No. 43.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Solicitors in the Supreme Courts of Scotland, incorporated by Royal Charter, beg leave humbly to approach the Throne with the most sincere and heartfelt condolence on the demise of our much beloved and lamented Sovereign, and while we offer this inadequate expression of the feelings which that event has produced in us, in common with all the loyal subjects of these realms, we consider the occasion as naturally suggesting the humble tribute of our most profound respect to the memory of a Sovereign, whose reign will occupy a prominent place in the annals of this kingdom, as being in a high degree conspicuous for the improvement of trade and manufactures, the progress of arts, sciences, and general literature, the intellectual improvement of all classes, and the general happiness and tranquillity of the people.

We regard it as being at this time consistent with the expression of these feelings, to tender our sincere congratulation to your Majesty on your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these Realms; an event which has been hailed by the whole country with pride and satisfaction; and under the deepest impression of your Majesty's attachment to the laws and constitution of the country, we earnestly pray that your Majesty may be preserved to us for many years.

Signed in our name, and by our authority, and the Seal of the Society appended hereto, at Edinburgh, the 22d day of July, in the year of our Lord 1830.

John Young, Secretary.*

THE following Addresses having been transmitted to Earl Howe, Lord Chamberlain to Her Majesty, was by him presented to Her Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Lieutenant-Governor, the Bailiffs, the Jurats of the Royal Court, the Clergy, the King's Procureur, and the Constables of all the Parishes of the Island of Guernsey, in the States assembled, humbly present our sincere condolence to your Majesty on the demise of our beloved Sovereign.

Resignation to the Divine will, and the character of his illustrious Successor, are the sources of our consolation.

The presages which, in common with the whole empire, we indulge of an auspicious reign, are founded on the knowledge of the high qualities that grace the Throne, and on the influence which your Majesty may reasonably be expected to exercise over the best interests of our favoured country.

The virtues universally ascribed to your Majesty,
