

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of the borough of Reading, humbly approach your Majesty with the expression of our deepest regret and indignation, that, within your Majesty's dominions, any man could be found capable of so traitorous an outrage as that which has been committed on your sacred person.

We congratulate your Majesty on having escaped without injury, and hasten to offer the assurances of our fervent attachment and devotion; and, whilst we offer up our sincere and heartfelt thanks that your Majesty has been preserved from a premeditated attack of malice or madness, we humbly hope that a merciful Providence, which has so long watched over and blessed this favoured nation, may continue to your Majesty that protection and support so necessary to the prosperity and happiness of a faithful and loyal people.

Signed on the part of the inhabitants of the borough of Reading,

Wm. Blandy, Mayor and Chairman.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Magistrates, Sheriffs, Gentry, Clergy, Merchants, Bankers, Traders, and other Inhabitants of the city of Bristol and its vicinity, in public meeting assembled, beg to approach your Majesty with renewed expressions of the most heartfelt affection to your Majesty's royal person, and with the most cordial assurances of attachment and loyalty to your Majesty's family, and to the excellent constitution under which we live.

We beg to convey to your Majesty, in the strongest language our hearts can dictate, our deep feeling of abhorrence at the late most disloyal and treasonable attempt against the safety of your Majesty's sacred person, and to express our sorrow, that there could be found within your Majesty's dominions an individual so depraved as for a moment to have contemplated an act so atrocious.

We offer up our most grateful acknowledgments to Divine Providence for your Majesty's preservation under so detestable an outrage, and for the safety of the nation from those calamities in which any personal disaster to your Majesty would have involved it.

It is our most fervent prayer that your Majesty may be long spared to reign over a grateful, loyal, and united people.

*Charles Pinney, Mayor,
On behalf of the meeting.*

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Inhabitants of Hammersmith, duly convened in public vestry.

Sire,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of Hammersmith, beg to approach your Majesty with the assurance of our continued loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's person and government.

We have heard, with great sorrow and regret, that some persons in this hamlet, unmindful of the gratitude due to your Majesty, for your Majesty's exertions for the welfare and liberty of your Majesty's subjects, have dared, by various acts, to insult your Majesty on your Majesty's passing through this hamlet.

We would willingly persuade ourselves, that individuals capable of such disgraceful conduct are not resident inhabitants of this hamlet, and we hasten to assure your Majesty, that the respectable portion of the population are actuated by one feeling of firm and devoted attachment to your Majesty's person and government.

In conveying to your Majesty this expression of our unalterable loyalty and affection, we humbly pray that your Majesty may be long preserved to receive the homage and devotion of your loyal and affectionate people.

Signed on behalf and by the unanimous desire of the vestry,

Joseph Purdon, Churchwarden, and Chairman.
July 4, 1832.

From the Nobility, Clergy, Gentry, and Freeholders of the county palatine of Chester, whose names are signed, thanking His Majesty for having refused to create Peers.

Whitehall, July 6, 1832.

THE following Addresses to the King, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Viscount Melbourne, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, have been by him presented to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Sire,

WE, the Association of West India Planters and Merchants of Glasgow, humbly approach your Royal presence, to express to your Majesty our great concern at the atrocious assault lately made on your Majesty, and our sincere congratulations upon your Majesty's happy escape from it, without sustaining serious injury. And while we thus desire to manifest our own sentiments, we feel entitled to assure your Majesty, that they are common to all your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects in the West India Colonies, where the most lively attachment to your Majesty's person universally prevails.

Signed in the name, and by the appointment, of the Association of West India Planters and Merchants of Glasgow, on the 29th June, 1832.
James Eccles, Chairman.

To the KING.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Royal College of Physicians of Edinburgh, beg most respectfully and dutifully to express our unbounded loyalty and devotion towards your most gracious Majesty.

While we deeply lament that any subject, under your Majesty's mild and paternal sway should have dared to commit so atrocious an act, as to assail your Majesty's sacred person, we feel the most lively gra-
