Chetwynd.

THE following Address, having been transmitted to Viscount Sidmouth, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, has been presented by His Lordship to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, &c. &c. &c.

The humble and respectful Address of the Ministers and Elders of the Presbyterian Synod of Ireland, distinguished by the name Seceders, assembled in the City of Londonderry, July 6th 1819.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Presbyterian Ministers and Elders, distinguished by the name Seceders, embrace with much pleasure the occasion offered us by our annual meeting, of laying before the Throne renewed assurances of our inviolable attachment to His Majesty's Person, Family, and Government, and the sincere expressions of our unfeigned gratitude for the many blessings with which we, as a body, have been favoured.

That the Father of the people, whose uniform care was to promote, by every wise means, their improvement, happiness, and piety, should share in their keenest regrets when visited with the kind, though deeply mysterious infliction of His Heavenly Father, was only what might be expected. The anguish which Seceders, in common with others have felt, though heart-rending, has not been diminished by the continuance of the stroke, while they cherish the fond anticipation, and offer their most fervent prayers that the Father of Mercies and God of all Consolation may continue to support him, and finally to raise him to a kingdom that cannot be moved, and a crown of glory that shall not fade away.

We rejoice that our country, with the rest of Europe, delivered from the horrors of war, continues to enjoy the blessings of repose. We cannot but attribute this favourable change, under God, to the wise and enlightened counsels that seem to influence most of the European Courts; and we
