

[Extract from the Edinburgh Gazette of May 8, 1835.]
DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.

Fraserburgh, April 24, 1835.
NOTICE is hereby given, that the Partnership which sometime carried on the Distillery business at Pitin-gask, near Fraserburgh, and at Fraserburgh, both in the County of Aberdeen, North Britain, under the firm of the Glenbughty Distillery Company, or Craigen, Brebner, and Co. and was entered in the Excise Books under the names of Alexander Craigen and Thomas Brebner, Fraserburgh, as the principal distillers, was dissolved on the 23d day of May 1834, by mutual consent of the Partners, and the whole subjects of that Company sold off, and the business wound up, on the 11th day of November 1834; and notice is hereby farther given, that the persons undernamed and designed, who were Partners of that Company, have no interest or concern in, and are not Partners of, the Distillery business which, since the date last mentioned, has been, and is now, carried on at the same places, and under a firm of the same name, by other persons, who became purchasers of the said subjects when the Partnership, now here announced as dissolved, was wound up as aforesaid.
