

nation, permit us to express our fervent hope, that thy Royal influence may be extensively used on behalf of Christian piety and virtue, desiring, as we do, that, under the blessing of God, thou mayest be made an honoured instrument in his hands, in exalting in this, our beloved country, the high standard of purity and holiness which is set before us in the Gospel of our blessed Saviour.

Be pleased to accept the assurance of our lively interest in thy happiness and welfare. May the grace of God be abundantly poured upon thee, our Queen, whilst in this life, and mayst thou at its solemn close be favoured with a well-grounded hope of an admission into life eternal, through that redemption which comes by the Lord Jesus Christ.
