THE following is a copy of an Order of His Majesty in Council, dividing the parish of Great Canford, in the county of Dorset, into ecclesiastical districts, under the 21st section of the 58th Geo. 3, cap. 45:

At the Court at Brighton, the 22d day of December 1836, present, the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act, shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits, which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and whereas by the second section of the said Act it is further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the Bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary, for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels, to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:" and whereas by an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the 1st and 2d year of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the 2d and 3d year of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to His Majesty in Council, stating that when the last census was taken, the parish of Great Canford, in the county of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, contained a population of 3100 persons; that there are, besides the parish church, three chapels in the said parish, which, together, affords accommodation to 2079 persons, that one of the said chapels, built in the tything of Longfleet, in the said parish, and which is called the Chapel of Saint Mary Longfleet, affords accommodation to 629 persons, including 400 free seats, appropriated to the use of the poor; and that such chapel has been consecrated and divine service is regularly performed therein:

And whereas the said Commissioners have further represented to His Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient that the said parish should be divided into two ecclesiastical districts under the 21st section of the said Act passed in the 58th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, one of which should be attached to the said chapel of Saint Mary Longfleet, for the purpose of affording accommodation for attending divine service to the persons residing in the said district, and for enabling the spiritual person using the said chapel to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the said district, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendance of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the moral habits of the persons residing therein; and that such district should be named the District of Saint Mary Longfleet, with boundaries as follows:

Commencing at Seldown and, proceeding west, along Sandy-lane to a certain spot, opposite Seldown-house, then, turning to the north, following the boundary that divides the tythings of Longfleet and

Parkstone, passing the public house, called the Bowling-green, to Longfleet Church; and from thence, in the same direction, to a boundstone, on the side of Constitution-hill, where the tythings of Longfleet, Parkstone and Kinson meet; from thence, in a north westerly direction, following the boundary stone of the tythings of Longfleet and Parkstone to another boundary, between the parish of Great Canford and the tythings of Longfleet and Kinson, near the Poole and Ringwood old turnpike road; from thence, in a westerly direction, passing Hatch-pond to a lane leading from the Poole and Wimborne turnpike road, near Darby's-corner; from thence, along the north side of the said lane to its western end; from thence, in a straight line, to the north west corner of a close of land, called Creekmoor, where it adjoins the boundary of the parish of Corfe Mullen; from thence, in a southerly direction, along the boundary line of Corfe Mullen to Upton turnpike gate, and from thence to Rockley-hill, following the boundary line of Hamworthy parish; and returning from thence, in a straight direction across the Harbour, passing the town of Poole, on the north side thereof, to Seldown-point; and from thence, in a northerly direction, to the spot first-mentioned, as the same is more particularly delineated in the plan annexed to the said representation, and therein coloured red:

That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Bristol has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act of the 58th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, and in testimony of such his approbation the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed the said representation; and humbly praying, that His Majesty would be graciously pleased to take the premises into His royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto, as to His Majesty shall seem meet;

His Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the plan thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed division be accordingly made and effected agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.
