

thence along the northern boundary of that land till it crosses the road leading from Warminster to Long Bridge Deverill; thence westward along a path leading to Pound-street (Warminster); thence southward to the north west corner of the Warminster Union Workhouse-yard; thence outside the north east and south boundary walls of the said Workhouse-yard; thence, from the south west corner of that yard, in a westerly direction to a lane leading from Pound-street to a field No. 555, following southward the said lane, and part of the north and west sides of the said field; and from the south west corner of that field, westward to the point where a road leading from the common to Pound-street is crossed by a stream of water; thence along the course of a smaller stream falling into the same, and through grounds, called Rehobath, to a point where the said stream parts from the lane leading to Canny Moor Farm; thence to the south west along that lane to its junction, at a point called Crabtree, with the road from Frome to Deverill Long Bridge; thence to the north west along that road to its junction with a road from Frome to Homingsham; thence to the south west along that road to the place where it crosses the boundary between Warminster and Deverill Long Bridge parishes; from this point, turning eastward, it proceeds along the boundaries between Warminster parish and other contiguous parishes in the following order, viz., Deverill Long Bridge, Sutton Veny, Norton Bavant, Bishopstrow, Norton Bavant (again), Sutton Veny (again), Bishopstrow (again), and terminates at its return to the point above-mentioned where the Bourne Ditch crosses the boundary line between Warminster and Bishopstrow parishes, as the same is more particularly delineated in the plan hereunto annexed, and is therein coloured blue.

"That marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials, should be solemnized and performed in the said chapel, and that the fees arising therefrom should, after the first avoidance of the living of Warminster, be received by and belong to the minister of the said chapel.

"That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Salisbury has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, in testimony of which, the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners, therefore, beg leave to lay before your Majesty the before-mentioned circumstances, and humbly to pray that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto, as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the plan therunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed division and assignment be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.
