of your Royal Highness towards the best of Parents, must endear your Royal Highness to the people of this realm; and we earnestly trust, that your Royal Highness may enjoy "length of days," as the promised meed of filial piety, possessing the sincere affections of a loyal and obedient people, sensible of the blessings that have flowed from the gentle sway of the illustrious House of Brunswick.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The humble Address of the Guild or Brotherhood of Masters and Pilots Seamen of the Trinity-House of Kingston-upon-Hull.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Guild or Brotherhood of Masters and Pilots Seamen of the Trinity-House of Kingston-upon-Hull, most humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with our sincere and heartfelt sentiments of condolence on the late melancholy event which by depriving us of our Gracious Queen has again overspread the nation with sorrow.

Amidst the general despondency and grief with which, in common with all His Majesty's subjects, we are afflicted, some alleviation to our sorrow is derived from the remembrance of the many great and exemplary virtues which adorned Her late Most Gracious Majesty through every period of her illustrious life, and which during her long and happy residence amongst us so justly endeared her to us; they are indelibly imprinted in our hearts, and will be duly estimated by posterity.

Whilst we bow with resignation to the severe and heavy loss we have sustained, we assure your Royal Highness of our firm and inviolable attachment to your illustrious House, and humbly hope that the protection of the Almighty will be extended over these kingdoms, and that the Throne of Great Britain will be enjoyed by the descendants of His Majesty to the latest posterity.

Given under our common seal this 10th day of December in the year of our Lord 1818, and in the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty's reign.
