

tion, which the experience of ages has proved to have been founded in wisdom.

In conclusion, we beg to express our firm reliance upon the constituted Authorities of the State for the preservation of all that is most dear to us as christians and as men. And we humbly entreat your Majesty to be persuaded, that in discouraging the attempts of impiety and disaffection, we will, by our exertion, our influence and our example, do all that we may be able to accomplish, for the maintenance of a just reverence towards our Sovereign and of a dutiful obedience to the laws.

Sir Simon H. Clarke, Bart., in the Chair.

[Transmitted by Sir Simon H. Clarke, Bart.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble dutiful and loyal Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Portreeve and Inhabitants of the Borough of Penryn, in the County of Cornwall and its Vicinity.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, have to lament that the arts of wicked and designing men, (who appear neither to "fear God or honour the King,") have in some degree succeeded, through the medium of a licentious and polluted press, and by seditious meetings, in drawing the ignorant and unwary aside from the paths of loyalty and virtue, thus endeavouring to bring into contempt our holy religion and the constituted Authorities of the land. Sensible of the blessings which we enjoy under our happy Constitution, we deeply regret and hold in abhorrence all attempts to excite disaffection and irreligion, therefore as "faithful Cornishmen," we beg to offer to your Majesty our assurances, that we will ever by our influence and example endeavour to prevent and counteract the evils which must necessarily result from infidelity and sedition, and that we are determined to resist all measures tending to subvert the established Authorities of the realm.

We pray Almighty God, "by whom King's reign and Princes decree justice," to impart to your Majesty's Council wisdom, prudence and energy, that peace and concord may speedily diffuse their blessings amongst us, and that your Majesty may long and prosperously reign over a free and happy people.

John Stona, jun., Mayor.

[Delivered by Henry Swan, Esq. and Pascoe Grenfell, Esq. M. M. P.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the undersigned Inhabitants of the Village of Walton-le-dale, in the County of Lancaster, beg to address you with the unfeigned attachment to your Person and veneration for the existing laws of our country.

Recent events, which we must admit are in themselves deeply to be regretted, have afforded to the disaffected additional pretexts for assailing the Constitution under which we have so long enjoyed so many blessings. Every disloyal artifice has been called into exertion to excite the turbulent and delude the ignorant; infidelity and sedition stalk hand in hand through the country, braving the institutions of our Church and State,—and the low murmur of factious discontent has burst into the loud threat of open insurrection.

Under these circumstances therefore, when apathy among the loyal tends but to render their adversaries more daring, we think ourselves imperiously called upon to profess most decidedly, our steadfast adherence to the principles of the Constitution, and our firm reliance on the administration of its laws.

We humbly entreat that Providence, which has defended the progress and crowned the close of a foreign warfare, to continue its protection of your Majesty's dominions from the more fearful ills of domestic discord. May the Almighty Disposer of the affairs of men bless the efforts of your Government for the welfare of your subjects, and render your Majesty through a long and prosperous reign the beloved Monarch of a virtuous and happy people.

[Here follow the Signatures.]

[Transmitted by the Rev. Edmund Stringfellow Ratcliffe, L. L. B.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Common Council, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Lostwithiel, in the County of Cornwall, beg leave to approach your Majesty with the earnest assurance of loyalty and affection. We beg your Majesty to believe, that we view with the utmost indignation the attempts made by factious and unprincipled men, to attack Heaven with impiety, and to diffuse a spirit of insubordination and discontent through the kingdom, tending equally to subvert the Throne and the Altar. In times then, like the present, we feel ourselves called upon openly to express our unshaken attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, and to our invaluable Constitution in Church and State as by Law established, and to declare our anxiety and determination to support them to the utmost of our power, and to transmit them to our posterity, pure and unsullied.

P. T. Pomery, Mayor.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Mount-Edgcombe.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Inhabitants of the Town and Borough of Lisburn, and its Vicinity.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, Inhabitants of the Town and Borough of Lisburn, and its vicinity, assembled by public notice in the Town Hall, on Monday the 18th day of December 1820, beg leave, at the present arduous and critical period, to express our firm and unalterable attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person, and mild auspicious Government; with our fervent prayers, that your Majesty may long wield the Sceptre of this realm, with glory to yourself and happiness to your people.

We rely with the most perfect confidence on the wisdom and patriotism of your Majesty's councils, for the preservation of our unrivalled Constitution