

“strained by any Act or Acts in force immediately before the commencement of this Act;”

And whereas after reciting, “that it is expedient for the protection of the manufacturers of this country, that the several goods and merchandise, the importation of which hath been prohibited by any Act or Acts in force immediately before the passing of this Act, but which, by virtue of this Act, may be imported and warehoused for the purpose of exportation only, should be lodged and deposited in warehouses or places of special security;”

It is further enacted, “that all such goods and merchandise, the importation whereof hath been so prohibited, but which shall at any time after the commencement of this Act be imported under the provisions of this Act, shall be lodged and secured, and kept separate from all other goods and merchandises, in warehouses which are or shall be erected and built in places inclosed by and surrounded with walls, or in such other places of special security as shall be approved and appointed by warrant of the Commissioners of His Majesty’s Treasury, or any three of them, and in no other warehouse or place whatsoever;”

We, the undersigned Commissioners of His Majesty’s Treasury, in pursuance of the powers vested in us as aforesaid, do hereby approve of the Warehouse No. 2, on the North side of the London Docks; and of the warehouse No. 10, nearest the Blackwall Basin, at the West India Docks; and of the warehouse called the Auxiliary Warehouse No. 4, at the East India Docks, respectively;

for the deposit of prohibited goods imported into the port of London, for the purpose of exportation only, under the rules, regulations, conditions, and securities of the said Act.

And we do hereby further direct, that such goods shall be kept separate from all other goods and merchandise whatever.

For which this shall be your warrant.
