ONE HUNDRED POUNDS REWARD.

February 22, 1829.

WHEREAS, on Friday Evening the 20th instant, a person came to the Boar's Head Inn, in Bishop's-Castle, supposed to be the man (Evans, alias Smallman) who lately escaped from Hereford Gaol, where he was confined on a charge of robbery; he called for ale, and sat drinking in the kitchen, when suspicion arose that he was the same person; he immediately left his seat and went towards the door leading into the yard, when a young man in company followed him and took hold of his skirts; Evans then put his hand under his smock-frock, drew out a pistol, and instantly shot him through the breast and escaped.

And whereas the said Evans, alias Smallman, also stands charged with burglariously breaking and entering the dwelling-house of Ann Hotchkiss, in the Village of Churchstoke, in the County of Montgomery, on Saturday night the 21st instant, or early on Sunday morning; he also stands charged with feloniously stealing a grey horse, the property of Benjamin Hotchkiss, also of the said Village of Churchstoke, on Saturday night the 21st instant, or early on Sunday morning.

The said Evans is about six feet high, light brown hair, long nose, nearly 30 years of age, stout made, and very upright; had on a thin pair of shoes, without nails, pale blue lamb's-wool stockings, a pair of leather leggings, nearly new, drab plush breeches, worn hard on the inside the knees, old light coloured jacket (supposed to be fustian or mole-skin), a blue smock-frock, nearly new, with much white work on it, a fine shirt, not high in the collar, and a yellow silk handkerchief, and a good fresh hat, with crape hatband round it.

A reward of Twenty Pounds is offered in the Hereford Newspaper for his apprehension, and Ten Pounds for the robbery he is supposed to have committed on the night of his escape from Hereford Gaol. In addition to the above rewards, Twenty Pounds will be given by the Corporation of Bishop's Castle, Ten Pounds by the said Benjamin Hotchkiss, Ten Pounds by the said Ann Hotchkiss, and Thirty Pounds by the Treasurer of the County of Montgomery, making in the whole the sum of One Hundred Pounds, upon the said Evans being lodged in any of His Majesty's Gaols.

NEXT OF KIN.

IF the Next of Kin of John Woodcock, formerly of Stange-Street, in the County of Surrey, but late of Barnes, in the same County (who died on the 31st of March in the year 1828), will apply to George Whitehead, of No. 2, Boyle-Street, Burlington-Gardens, they may hear of something to their advantage.
