

there were besides the parish church, two chapels in the said parish, which, together with the parish church afforded accommodation for 3760 persons only; that the said Commissioners have caused two new chapels to be erected in the said parish, in the townships of Alverthorpe and Stanley respectively, which afford accommodation to 3087 persons, including 1556 free seats appropriated to the use of the poor; that such chapels have been consecrated and divine service is regularly performed therein; and whereas the said Commissioners have further represented to His Majesty, that having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient that a particular district should be assigned to each of the said last-mentioned chapels, under the provisions of the 16th section of an Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His said late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that marriages, christenings, churchings, and burials should be performed therein; and that such districts should be named respectively the Stanley District and the Alverthorpe District, with boundaries as follows: the Stanley District commences at Carr-gate in the Bradford turnpike road, and where the parish of Wakefield adjoins upon the parish of East Ardsley, and proceeds along the Bradford turnpike road in a south easterly direction to Snow-hill; it then follows an occupation road by Red-hall until it opens upon the Leeds turnpike road, thence proceeding in a southerly direction along the Leeds turnpike road to an occupation lane, along which the boundary continues to the end thereof; thence pursues the line of a fence to Pindar Fields, along the northern boundary of which it proceeds until it is intercepted by an occupation road, along which it is marked until it comes into the Pindar Fields road; proceeds along this road in a straight line until it enters the East Moor road along the last-mentioned road; it goes in a south easterly direction to the Aberford turnpike road at East Moor, thence proceeding northwards along the last-mentioned road to an occupation road diverging eastward and directly opposite to the gates leading to the West Riding Pauper Lunatic Asylum; it thence proceeds along the occupation lane to the end thereof, thence along a fence which leads nearly in a direct line to the end of a short occupation lane, along which it passes until it opens on the Welbeck road, thence proceeding in a southerly direction down the last-mentioned road to an occupation lane which leads down to Park-hill Gardens and Charlesworth's Engine, along which lane the boundary is marked to the end thereof; thence along a fence at the end of the same, which leads directly to the River Calder, which at this place parts the parishes of Wakefield and Warmfield, from this last-mentioned point the boundary is marked by the line of the River Calder (excepting in two places, one on the north side of the river, and the other on the south side, as marked and coloured on the map annexed), running in a northerly direction to a place called Cringlesworth, a little way beyond Bottom Boat, betwixt which two places it is the boundary between the parish of Wakefield and the parishes of Warmfield and Normanton; from the last-mentioned place the boundary proceeds westward by Moor-house, Cockpit-houses, Lofthouse-gate, to Lingwell-gate, and is also the northern boundary of the parish of Wakefield, and adjoins upon the parishes of Methley and Rothwell from Lingwell-gate; the division between the parishes of Wakefield and East Ardsley is also the boundary of the Stanley District as far as Carr-gate, the point from which the description of the boundaries of the Stanley District commenced, and all the places within the district above described, to be considered as in the Stanley District:—the Alverthorpe District commences at Carr-gate on the Bradford turnpike road, and where the parish of Wakefield adjoins upon the parish of East Ardsley, and proceeds along the Bradford turnpike road in a south easterly direction to a small stream of water which crosses the road near Snow-hill; it then follows the course of this stream until it reaches the Balne Beck, which stream it follows to Westgate-bridge; it thence proceeds in a westerly direction along the centre of the road to the inn known by the name of the Swan with Two Necks; thence proceeding along the Huddersfield turnpike road, by Supset-bar, to Dye-house bridge, which parts the townships of Alverthorpe and Horbury; thence proceeding up the stream to Ossett-common, and the boundary hence to Carr-gate is the boundary of the parish of Wakefield westwards, and adjoining upon the parishes of Dewsbury and East Ardsley; and all the places within the district above described, to be considered as in the Alverthorpe District; which boundaries are more particularly delineated in the map hereunto annexed: that the consent of his Grace the Lord Archbishop of York has been obtained thereto as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His said late Majesty King George the Third; and humbly praying, that His Majesty would be graciously pleased to take the premises into his royal consideration, and to make such order therein as to His Majesty shall seem meet; His Majesty having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed division be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.
